Miss Stemple And Mr. Webb United In June Ceremony

Holli Brooke Stemple June 29, 2002. The evening and Robert James Webb wedding took place under a tent that overlooked Deep Creek Lake, on the grounds of the Will O' the Wisp.

The bride is the daughter of Ronald and Patricia Stemple of Oakland. She is a 2000 graduate of Southern High School, and currently attends Frostburg State University, where she is pursuing her degree in psychology.

The groom is the son of Freddie and Paula Webb of West Liberty, Ohio. He is a 2000 graduate of West Liberty Salem High School, and also attends Frostburg State University in pursuit of a degree in business and accounting.

The bride was escorted by her father and wore a gown designed by Olga Cassini. The satin A-line gown featured elaborate hand beading, cut-out lace detailing, and a cathedral-length train. The bride carried a nosegay of white and peach Marissa roses, white larkspur, ivy, and baby's breath.

Friends of the bride, Misty Sereno and Stephanie Miller, both of Oakland, served as bridesmaids in peach dresses embellished with sequins and lace. Natasha Alt served as a junior bridesmaid. Joshua Nickles, cousin of the groom, and Justin Webb, brother of the groom, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Ryan Stemple, brother of the bride, and Derrek Webb, brother of the groom.

The flower girl was Tory Stemple, niece of the bride, and candle bearers were Ashley and Abbie Everly, cousins of the bride. Nicholas Everly served as the ring bearer. Colton Webb, brother of the groom, and Chase Weber, cousin of the groom, greeted guests and handed out programs. Kelly Stemple, sister-in-law to the bride, coordinated the ceremony.

Officiating at the ceremony was Pastor William Connelly. Susan Peterson and Marcene Huebner provided the music for the ceremony, and Mark Falkenstein of Soundmaster Entertainment provided DJ services for the reception. Photography services were provided by Rick Layton. Advantage Florist made the four-tier cake, and Weber's of Oakland provided the flowers.

The couple honeymooned at Walt Disney World, Orlando, Fla., and now reside in Frostburg. The groom is employed by Allegheny Wood Products in West Virginia.

Sherry R. Pope Marries Joseph Combs In Double-Ring Event

Sherry Regina Pope and Joseph Edward Combs were united in marriage one year ago on October 20, 2001, at St. Michael's Church in Frostburg. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Paul Byrnes.

The bride is the daughter of David Pope, Grantsville, and the late Lois Pope. The groom is the son of JoAnna Combs, Lonaconing, and Paul Combs, Cresaptown.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was attired in an A-line, satin, floor-length gown. She carried a cascading bouquet of sunflowers, red roses, white roses, and fall tone chrysanthemums, accented with baby's breath and sheer ribbons. A single long-stemmed rose was presented to both the bride and bridegroom's parents. Flowers were dedicated to the Blessed Mother in memory of the bride's grandparents, Claude and Regina Pope, and the groom's grandmother, JoAnne Schramm.

Treasures from the Heart provided fresh floral arrangements for the church and reception, as well as bouquet and boutonnieres for the wedding party.

Serving as maid of honor was Faith Ritchie, Frostburg, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were longtime friends of the bride and groom, Natalie Evans, Kill Devil Hills, N.C., Hollie Kesler, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Heather Hackett, Grantsville. Serving as junior bridesmaid was Ashley Hackett, special friend of the bride and groom. The flower girl was Mariah King, cousin of the groom.

Acting as best man was Dohnie Combs, Lonaconing, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Michael Kyle, Barton, cousin of the groom, and Adam Yommer, Ft. Lauderdale, and Anthony Hackett, Grantsville, both friends of the bride and groom. The ringbearer was Ethan Carey, cousin of the bride.

Cheryl Loar and Daphne Colmer, both cousins of the groom, attended the guest book and distributed programs for the wedding. The organist was Susan Gerhard and the vocalist was Teresa Vogtman, both of St. Michael's Church. Photos by Jeannine provided photography, and Winnie and Michael Ringler provided videotaping.

The reception followed at the Shaft fire hall, and was catered by Kline's Restaurant. A champagne toast was given by the best man, and the blessing was given by Father Benedict Pope, uncle of the bride. Pat Miller and JoAnne Kamp made the five-tier wedding cake, which was cut and served by Denise McFarland and Linda Carr, both aunts of the bride. Triple T of Grantsville provided the entertainment.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother and was held at the Sand Spring restaurant in Frostburg. The couple spent their honeymoon in Florida, first visiting Walt Disney World and other attractions and then visiting their friends in Ft. Lauderdale.

The bride was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given by the groom's mother and the bridesmaids. Another shower was given by her friend and co-worker, Allison Deal, at the Hampton Inn in Frostburg.

Peterson Joins Full-Time AVS Faculty At GC

Theresa "Terry" Peterson, who has been an adjunct instructor of adventure sports courses at Garrett College since 1988, has accepted a one year appointment as full-time instructor of adventure sports.

In this position, Peterson will teach such adventure sports courses as white water kayaking, introduction to adventure sports, parks and recreation, cross-country skiing and telemark skiing. She will also be teaching students in the Traditional Age Youth (TAY) program, a cooperative effort with the Mt. Top Mental Health Association, the Garrett County Board of Education, and the college. One of the goals she has identified is to develop the TAY program to become a model for other such programs in the state of Maryland. Her particular interest is to emphasize anger management.

Peterson holds a bachelor of science degree in sports management from James Madison University of Harrisonburg, Va., and a master of science degree in environmental education/educational psychology from West Virginia University. She is certified by the American Canoe Association as a whitewater kayak and flatwater canoe instructor; by the Professional Ski Instructors of America as a certified Level

III telemark/Level I track and skate Nordic ski instructor; and by SOLO as a wilderness first responder.

In addition to teaching backpacking, kayaking, and skiing courses at Garrett College, Peterson has served as adventure program director at the Norwood School in Bethesda, where she designed, directed, and facilitated a youth adventure program for 100 children ages 8-12 that included whitewater rafting, kayaking, rock climbing, hiking, camp craft, and environmental education. She also served as therapeutic recreation specialist for Montgomery County, where she implemented educational programs for at-risk youth designed to enhance motivation, self-esteem, leadership, and group awareness.

Among Peterson's personal expeditions are a six-week trekking/whitewater rafting expedition, as she guided 10 clients through the Peruvian Andes on the Urubamba River, and a 10-day backpacking expedition to the Grand Gulch region of Utah. She has kayaked numerous white water rivers in the United States and skied major mountains from New England to California.

Peterson says these many adventure experiences have helped her to develop a "safety first" philosophy in all aspects of adventure programming. "Watching students overcome their fears, learn to resolve conflicts and evolve into competent leaders brings me great joy," she said. "The Adventure Sports program encompasses all the things I like to do. Its greatest strength lies in the sincere dedication and compassion of its professors, and I am pleased to be part of that team."

Concerning the future of the AVS program, which has 55 students enrolled this year, Peterson said, "I like the direction the program is going, and I would like to see the students get more involved with this community."

Originally from Alabama, Peterson grew up in an Air Force family and moved all over the country, but spent much of her time in West Virginia and western Maryland. She now resides in the Friendsville area.

Garrett Names Bertolina New Computer Prof.

Ron Bertolina, a native of Allegany County, has been appointed associate professor of computers at Garrett College, where he is currently teaching introduction to computers courses. Bertolina has been instrumental in establishing the college as an approved iCenter for the Microsoft Office User Specialist (MOUS) certification program.

Prior to his appointment at Garrett, Bertolina taught adjunct credit courses at Frostburg State University, Hagerstown Business College, and Potomac State College in Keyser, W.Va. He served as applications training manager with the Garrett County Community Action Committee, where he analyzed client/training needs, scheduled and conducted software and hardware training, and wrote courseware training manuals.

While working as applications instructor for Productivity Point International in Pittsburgh, Bertolina traveled throughout the United States conducting custom seminars and software and business skills training workshops. He taught an average of 2,000 students from a variety of professions each year and designed, developed, and conducted courseware on "How to Develop and Deliver Dynamic Presentations."

Bertolina also worked for Graphic Arts Technical Foundation in Pittsburgh as instruction coordinator, project manager, technical consultant, and pre-press imaging coordinator. During that time he conducted graphic arts training workshops, wrote technical articles for CATF World magazine, and inspected pre-press processes at companies throughout the United States.

Bertolina has earned an associate in arts degree in audio-visual technology from Frostburg State University, where he graduated cum laude in 1987; and a master of science in adult education from Robert Morris University in Pittsburgh. He also holds certification as a Microsoft Office User Expert, and Train-the-Trainer, and is currently pursuing A+ certification.

"A significant amount of my teaching background has been in the corporate world at dozens of organizations in the United States with a wide variety of clients," Bertolina said as he explained his philosophy of teaching. "Based on my years of experience, I believe that learning and retention are best achieved by 'doing and reviewing,' so most of my instruction revolves around not only my defining concepts but also students performing activities that reinforce those concepts. I review with students considerably and often provide analogies to intangible concepts. I believe that students must take an active role in learning for it to be successful. They must realize that learning is a lifelong evolution."

Bertolina said his new appointment is the culmination of a long-pursued goal. "Since earning my master's degree, it has been my aspiration to teach at the college level. Teaching is the most satisfying professional reward for me, and I chose my path because I love what I do—otherwise I would not be doing it. It is a dream come true that I am an associate professor at Garrett College."

Bertolina said one of his goals is to work toward increasing computer literacy at the college and in western Maryland, including teaching courses that target certification. He also plans to keep in close contact with Garrett County organizations to continue to provide them with software training that fits their specific needs and solves their individual issues.

Bertolina and his wife Lee Ann live on Irons Mountain near Cumberland.

Review Medicines During Pharmacy Week

National Pharmacy Week is October 20-26. This is a good time to give your medicine cabinet a checkup. Beyond that, always use good judgment about any medicine you take. That means reading labels on medicine bottles before you leave the doctor's office or pharmacy. For oral medicines, make sure you know the correct number of tablets/capsules to take with each dose and how to take them. More is not always better, especially with prescription drugs. It is very important to provide all your doctors a complete list of all your prescriptions, over-the-counter (OTC) medicines, herbals, and supplements.

The same applies to OTC medicines. Try to select products that are appropriate for your symptoms. Ask a pharmacist for help if you are not sure. Ask if there are any prescription medicines to avoid while taking OTC medicines or consuming alcohol. Ask about OTC side effects. If being admitted to a hospital or nursing home, ask a family member to bring along all your prescription and OTC medicine bottles. Be prepared to answer questions about your medicines, including any known drug-related allergies that may have occurred in the past.

NATURE NUGGET

Nature Nugget, located at 314 S. Second Street in Oakland, is a new health food store with something for everyone interested in a healthy lifestyle. Owned and operated by Laurie Sines, the store offers a wide variety of organic, delicious, health-imparting foods, as well as other items.

"After moving out West to Colorado with a friend in 1991, and then to Santa Cruz, Calif., in 1992, I met and became good friends with many health-conscious people. These dear souls taught me a lot about vegetarianism and vegan cooking (with no animal products, including dairy) and lifestyle," said Sines. "After shopping in and enjoying the many wonderful health food stores out West and on my extensive travels across America, I became inspired to have my own health food store one day.

And now my dream has come to fruition."

Nature Nugget carries "green foods," such as barley, which is powerful and healing, Sines said. Also available at the store are grains, nuts, fruits, power bars, breads, bagels, and more.

"We also carry a top-of-the-line, food-based multi-vitamin for adults and children, and vitamin C and calcium. I even have some local 'traditionally used' herbal remedies on hand," she said. "I have the accessibility to special order any herbs that I don't have at the store as well."

Nature Nugget carries the Aubrey Organics skin and hair care line of products, which contain no synthetic chemicals found in most other such products, which, Sines said, are harmful to humans and the environment. Also available at

"I believe that my business is different and unique because I care about this community's well-being," she said. "Therefore, I'm offering natural, organic, healthful, energizing, and life-giving foods and supplements to help citizens maintain proper homeostasis.

"I hope and pray that Nature Nugget will be an outreach and inspiration to the community, and that the wonderful products I sell will help many people feel better and have a more fulfilling and happier life," she continued. Thinking of you is easy,
We do it everyday.
Missing you is a heartache
That never goes away.
Our dearest wish would be today
To have you back the same old way,
To hear you laugh and see you smile,
To sit and talk to you awhile.
We smile with others, but weep alone.
How much we miss you will never be known.

Last Grantsville High Class Has 50-Year Reunion

Grantsville High School class of 1952 held its 50-year reunion recently at Penn Alps Restaurant. There were 33 guests, including 17 class members, spouses, and several others.

This was the last class to graduate from the school, as the following school year the northern Garrett County high schools merged.

Oscar Preston served as master of ceremonies. He introduced Arline Shultz, the school's home economics instructor.

The invocation was given by Pastor Owen Preston before the buffet dinner. Following the dinner, Preston presented bell ringers Katie Menhorn and David Bittner, who played "It Is Well With My Soul."

A service was held to commemorate deceased fellow classmates. Their names and the dates of their deaths are as follows: Gene Swauger, 1972; Anna Broadwater, 1992; Betty Buckle, 1992; Roberta Raily Robison, 1997; and Martha Miller Swartzwelder, 2001. As the names were read, Kay Speicher lit candles in their memory. Elizabeth Anne Fife read the poem "Touching Shoulders."

George Bittner sang two solos, accompanied by Wilda Englehart, pianist. The songs were "Ol' Man River" and "You'll Walk Alone," reminiscent of the high school minstrel and graduation.

A letter from Marion Bittle, the former class music instructor, was read. Because of a conflict of dates for her own high school reunion, she was unable to attend.

Shirley Kiester, Florida, sent a floral arrangement in school colors for the reunion. She expressed her regrets for being unable to attend. The flowers were later taken to Kathryn Resh Nixon.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Sussman

Centerpieces of Martha Washington geraniums were awarded as prizes by Shirley Bender. They were presented to Arline Shultz, the only teacher present; Carl Butler, the first classmate to reply to the reunion invitation; James Winebrenner, who traveled the farthest (Hawaii); and Mary Warnick, who has been married the longest (50 years). Other winners were Robert Bailey and Verda Barron.

Souvenir booklets, gold dollars, and mugs featuring a picture of the class flower, the forget-me-not, were given to each attending class member.

The reunion concluded with the group singing "God Bless America" and "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You," with pianist Wilda Englehart. Elizabeth Anne Fife gave the benediction.

Those serving on the planning committee were Shirley Bender, George Bittner, Oscar and Owen Preston, and Kay Speicher.

The next reunion will be held in 2007.

First of all, this Friday, Oct. 25, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. there will be a all-you-can-eat buckwheat pancake dinner with sausage and drink sponsored by the Bittinger 4-H Club at the Bittinger fire hall. Sorry I didn't have this in last week's column to give you advance notice. So come one and all to get the feast of a lifetime.

I must finish this week's "Notes from Bittinger" this Monday evening, as I have a dentist appointment tomorrow morning. Oh boy, that will be fun. Will fun never stop for me these days? At least I am warm in my house since my heating oil did arrive this afternoon just before I headed out of the door to run some crucial errands. I can usually find a hundred little tasks that I must do before I leave the house, but it worked out perfectly today. I am glad to say that Willison Oil from Cumberland does deliver when they say they will come. The last couple years the local oil dealer found it very hard to get out.

Believe it or not, some Bittinger folk were among the crowd in San Francisco for the third game of the World Series. I did not say who it was, but maybe I will tell you all next week.

I am wrapped up in black and gold for football. The pre-game show for Monday Night Football featured some players who everyone had pulled for in past years. Franco Harris, Mean Joe Green, Terry Bradshaw, etc., reminisced about the "good old days (1970s)." They said they were family just like the 1979 Pirate team, with Pop Stargell as father figure. I loved the way he rewarded good performance by teammates with a little gold star on their caps (Stargell Stars). Their theme song was "We are Family." It seemed like even the long-time fans were also members of that family, with even fans far way from "the City of Champions" as Pittsburgh was known.

Many of their fans are from down south of the Mason-Dixon line. I wonder if the great Pirates and Steeler teams know that some of the most faithful fans live in Maryland, or why Bill Mazeroski was known when he established a part-time residence in Garrett County.

I refused to hold much stock of any kind of streak like the Steelers have as the "best record at home for Monday Night Football 9-0." You can view that kind of statistics. (1) It must continue. (2) The odds increasing that they will lose a game sooner or later. Look at the pitcher on the Angels' team who had something like 40 innings without any home runs hit against him. That ended fast and hard in the first inning of this year's World Series when two Giant players hit a homer off of him.

Probably lots of readers are asking "Why does Joan think she can write about sports?" "What can a female know about professional sports?" I am an enthusiastic fan of some of the finest teams Pittsburgh Pirates and Steelers ever had, plus as for basketball, I had the Maryland Terps to watch and then a fine Garrett College hoop team, too. I think I have a pretty good grasp of the games of baseball and basketball, but not as good in football, although I know what a truly great team looks like — like the Steelers in the early '70s. When I watch the games I can barely even follow it, but you don't seem to need a wide knowledge of defensive strategy to appreciate the "Steeler Iron Curtain" or their various offense, attack, or handoffs to Franco or else passes to Swann, etc. I am still unclear exactly what happened in the "Immaculate Reception," but I can still remember seeing it and was overcome by joy and relief. It almost makes me believe in happy endings and a happy event that can save even dire circumstances. I must remember to recall that glorious moment when everything around me seems totally hopeless. Maybe miracles still can happen.

What I hate about modern professional sports is that so many players switch teams, and when a whole team moves. Many times in the past I thought how nice it would be to have the Steelers play the Colts — not the Indianapolis Colts, but the Baltimore Colts. Even with a somewhat hazy knowledge about profootball teams, I do know that the Baltimore team now is the Ravens. Of course, you must be totally clueless if you do not know the Ravens after their recent appearance in a Super Bowl. I stayed up way too late last night to watch a Steeler win. The excitement will soon begin again when the Maryland Terps begin their season as the 2001 national champs.

Jim and Donna Giotfelty and Ida Reckner had dinner at Penn Alps Restaurant, Grantsville, to celebrate the recent 52nd wedding anniversary of the Giotfelty.

Dwaine, Lisa, and Adam Platter, Smithsburg, spent the weekend in the area, and successfully bagged deer during the muzzle-loader season. Amanda Platter also accompanied her family to Garrett County.

Barnard Says Change Clock, Change Battery

In anticipation of the change to Eastern Standard Time early Sunday morning, State Fire Marshal William E. Barnard is urging Marylanders to "Change Your Clock—Change Your Battery" in smoke alarms in their homes. Recognizing that working smoke alarms double a family's chance of surviving a home fire, Barnard says Eastern Standard Time is "a great opportunity" for families to change the battery in their smoke alarms.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing of the County Commissioners of Garrett County is scheduled for Thursday, November 7, 2002, at 9:00 a.m. in the Garrett County Commissioners' Public Meeting Room, located at the Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland, to consider an amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. McKenzie plan to establish a campground (Room Around Campground) located on Church Run Road. The plan is for approximately one hundred (100) campsites and eight (8) cabins. The plan also provides for comfort stations with water and sanitary facilities in central locations. The cabins will have showers, water closets, and light cooking provisions.
The project will appropriate 16,000 gallons per day of ground water and will discharge 16,000 gallons per day of treated domestic wastewater. This is a private project that will be constructed with private funds. It will also be maintained privately and will not be connected to a public water or wastewater system.

Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on November 7, 2002, to determine if this amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan is necessary for the public health, safety, and welfare of the residents of the proposed service area and if feasible financially and from an engineering standpoint.

By Order of the County Commissioners of Garrett County
R. Lamont Pagenhardt
County Administrator

"This simple step can help us avoid tragedies in the place we feel most secure—our homes," he said.

Along with working smoke alarms, home escape plans are another way Marylanders can avoid injury from fire. By identifying at least two different escape routes, families can practice the plan together before a fire emergency strikes. Practicing the plan helps educate younger children to the danger of fire and the importance of recognizing that the sound of a smoke alarm signals a home fire, Barnard explained.

"Changing the battery in smoke alarms and developing and practicing a home escape plan are two of the best ways to protect loved ones and ourselves from fire," he said.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal is an agency of the state of Maryland dedicated to reducing injury and death from fire through education, inspection, and investigation. To learn more about fire safety, persons may contact the Office of the State Fire Marshal at 1-800-525-3124.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT
Notice of Intent to Establish a Total Maximum Daily Load to Address Low pH in Cherry Creek in Garrett County, Maryland

Section 303(d) of the federal Clean Water Act requires Maryland to: (1) identify waters, known as water quality limited segments (WQLSs), where technology-based effluent limitations and other required controls cannot achieve water quality standards; (2) establish Total Maximum Daily Loads (TMDLs) to each listed water for pollutants preventing the attainment of water quality standards; and (3) offer an opportunity for public review and comment on the proposed TMDLs.

The Deep Creek watershed (basin code 05-02-02-03), of which Cherry Creek is a subwatershed, is located in central Garrett County. Cherry Creek drains directly into Deep Creek, which in turn drains into the Youghiogheny River. The Deep Creek watershed was identified on the State's 1996 list of WQLSs as impaired by low pH and nutrients. The list acknowledged that only a portion of the watershed might be impaired, and that with additional information, the spatial boundaries of the impairment could be refined. Upon additional monitoring, the Department determined that the low pH impairment exists only in Cherry Creek. At this time, the Department is establishing a TMDL of acid mine drainage (the "impairing substance") for Cherry Creek. The TMDL sets the maximum load limit for the impairing substance. The TMDL also reflects load allocations to nonpoint sources and a margin of safety that accounts for uncertainty in the procedures used to estimate the TMDL. In this particular case, there are no point sources under consideration. The nutrient impairment in the Deep Creek watershed will be addressed at a future date.

Once established by the State, the TMDL will be subject to approval by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). This TMDL will support measures needed to attain water quality standards in Cherry Creek.

OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT

A 30-day public comment period for the draft Cherry Creek TMDL document will take place from October 24, 2002, to November 22, 2002. Copies of the draft TMDL document have been placed in the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County, 6 North Second Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1393, (301-334-3996) and in MDE's Library. The draft document is also available on the Internet at web site <http://www.mde.state.md.us/tmdl> or by contacting Ms. Sheila Franklin by mail at the Water Management Administration, Maryland Department of the Environment, Montgomery Park Business Center, 1800 Washington Boulevard, Suite 540, Baltimore, MD 21230-1718, or by telephone at 410-537-3599 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, X3599). Anyone wishing to review the draft TMDL and supporting information may call Ms. Franklin during normal business hours. For technical information, contact Ms. Elaine Dietz at the Technical and Regulatory Services Administration using the aforementioned address or by telephone at 410-537-3667 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, X3667).

Written comments concerning the draft TMDL document may be submitted to the Department on or before November 22, 2002 and should be sent to Ms. Franklin at the above address or e-mailed to sfranklin@mde.state.md.us. If the Department determines there is sufficient interest, a public hearing on this matter may be held. All comments received during the comment period will be considered and the draft document may be revised accordingly prior to its submittal to EPA for approval.

AN ICY WORK OF ART — This chainlink fence has rarely been so adorned as it is this week, covered from top to bottom with a thick layer of ice, which makes it a fascinating art form. An ice storm that began Tuesday afternoon and is still continuing today is the "artist" here, though, and although beautiful, its effects are also causing serious problems across Garrett County. Persons are to use extreme caution when traveling, as well as when operating temporary heating/lighting devices. See story. All storm photos in today's issue were taken by Lisa Broadwater, Jeremy Carr, or John McEwen.

Commissioners Approve Speed Limit Changes

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners this week approved raising the speed limits on two county roads. All of New Germany and Chestnut Ridge roads will soon be posted at 50 miles per hour. The lowest posted limit on New Germany is currently 35 m.p.h., while Chestnut Ridge is 45 m.p.h.

Superintendent Fred Police, Garrett County Roads Department, said the county had received complaints for nearly 1½ years about the speed limits on those roads. Some residents said the limits were too low, while others said they were too high.

The commissioners' office also received complaints about the inconsistency of the limits on New Germany Road, said Commissioner Ernie Gregg. Some areas of the road are posted at 35 m.p.h., while others are 50 m.p.h.

The county contracted a Baltimore consulting firm, at cost of $2,900, to conduct a traffic study to evaluate the need for changing the speed limits. During a three-day period earlier this month, the firm monitored the speed of motorists at three locations where the

GC Leaders Give Monthly Reports; Dairy Farmers To Hold Seminar

The Garrett County commissioners held their monthly staff meeting this week, hearing reports from 15 various departments and agencies. Issues discussed this month included a seminar for dairy producers, the new executive director of the Adventure Sports Center, perk tests, job training, automatic defibrillators, and paving projects.

Extension Service

Jim Simms, County Extension Service, reported that a seminar for the county's 150 dairy producers would be held Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Pleasant Valley Community Center beginning at 9 a.m. The event, titled "The Udder Doctor is Coming to Town," will be presented by Dr. Andy Johnson.

Simms said Johnson, "a world renowned veterinarian," is an expert on milking procedures and milking equipment. The event is open to the public.

Following the seminar a meeting will be held for dairy producers to discuss the problem of low milk prices. Simms said he wants to get their thoughts on how to address the problem.

Simms also reported that, despite "dry spots" in the area, county farmers probably would not qualify for drought aid. "We don't have the statistics to back it up," he said. Simms explained that some areas in the northern part of the county received little rain this season, yet reports from all the area's weather stations indicated that the county received average or above average levels of precipitation.

Economic Development

Jim Hinebaugh, Garrett County Department of Economic Development, introduced Eric Urfer to the county leaders. Urfer was recently appointed as executive director of Adventure Sports Center International Inc. (ASCI).

"He's going to be a great addition to the county and is going to fit in well," said Hinebaugh. Urfer was selected from a pool of 104 applicants from across the country by an ASCI committee.

Hinebaugh said the new executive director had "great credentials" and extensive experience in parks and recreational management.

Urfer and his family will be residing in the county. "It's a pleasure to be here," he said, "and an honor to take this project into the future." Urfer's office is currently located in the in-

Garrett County Towns Receive CDBG Funding

Gov. Parris N. Glendening this week awarded $15.5 million in revitalization grants that cover every county in Maryland and Baltimore City. Included in the announcement was $125,000 for the eight incorporated municipalities in Garrett County and $26,500 for Loch Lynn Heights in Community Development Block Grants (CDBG).

In all, 40 communities across the state will receive $6.5 million in Community Legacy funding and $9 million in various other grants. The governor announced the awards during his opening address at the fifth annual Maryland Conference on Housing in Baltimore.

"One of the most important concepts of our Smart Growth program is to give local governments and community groups the tools to revitalize neighborhoods and encourage growth in areas that already have the roads, utilities, and schools to serve new residents," said Glendening.

"While the national economy and its effect on Maryland's budget has limited the amount of funds available for Smart Growth projects," continued the governor, "our Community Legacy program continues to transform our older neighborhoods into close-knit, thriving communities with good schools, open space, and easy access to transit."

In Community Legacy's second year of funding, re-

Pilot Dies In Plane Crash This Morning

An unidentified pilot was killed this morning when his aircraft crashed along Peat Moss Road near Bittinger.

Details of the incident were incomplete at press-time, but according to Brad Frantz, director of the office of emergency management, two units from the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, along with the Bittinger, Deep Creek, and Accident volunteer fire departments responded to the 11:09 a.m. alarm.

The pilot was reportedly the only person on board the aircraft.

Further details of the incident will be published next week.

MSP Apprehend Murder Convict On Interstate

Maryland State Police troopers assigned to the McHenry barrack apprehended a subject last week who was wanted for violating a probation agreement stemming from a first-degree murder conviction.

James Elvin Roberts, 62, no fixed address, was stopped at approximately 7:25 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 24, on westbound Interstate 68 just west of the Route 495 exit to downtown Grantsville. Troopers executed the routine traffic stop after observing a Dodge van bearing expired Oregon tags.

A National Crime Information Center (NCIC) computer check indicated that Roberts was wanted in Louisiana on the fugitive charge, and he was placed under arrest. A search of the van uncovered a 20-gauge shotgun and a stolen Kentucky license plate. An additional theft charge was filed in connection with that tag.

Before he was transported to jail, Roberts claimed he was suffering chest pains and was transported to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland with a police escort. According to a spokesperson he was hospitalized for a short period before being released into police custody as the extradition process got under way.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN! Perhaps the scariest thing about today's celebration of Halloween is the weather here in Garrett County, where ice continues to build up and knock over trees. However, the nasty dampness didn't keep everyone inside last evening during Oakland's trick-or-treating, and it will most likely not prevent all hardy costumed partiers from taking part in tonight's annual Lions Club Halloween Parade in Oakland, or trick-or-treating in Friendsville. This photo is of a specialty jack-o'-lantern carved by Oakland resident Alex McEwen (using a pattern). Alex is especially interested in Halloween, as it is also his birthday. Happy 8th, Alex!

Ice Storm Wreaks Havoc Across Co.; Schools Closed, Power Out

The residents of Garrett County are in the midst of a dangerous early winter storm that has brought layers of ice to the higher elevations and has caused thousands of trees to topple. Electricity service has been interrupted for more than 10,000 local customers, according to a report this morning from the Allegany Power Company.

As of press time today, approximately 8,300 were still without power. There is little hope, apparently, for restoration to many of these customers before late today (Oct. 31) or tomorrow. Many, in fact, will not have power until Saturday, according to the report.

Planning Comm. To Query Wind Project Manager

The agenda for the upcoming monthly meeting of the Garrett County Planning Commission, set for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 6, in the courthouse meeting room of the board of county commissioners, includes an appearance by a Clipper Energy representative.

Ron Orozco, project manager for Clipper Energy's proposed Allegheny Heights windpower project, will be on hand at the meeting in response to a request from the planning commission to answer questions concerning the project, which would place as many as 67 large wind turbines atop Backbone Mountain.

Interested citizens may attend the meeting, although Orozco is not slated to make a formal presentation. He will be answering questions put to him by the members of the planning commission. For further information, persons may call the county's Planning Office at 301-334-1920.

Brad Frantz, director of Garrett County Emergency Management, is urging all county residents to use extreme caution in using temporary heating or lighting devices, such as space heaters, generators, candles, etc.

"If you are not practiced in using these devices, please don't use them at all," Frantz said. One local family has apparently experienced carbon monoxide poisoning and is being treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. While details of this incident have not been released, Frantz said it is a scenario that could easily be repeated.

"For those currently without heat, we have arranged for shelter facilities," he said. These shelters are being set up in Accident, Friendsville, Deer Park, and Oakland. For information about the shelters, persons may call 301-334-1929, which is Frantz's office, or the American Red Cross at 1-800-361-9481.

Persons are strongly cautioned to stay away from downed power lines. Persons who come upon lines on the ground are asked to call the Allegany Power hotline at 1-800-255-3443.

The public schools have been closed for two days and will remain closed tomorrow, according to a

Finzel Man Held Without Bond On Many Sex Charges

A Finzel Road man is being held without bond in the Garrett County Jail on a total of 452 criminal charges filed by the Garrett Bureau of Investigation after a probe involving allegations of sexual abuse of two juveniles.

Harold Eugene Faidley Jr., 36, was arrested by Maryland State Police troopers on Friday on charges including first- and second-degree rape; child abuse; first-, second-, third-, and fourth-degree sex offense; second-degree assault; reckless endangerment; and distribution of a controlled narcotic. The charges were filed as a result of a joint investigation between the FBI and the Child Protective Services Unit of the Garrett County Department of Social Services.

Faidley is accused of engaging in numerous instances of non-consensual sex with the juveniles between the dates of Aug. 24-Nov. 24, 2001. He is alleged to have drugged the victims with the prescription sleeping medication Ambien before the incidents. Ambien is classified as a controlled dangerous substance.

If convicted, Faidley faces potential penalties that include life sentences for each first-degree rape and first-degree sex offense.

HOUNDING FOR BLOOD AT BROAD FORD — The American Red Cross Blood Hound visited Broad Ford Elementary School recently to educate students on why it's vitally important to donate blood. The program, led by Red Cross field representative Chris Manges, was held in preparation for a community-wide blood drive that will be held at Broad Ford from noon to 6 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 11. BFE students are asking everyone who is at least 17 years old and weighs at least 105 pounds to come to their school to donate blood. Donors will be helping the school as well, for BFE will receive financial support for hosting the blood drive.

TREACHEROUS WONDERLAND — This week's ice storm has seemingly transformed the county's trees into forests of glass. The weight of the bright autumn leaves encased in ice is helping to bring limbs and entire trees crashing to the ground, often ripping out power lines or snapping utility poles in half. Driving on these littered roadways is dangerous, and should be done with extreme caution. Utility and roads crews continue to work non-stop to clear the roads and repair the utility service to the some 10,000 customers out of power. As of this morning, that number was pared down to 8,300, according to a report from Allegany Power. See story and additional photos.

Flu, Pneumonia Vaccinations Set At Numerous Sites

The Garrett County Health Department will be offering influenza and pneumococcal immunization clinics during November at locations throughout the county. The vaccines will be available to persons of all ages at a cost of $12 per flu shot and $17 per pneumococcal vaccination. (See below for clinic schedule and details on Medicare billing procedures.)

"There is a need for vaccination of individuals at increased risk for complications related to the virus," said GC health officer Rodney Glotfelty, as he specified at-risk groups as persons older than 65, those aged 6 months to 64 years with certain medical conditions, and healthy children aged 6 to 23 months. Glotfelty also recommended vaccination for persons who have direct contact with at-risk individuals such as health care providers, nursing home staff members, household members of those in the high-risk groups, and women in their second or third trimester of pregnancy.

Pneumococcal pneumonia, responsible for a substantial number of illnesses and deaths in the United States, is caused by a bacteria which can lead to serious infection of the lungs (pneumonia), the blood stream (bacteremia), and the covering of the brain (meningitis). People at greater risk from the disease include those 65 or older, the very young, and individuals with other health problems such as alcoholism, heart or lung disease including asthma, kidney failure, diabetes, HIV infection, or certain types of cancer.

Influenza, or flu, which can lead to viral pneumonia, is caused by a virus with typical symptoms such as an abrupt onset of fever, aching, sore throat, headache, chills, extreme malaise (tiredness), and a non-productive cough. The flu incubation period is 24 to 72 hours, with the illness lasting 2 to 7 days. The infectious period is approximately 3 days after the onset of symptoms. Yearly vaccination

"REINDEER FOOD" NEEDED - Lou Stouffer, the area's only "real" Santa Claus, has been hard at work for several weeks now gathering donated gift items for the 2002 holiday season. In fact, he has already made many deliveries to area families in need to help parents fulfill the wish lists of their children. While Stouffer has received a number of calls recently from donors of clothing and a variety of gift items, he said his biggest need right at the moment is for some financial assistance for the purchase of gasoline, or "reindeer food," as he calls it. Stouffer, who turned 80 this year, made deliveries to approximately 700 families in Preston and Garrett counties last year, and has portrayed the "real" Santa Claus in this manner for about three decades. He provides needed items to families throughout the year, not only during the holidays. He was named President George H. Bush's 76th Point of Light for his outstanding charitable work. Persons who wish to make a monetary donation to him may send their checks to Rt. 1, Box 56, Terra Alta, WV 26764. Those with gift items to donate may leave them at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Center Street, Oakland, or they may contact Stouffer by telephone at 304-789-6743 to arrange for pick-up.

tions are recommended for high- and moderate-risk individuals because the viruses that cause flu frequently change, and immunity may decrease in the year after vaccination.

The immunization clinics will be offered at the following locations and dates:

- GC Health Department, Oakland — 10 a.m.-6 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 7.
- Grantsville Community Outreach Center — 1-6 p.m., Friday, Nov. 8.
- Flowery Vale Senior Center, 11 a.m.-1 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 12.

Resident Faces Alleged Child Abuse Charges

An Oakland man surrendered himself to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office after being informed an arrest warrant had been issued charging him with several sex offenses and child abuse charges, according to Garrett Bureau of Investigation.

Thomas Newton George, 50, faces a maximum sentence of 36 years and/or fines of $3,500. He has been charged with child abuse, second-degree assault, third-degree sex offense, and fourth-degree sex offense, police said.

The charges were the result of a joint investigation between GBI and the Child Protective Services Unit of the Garrett County Department of Social Services. According to authorities, George was found to be having inappropriate sexual contact with a juvenile.

Following a bail review before a District Court Commissioner, George was released on a $5,000 unsecured bond.

Tenth Case Of Rabies Confirmed By Health Dept.

The Garrett County Health Department has announced the 10th case of confirmed rabies for the year. An incident occurred in the Swanton area October 22 when a raccoon entered a resident's yard and fought with two dogs. The raccoon was submitted to the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Rabies Laboratory in Baltimore and was confirmed positive for rabies on October 25. Both dogs, which were currently vaccinated against rabies, have received a booster shot and will be observed for 45 days.

Residents are reminded to check the rabies vaccination status for all their pets. Also, owners are reminded not to handle their pets immediately after a confrontation with a wild animal. If it is necessary to handle a pet, owners should be sure to wear protective gloves and wash thoroughly immediately after contact with the pet. Any persons with questions regarding rabies can reach Environmental Health Services at 301-334-7760.

THANK YOU!

On October 12, as many of you know, our son Evan swallowed tile and grout sealer while staying with his grandparents. Since this incident my family and I have come to realize what a caring community we are so fortunate to live in. We want to thank Mom and Dad for doing all the right things immediately after it happened. To Dr. Savopoulos for not only caring in the ER, but for calling our home two weeks later to inquire about Evan's condition, thank you so much. Also to Dr. Domenick, Danny Moon and Carol Burns, you are a great team. To all the nurses on the Third floor at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, thank you. To Garrett Transport thank you for making our transition safe. To all the doctors and nurses at Ruby Memorial Hospital, and both the pediatric and intensive care step-down unit, we thank you. To countless churches for all the prayer chains. To so many who prayed or thought about us. To all who called to inquire, who sent donations, stuffed animals, balloons, candy, and to those who visited, you don't know how much all this meant to us. To everyone at The Floor Store, Success Floor Covering and Lowes, we thank you for all your efforts in helping us to acquire the information we needed on the product Evan ingested. To Evan's big sister Karrington who made him cards and loves him so much, you are the best. Because of all the prayers and his team of doctors, we are so grateful to report Evan is home doing well. Our prayers have been answered. Thank you in so many ways.

What Does It Say?...

Our society has reached a new disgusting, embarrassing low in its priorities, and frankly, it's no wonder that certain other nations, particularly those whose people are starving, have hostile feelings toward us.

What does it say about a society whose #1 movie, which earned $23 million at its opening this week, is a movie called Jackass, a supposedly "real life" movie that is nothing but a series of repugnant, nauseating, useless stunts and activities, most involving offensive body functions, by morons? Our own movie reviewer, who has seen hundreds of films including many repulsive ones, said that this was the first time he left the theatre feeling physically ill. Of course, besides the movie, there is also a television series with the same name.

What does it say about a society that purchases $160 million worth of the video game "Grand Theft Auto," a game in which the player takes on the role of a man who shoots, or beats the brains out of, as many police officers, innocent bystanders, and prostitutes as possible? The more kills, the more points are "earned." The new version of the game to be released soon is expected to generate $400 million in sales. The game carries a warning label that no one under 17 should play, but how laughable is that? A 10-year-old with his mom's credit card number can order it via the Internet in about 60 seconds. Plus, there are plenty of 18-, 25-, and 40-year-old nutcases out there who also should not have access to such a product. And we are all so shocked when a couple snipers decided to blow innocent people away!!!?

What does it say about a society in which a major morning news program ("Good Morning, America") actually conducts interviews of the rejected would-be brides from a television program (on their network, of course) called "Bachelor," a program for which some stud of an "eligible bachelor" is selected and then spends the next several programs choosing from a host of young, beautiful, supposedly intelligent women which one will be his bride, as if he is shopping for a new lawn mower? The show is not only extremely demeaning to the sacred marriage relationship, but also to women in general, yet the news program producers actually devote time for such interviews because "this is what the viewers want."

We're really sick, folks. While we much prefer to use this column to emphasize the fact that there is so much good in the world (and yes, there still is), we see some alarming patterns here. Are our lives just too comfortable? Are they too boring? Do we have just too much time on our hands? What is it?

There are so many people in our world, right in our own communities, whose needs are great, and there are literally hundreds of agencies that can always use more help trying to respond to those needs. What's it going to take for us to re-focus our priorities, our money, our time, and our energies on worthy endeavors? Even the events of 9/11/01 didn't seem to have an impact. What in the world is it going to take?

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The county commissioner election will be on Tuesday, and what we know for sure is that there will be at least one new commissioner elected. This is a chance for taxpayers to send a message.

We need an important change in government. We need elected officials to be more honest and open. One example of the problem is the new adventure sports center that the commissioners are spending $2 million of our local property tax dollars on. You would think that this would bring open discussion on the merits of the proposal, but to this day, the commissioners won't even tell the public who the members of the adventure sports board are, or when and where they meet. If a non-profit group is getting $2 million out of our pockets, shouldn't we be told who will be responsible for carefully spending this money? Shouldn't the public be allowed to go to their meetings? The commissioners are "zip-tipped" and determined not to release this information to the public, and this is shameful!

Unfortunately, this is not an isolated situation. I've been told that the commissioners discuss all issues in the back room and then all decide together what they will say and do in public. This must be true because there has been no public disagreement between the commissioners on anything important during the last several years!

The public has become more aware of this and is starting to rebel. The back room deal on the proposed Keyser's Ridge Industrial Park is yet another example of how they do business.

In Garrett County, the election results are probably already decided. We all know that Democrats can't win county posts. However, wouldn't it be interesting to shake up incumbents by making it a closer race? Since there is no one running against Ernie Gregg, he is actually re-elected already. Why vote for him? Send him a message by withholding your vote and impacting his ego a little.

In all, let's keep the newly elected commissioners from getting too cocky. Send a few votes this time to the Democratic candidates — they will never win anyway — and withhold some votes from Commissioner Gregg.

Perhaps the commissioners will begin to understand that the public wants its government in the open.

Jean Orendorf

To the Editor:

I'm writing this letter to let the citizens of Garrett County know about something that occurred during this election. Sheriff Dick Sanders was caught using county vehicles to deliver campaign signs and office space to distribute campaign literature. He was told by the Maryland State Prosecutors Office to stop this immediately. There is no question that he was doing this, as his chief deputy, Gary Berkebile, admitted to this in an open meeting of the Garrett County commissioners. He tried to say that this was an isolated incident, but after speaking to many people, that may not be the case. Shouldn't a sheriff enforce laws, not break them?

While this is a clear infraction of state laws and county policy that he was well aware of, I believe that he should be afforded the opportunity to use a resource that he has required of his office personnel when their activities. I think that Sheriff Sanders should take a polygraph exam from an independent examiner to ensure that the taxpayer monies have not been further misused. I'm sure that Sheriff Sanders would never require something of his staff that he was not willing to do himself.

Before you cast your vote to put a sheriff into office, I encourage citizens to write a freedom of information request to the county to review the sheriff's records for the past four years. I think you will be surprised by what you find.

Sincerely,
Mark Proulx

To the Editor:
We all have a stake in seeing our small businesses succeed. Not only are small businesses responsible for creating three-quarters of all new jobs, but they also provide some of the most important products and services that determine our quality of life.

That's why Maryland Congressman Robert Ehrlich deserves praise for his record on small business issues. In the recently released ratings for the 107th Congress, the Small Business Survival Committee (SBSC) gave Ehrlich one of the highest ratings in the Congress (87%) for his votes on small business issues, and he received our "Champion of Small Business" award.

Ehrlich received those high marks for voting to lower taxes and regulations, expand U.S. markets abroad, and make energy more affordable.

Maryland citizens can review all of the votes included in the ratings by going to SBSC's website at www.sbsc.org. I think once people see the record, they will join us in thanking Ehrlich for standing up for our small businesses.

Sincerely,
Darrell McKigney
President, Small Business Survival Committee
Washington, D.C.
P.S. SBSC is a national nonpartisan small business advocacy organization with 70,000 members.

To the Editor:

A recent survey of the effectiveness of governors gave Maryland Governor Parris Glendening a "D" for his performance as Maryland's top executive. I would suggest that this is "grade inflation."

As a 25-year veteran of the drug fight, 19 as a volunteer, I resent immensely that Governor Glendening signed a bill establishing a four-year pilot program to allow hemp/marijuana to be grown on government property. This pro-pot program set aside over $40,000 to allow Maryland's Agriculture Department to plant hemp/marijuana on government property to "determine if it could be a replacement crop for tobacco." In all my years of anti-drug efforts, this surpassed all the ridiculous bills we've observed with perhaps one exception.

Several years ago, a former Montgomery County Republican congressman, Newton Steers, attempted to reduce marijuana possession penalties. Nineteen mothers joined forces to defeat him. Mr. Steers later apologized and admitted in Montgomery County papers he was wrong on the marijuana issue.

Both Governor Parris Glendening and Lt. Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend were given more than enough information about hemp/marijuana to determine that: A. Marijuana and hemp originate from the same plant; B. Marijuana has more carcinogens than tobacco; C. Marijuana is the primary drug detected among male juvenile arrestees in the United States. (University of Maryland Center for Substance Abuse Research); D. Touting hemp/marijuana sends exactly the wrong message to young people; E. The Canadian Agriculture Department that tried a similar experiment reported, "It was impossible to keep young people out of the fields." The program went bankrupt; F. This bill should have been rejected by common sense—not signed.

In spite of all our efforts to educate the Governor and Mrs. Townsend, Governor Glendening stubbornly signed the bill anyway. (Washington Times 6/12/2000) Fortunately, parents were able to side-track the program by bringing attention and pressure to those who would be forced to run the program.

These kinds of efforts by government officials force parents to take valuable resources to stop them instead of spending the time and money to promote prevention and education.

Congress recently included a provision in the "Leave No Child Behind Education Bill" that allows schools to use funds from the Safe and Drug-Free Schools program to random drug test students who participate in extra curricular activities. The testing is not for punishment. It is intended for prevention and early intervention. Drug testing is controlled at the local level—and can be requested by parents, grandparents, principals, or school superintendents. We believe that the $40,000 should be replaced and used for student drug testing.

We suggest that Maryland voters consider bringing some balance to their legislature. For instance, as of October 22, 2002, the reference desk of the Maryland state legislature confirmed there are: 47 Maryland state senators, 34 of whom are Democrat and 13 are Republican; 141 Maryland state delegates, 106 Democrat and 35 Republican.

As drug fighters, it doesn't matter to us on which side of the aisle a representative sits. It only matters if they are right or wrong. What has happened in Maryland is that both the House and the Senate are

by Jeffrey Wilson

PAUL WELLSTONE AND ELECTION DAY
My plan had been to write an All Hallows' Eve column for today, but something happened. That something was the death of Minnesota Senator Paul Wellstone with his wife and daughter in an airplane crash last week. Senator Wellstone was a pro-abortion Democrat, and I am a pro-life Republican, and yet Senator Wellstone was a man I greatly admired and whom, now, I greatly mourn.

Paul Wellstone was a man of conscience and of conviction. Even when I thought him wrong about an issue, I knew him to be right with respect to his own integrity. That is so rare a quality in or-out of politics.

I also liked Senator Wellstone because of his ruffled appearance and his impish grin. He looked to be one pizza away from the Pillsbury doughboy, and gave speeches that managed to be passionate and boring at the same time. He was a college professor by occupation and a prophet by vocation. He was, in short, the kind of person who does not get himself elected to office, and yet he was elected twice by the sovereign people of Minnesota to the U.S. Senate.

Paul Wellstone was also a Jew. I do not know if he was religious, but I recognized in him the kind of character I meet in the Old Testament: Samuel, Nathan, Elijah, Amos. He pronounced a word given to him. That word was justice. However secularized was the expression of Senator Wellstone, he sang with the Psalmist: "Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and the needy." (Psalm 82:3)

I will say something that, when I have said it before about others, has offended both Jews and Christians, and yet there is something true in the statement that I do not know how to say any other way: Paul Wellstone as a Jew was a better Christian than most Christians. His life fulfilled the words of Jesus Christ in St. Matthew 25: 31-46: he was visiting, feeding, clothing, healing the least brothers and sisters of the world. As he did it unto them, he did it unto Christ.

For me, the one great inconsistency in Senator Wellstone's life was his support for abortion rights. He made himself the voice of the voiceless, so why could he not see that the conceived but as yet unborn are as a class of human beings the most voiceless of all? Even on this major point of disagreement, I never doubted that Senator Wellstone held his conviction conscientiously. I also trust that it is a point which the Almighty One will resolve with Paul Wellstone as he continues his pilgrimage.

There is a connection between Senator Wellstone and All Hallows' Eve. On this day in the year of grace 1517, Martin Luther nailed his 95 Theses to the church door of the Wittenberg castle. Of his position he subsequently said, "Here I stand! I can do no other." Over and over again throughout Paul Wellstone's life he took his stand, and with respect to his own integrity, he could do no other.

The most recent such stand came only days before his death when the resolution authorizing the president to use military force in Iraq was voted upon by the Senate. Paul Wellstone was engaged in a battle to retain his Senate seat. The race was a close one which could well have been determined by a few votes. Senator Wellstone clearly understood that voting against the Iraq war resolution could cost him his election, and could cost the Democratic Party control of the U.S. Senate. He voted against that resolution anyway, because he believed the bellicose posture of the president to be profoundly wrong.

He raised his voice again, as did the prophets of the Old Testament against the injustice of kings, against a war which ought not be waged based upon a policy of aggression, arrogance, and greed. Paul Wellstone, one last time, demonstrated that he preferred to keep his conscience clear than to keep his seat in the Senate.

John Adams was right when he said 200 years ago that ours is a government of laws and not of men. We require, nonetheless, men and women to enact, enforce, and adjudicate those laws. In casting one's ballot it is tempting to choose those candidates with whose positions one most nearly agrees.

We do better to choose those candidates whose lives and judgement we respect. A person's views can change far more easily than a person's character.

Paul Wellstone was such a person. He lived as a man of conviction, and as a man of conviction he died. May he rest in peace.

so out of balance (by almost 3-1), there is little discussion on any issue. A fair system requires dialogue—whether the issue is the budget, health care, drug prevention, or highways. Surely there are good candidates running who can bring this picture back into focus. Before you vote, look carefully at what's best for your family. Is it a one-party system? I don't think so.

For instance, according to Warren Deschenaux, director, Department of Legislative Services, Maryland General Assembly, Governor Glendening started his administration with a balanced budget. In fact, at the end of 1995, the fund balance was $132.5 million. The projection for the end of 2003 indicates the budget out of balance by between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000! The deficit for the end of 2004 is projected to be between $1.2 and $1.3 billion, depending on spending and depending on dialogue between responsible elected officials.

It depends most on responsible, informed voters to change the future of Maryland.

Editor's note: Friend-Nalepka was born in Friendsville, Maryland. Her parents were Yvonne Hoyer Friend and Randall Friend (both now deceased). Nalepka co-sponsored the bill that closed drug paraphernalia shops in Maryland. She has coordinated two amicus briefs submitted to the U.S. Supreme Court. The court voted unanimously there is "No medical necessity defense for marijuana" and in a 5-4 decision supported drug testing of students who participate in extra-curricular activities.

To the Editor:
Election day means different things to different people. To school children it's a day off, to approximately 70% of the voting age U.S. citizen (unfortunately) apparently it is just "another day," because this is the average number for whatever excuse do not take the time to vote.

Our nation and form of government was set up by a system of checks and balances to be empowered "for the people and by the people." The people were to have the power to dictate how they were governed, by installing the individuals into the governing bodies by the individual power of your vote. This is an awesome power of the people, as it can do what no military or other power has been able to do in our history. This power replaces our president, and our legislative bodies, and enforces the will "of the people" on our governing bodies. It's a sad fact that, after all of the lives lost to protect this awesome power, that most individuals are permitting such a small percent (less than 30%) of the people to rule the rest. This is what happens when you do not vote.

There are those who say they don't vote because the outcome of the elections are determined by the metropolitan areas in the state. Think how much more your vote means in the less populated areas if every eligible voter would vote.

The next election is the most important we have faced in Maryland in years. Every state employee, waterman, farmer, hunter, and gun owner in the state has his existence on the line. We must all get out and vote and make certain that your family, friends, and neighbors understand what's at stake.

The state needs to get out from under the administration in power for our survival. The Glendening administration promised "collective bargaining" to state employees and made a big issue about how this would help state employees, but after collective bargaining, the pay raise, cost of living, and step increases, how much of their bargain did they keep? The farmers and watermen have been under attack by the administration's unreasonable regulations. The Department of Natural Resources has been decimated by political rather than scientific reasoning. The hunters and gun owners have been under attack from this administration. The state has the most strict gun laws of any state, but the crime rate is increasing. The governor pushed all these gun control laws with the pretense for safety, but when the legislators passed a firearm safety program for schools, he waited to the last possible minute to veto the bill. This would indicate to me that safety is not his aim. The state's attorney general stated that, contrary to what the Constitution states, he does not think we have a right to own a gun.

We, as voters, have the best opportunity to change the direction this state is headed, by everyone taking the time to vote, and vote Republican. We can't afford another four years of the same.

Sincerely,
Howard Dinterman

JACKASS: THE MOVIE

Rated R - Running Time: 1:20 - Released 10/25/02

I'm going to break with tradition on this review and not give Jackass: The Movie a star rating, since the point of the star rating is to give the reader an at-a-glance assessment of the film based on the technique of the parties involved. With this film, there is really nothing to assess—there is no writing, acting or any other cinematic technique in play here, with the exception of some special effects work during both the opening and closing credits. The only directing I can see (credited to Jeff Tremaine) is where to put the camera(s) and/or which tape to use in the final print. As for whether I recommend it to the public, I think that decision will be based solely on the individual's interest in the subject. Anyone familiar with the 2000 MTV show Jackass, which featured actor/daredevil Johnny Knoxville and his troupe of like-minded friends performing various wacky stunts for no other purpose than to see if they can survive them, will be able to decide whether he or she will have any interest in seeing the movie, which, by all accounts, is simply a longer and uncensored version of the same thing.

This movie is more like a well-funded frat film than a professional work of cinema; shot on digital video, it could be compared most closely to current shock-TV shows like Fear Factor or Comedy Central's Trigger Happy TV. It is really just a miscellaneous and disjointed collection of short films featuring Knoxville and his gang (including Brendan "Bam" Margera, Chris Pontius, Steve-O, Dave England, Ryan Dunn, Jason "Wee Man" Acuña, Preston Lacy, and Ehren McGhehey, among others) performing various pranks, physical challenges, and masochistic stunts, usually followed by an exclamation of "Oh, my God!" and several seconds of maniacal giggling. The stunts range from the simply pointless (running around Tokyo dressed as pandas) to the seriously dangerous (being shot at close range with a new, untested crowd-control projectile) to the truly disgusting (lots of footage of real bodily functions, both planned and unintentional). This is for people whose idea of entertainment is watching a man vomit while his friends laugh their asses off. Much of the film was shot in Japan, probably because these guys couldn't get clearance to do some of this stuff in the U.S., and includes numerous cameo appearances by celebrities like pro skater Tony Hawk, actor Henry Rollins, actor-director Spike Jonze (Being John Malkovich), WWF star Butterbean, and aging clown Rip Taylor (remember The $1.98 Beauty Show?).

There are two things I should definitely say in discussing this movie: Number 1: DON'T TRY THIS AT HOME. This warning is flashed on the screen at the beginning and end of the movie; apparently, the reason the TV show was canceled was because a number of common-sense-challenged youths across America were attempting the sometimes life-threatening stunts they saw on the show. Number 2: Don't watch this movie if you have a weak stomach. After 5 years and over 600 movies, I can actually say this is the first time I left the theater feeling physically ill. While I'll admit I did laugh guiltily on several occasions (or gasp in horror, or shake my head in disbelief), I left the theater with a queasy feeling in my stomach and a sympathetic ache in all my orifices.

So...is this what we want from our entertainment?

ABANDON

Rated PG-13 - Running Time: 1:39 - Released 10/18/02

Screenwriter Stephen Gaghan, who got his start writing for TV shows like NYPD Blue and The Practice before penning such notable recent films as Rules of Engagement and Traffic, takes the director's chair for the first time with his latest script, Abandon. A thriller of unconventional depth, it tells the story of a young woman trying to finish up her thesis at an exclusive (unnamed) college while plagued by visions of her missing ex-lover, who disappeared two years ago. Like Gaghan's other works, it contains numerous characters who are more complex than they would normally be; even the bit players seem to have a life beyond their appearances on the screen. The film's star, Katie Holmes, acquires herself well with a difficult part; co-stars Benjamin Bratt and Charlie Hunnam are adequate in supporting roles, but it is writer-director Gaghan whose style makes the movie enjoyably visceral. Utilizing interesting musical choices, strange sound effects, and quasi-surrealistic lighting and camera angles, he creates an atmosphere which may or may not be reality, or may only be the reality of one or another character.

Holmes plays Katie Burke, an intelligent, career-driven finance student completing her final, pressure-filled weeks of school while interviewing for a job with a highly-placed New York corporation. With the help of a psychiatric counselor (Tony Goldwyn), she is trying to cope with final exams and completing her thesis, but her nerves really snap when she's approached by Detective Wade Handler (Bratt). Wade, a recovering alcoholic with a checkered history of his own, is investigating the disappearance of Katie's lover from sophomore year, a wealthy and artistic egomaniac named Embry Larkin (Hunnam) who disappeared shortly after purchasing plane tickets to Greece, having never used them. Wade's questions trigger a flood of memories that undermine Katie's ability to complete her various projects; while he talks to everyone from her roommate Samantha (Zoey Deschanel, putting forth another excellent supporting performance—I've yet to see her do wrong) to the mousy library assistant (Melanie Lynskey) to another boy who has a crush on Katie (Gabriel Mann), she begins seeing Embry in strange places, as if he's stalking her. Meanwhile she begins to develop feelings for Wade that may force her to compromise her career plans.

For what I suppose must be classified as a "teen thriller," this film has a surprising amount of substance. It does contain a twist ending which I will not reveal but which is more effective than most that I have seen. But I feel that director Gaghan's real genius lies in his ability to create mood. There is scarcely a scene which does not contain some kind of strange feeling to it; the whole film is immersed in a kind of altered-reality sensation, aided by music, lighting, and sounds which, while they do not suggest any specific conclusions, simply evoke the general feeling of unease. Something seems not right, and as we find out in the final reel, something definitely is not right, but it is not the standard collection of conventional horror-thriller elements that make you grin and say, "Oh-oh, better not open that door!" Gaghan is able to construct a world which seems normal, but feels wrong. While Abandon is not the creepiest thriller out there right now (consult The Ring for that distinction), it is perhaps the most intelligent. ★★

GHOST SHIP

Rated PG-13 - Running Time: 1:30 - Released 10/25/02

It is in the fun spirit of Halloween that we are inundated every October with horror movies which are usually somewhat creepy but at the same time mentally challenged. I presume it is in this same spirit that actors who normally involve themselves with projects that at least show a modicum of integrity sign on to these flagrantly stupid flicks. It's sort of like dressing up for a Halloween party: you know you don't really look like Queen Elizabeth, but that's the whole joke. Such is the case with Ghost Ship, a willfully idiotic tale about a crew of ocean bound salvage experts who discover a gigantic 40-year-old ocean liner adrift in the Bering Strait with a full complement of good ghosts and true aboard. The trouble is, this movie was filmed last March. Maybe it wasn't the Halloween spirit compelling those involved; maybe they were just still drunk from St. Patty's Day. At any rate, director Steve Beck thinks he's being serious, and so do writers Mark Hanlon and John Pogue. How embarrassing.

The star of this foundering vehicle is ER veteran Julianna Margulies, who plays the only female crewmember in a group of fearless, irreverent scamps aboard the tugboat Arctic Warrior. Her character, Epps, along with her father-figure Captain Murphy (Gabriel Byrne), are approached by a pilot named Jack Ferriman (Desmond Harrington), who claims to have seen the long-lost ship from his plane. When they arrive, the crew discovers that this is none other than the Italian luxury liner Antonia Graza, which disappeared in May of 1962. What the crew doesn't know (but what we learn in an early flashback) is that those onboard the ship all perished one fateful night when an entire dance floor full of people were tragically cut in half, mid-rumba, by a steel cable which was apparently rigged up to do just that by some mysterious killer. Whipping across the large ballroom like one of those wire cheese-cutters they use at Hickory Farms, the cable felled everyone but a young girl named Katie (Emily Browning), who escaped this cheesy fate only because she was too short. Talk about getting by under the wire. However, she was forced to watch everyone from the captain (Robert Ruggiero), with whom she was dancing, to the sexy Italian woman singing on the stage (Francesca Rettondini), fall to the floor in bloody pieces, with horrified looks still etched on their faces.

Soon after arriving, the members of the Warrior crew go through the regular stock ghost-story experiences: they start seeing things (like the apparitions of those named above), they get a creepy vibe, and they start dying. But when they discover a box full of solid gold ingots (the customary cargo for Italian cruise liners of the 1960s), they are presented with a dilemma: forget the gold and get out of there, or keep it and be rich? And dead?

As usual, this ghost story is full of logic errors and plot holes too numerous to mention, but it doesn't even distinguish itself from a visual point of view, as did director Beck's only other film to date, last October's 13 Ghosts. The ship is ugly, the ghosts are boring, and the effects (with the possible exception of the cheese-cutter incident) are less than spectacular. The acting is generally adequate, but the actors are forced to utter such nonsense it's hard to take them seriously. I'm sure Byrne, Margulies, and the others (including Julianna's longtime boyfriend, Ron Eldard, and Isaiah Washington) found it difficult to deliver some of their lines with a straight face. If you're going to be seen paying to get into this one, it may be wise to keep your mask on. ★½

Why should you Vote Virts?

I will listen to what the residents of Garrett County have to say and I will work to find answers to their problems and worries. I am not going to pretend to know everything, but I will try to learn. I will not make promises I know I can not keep. I do not own a business in the county; so the only personal gain I can receive is the knowledge that I have made a difference in the lives of my fellow Garrett Countians. I will be your commissioner 24 hours a day seven days a week. I may be young, but I have a thirst for knowledge and experience and with this I hope to bridge the gap between the government of Garrett County and its residents.

Thank you for your consideration and remember to get out and Vote Nov. 5!

which time the suspect admitted to shooting Otis and was fined for discharging a firearm within 500 feet of a dwelling.

Upon answering the complaint placed against him by the state of West Virginia, one of our Grant County magistrates fined the perpetrator. With the fine and court costs, the total amount of punishment against this cowardly criminal was around $200. The law states that the crimes are also punishable by community service. However, the magistrate informed me that our county does not enforce community service; therefore, that portion of the law was ignored. What's wrong with this picture? I was under the assumption that all criminals were to receive punishment exactly as stated by the law. Apparently some law enforcement agencies have the authority to rewrite the laws at their discretion.

Still expecting the laws of our land to prevail, I filed a complaint against the criminal who took the life of my innocent friend, in the Magistrates Court of Grant County. At the hearing it was quite apparent that the law had been broken; the only question was to the value placed on this animal's life. But much to my dismay, there would be no judgment handed down against the defendant for the crimes he committed.

After this unsettling turn of events, I still hadn't lost hope that our justice system would somehow seek retribution for such a sickening crime. So, I filed an appeal to the circuit court in my quest for justice. The court granted my appeal and set a trial date. However, the trial was postponed to the following week due to a scheduling conflict with the judge's schedule. Then the circuit court dealt me the most devastating blow yet; an order was delivered to my attorney's office just before the close of business the day before the hearing. The order stated that the case had been dismissed due to the interpretation of state law that read, "in no case involving a dog can recovery be had in excess of the assessed value of the dog," and I had never had an assessment value placed on my dog.

Unfortunately, I was never informed by any assessor or deputy thereof, that there was a need to have my dog assessed. I do understand that ignorance of the law is no excuse, but wouldn't it be nice to be notified of the need for such an assessment? If someone were to buy a vehicle or build an addition onto their house, this change would not only be noticed, it would be reflected by their next tax statement.

Keep in mind, my fellow citizens, at no time during any such proceedings did I receive any restitution for the death of my dog, the only punishment this man received was that inflicted upon him by the state of West Virginia for breaking a state law. There wasn't any punishment whatsoever for killing a family pet/friend. The only thing that this man learned from this whole ordeal is that the next time he needs to be further away from a residence.

I recommend to everyone that you may want to consider having your dog assessed. It's difficult to place a monetary value on the life of such a great and loyal friend. I was just hoping to get a small piece of gratification; something to make this man aware of the severity of his actions and the ramifications those actions should entail.

In closing, I wish to thank the W.Va. State Police for their response and assistance in our time of need. Also, I wish to challenge the residents of our county to remember the treatment that our citizens receive when election time comes. Try to find out the qualifications and professionalism of a candidate running for a public office before you vote for him/her. Most public offices have little or no minimum criteria which must be met; therefore, almost anyone can become a candidate for a public office. I am sure, from the knowledge I have gained from this experience, that we are in dire need of a change, as the elected officials I have come in contact with during this long struggle have been under qualified to say the least.

God bless, and I pray that no one else will ever have to go through such an ordeal.

Sincerely,
John A. Delaney
Mt. Storm, W.Va.

To the Editor:

Over the past several weeks there have been a number of letters from various persons pointing out such things as the dismal primary election turn-out of both parties, the difficulty in obtaining information by which to make an intelligent decision, etc. Bud Bailey's letter of last week makes several valid points. Without a platform, how does anyone know what a particular party stands for? Mike Bello makes a valid point of the difficulties involved in making an intelligent choice. Then there are those who confuse national issues with local ones as if party affiliation at the local level has anything to do with national issues in a local election. George Falter has written many letters on a variety of issues concerning this county and he continues to do so, which is one of the few ways persons can be informed. Read Falter's letters as well as what The Republican has to say. Then make up your own mind.

I have paid attention during this campaign and I have yet to hear a clear-cut and leaving thousands of local residents without electricity and various other services.

enunciation of the major issues facing this county by any candidate in any type of public forum because there was no forum or debate in which all the local candidates were engaged. I have never heard any candidate define a vision of where this county is going except in the most general, meaningless terms. I know and respect Henrietta Lease, but I do not think the issues were explained to the voter in terms that would bring to them an understanding, as Mike Bello has pointed out, of how these things will affect their lives. I have also found that it is difficult, but not impossible, to find out what one needs to know. This is time consuming. It also takes a little effort to find out where to look and what to ask for and whom to talk with about these things. Most voters I have spoken with would not even consider bothering to this extent. A few make a point of informing me that they do not vote at all, as if they were proud of that fact. Some think their vote does not matter, and on it goes. I have come to the conclusion that many simply do not care. If they do not care, they deserve what they get. Democracy at any level requires participation, and participation we are not seeing to the degree necessary to ensure a responsive government which will meet the needs of all the people, not just the lake people (and I was in that group for a long time before moving to Oakland) who seem to get priority treatment in some respects and this, of course, has to do with money, pure and simple. Tourism is a major industry and should not be neglected, but neither should the interests of the majority of the natives who have lived and worked here and raised their families here, more often than not under economic hardship.

George Falter has told me he is continuing to run for the office of county commissioner as a write-in candidate. In my opinion, he would be one of the most qualified persons I know to hold that office. I know of no one who knows more about what is going on in this county than he does except perhaps the incumbent commissioners, and they do not always tell us what we need to know when we need to know it. Sometimes I get the feeling they could be afraid to tell us. Falter made a big issue when he was campaigning of what he described as "open government." I would agree that a little more openness is in order and would be enormously helpful in deciding what course to pursue, what to support, and what to oppose.

Qualifications for the office sought should be a primary consideration in making a choice. Too many vote a party affiliation, regardless of a candidate's qualification for the office. Some vote because they "like" one candidate better than another. Some do not know why they vote or what they are voting for. As Bud Bailey so aptly put it in his letter, now is the time to get some answers. If things do not go well in this county it is the responsibility of the voters as well as the officeholders who were elected by an uninformed or misinformed electorate. The people are sovereign, but only if they participate in the process and part of that process is to be interested enough to become informed. Demand to be informed. It is your constitutional right.

It is my plan to participate and exercise my right to vote as a citizen of this great nation and of this county in particular, as I have done in every election since I was old enough to vote in the election of 1944. I shall "write in" George Falter, muckraker and adversary that he might be, mainly because I know he has the experience it takes and knows what is what and has more than a vague notion about how to deal with the issues that either do now, or will in the future, affect all of us. I do not believe for a minute that he can solve all the problems facing this county, but he will go where others fear to tread and in so doing would offer a better chance for the "little people," who have virtually no voice in some of the county issues that affect them most. But regardless of how anyone sees it, I encourage everyone to exercise their right to vote on November 5th. It is your civic duty to do so.

Sincerely,
R. Sams Smith

REL Book Club

Sets Discussion

Of The Red Tent

The Ruth Enlow Library

adult book discussion club has slated a meeting to discuss The Red Tent, the

Anita Diamant. The

discussion is set for 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 25, in the Oakland library.

The novel is based on stories found in the Bible, with details and characters that are the product of Diamant's imagination.

"Deeply affecting, The Red

Tent combines rich storytelling with a valuable achievement in modern fiction: a new view of a biblical women's society," according to the publisher's description.

"Her name is Dinah. In the Bible, her life is only hinted at in a brief and violent detour within the more familiar chapters about her father Jacob, and his dozen sons in the Book of Genesis.

"Told in Dinah's voice,

this novel reveals the traditions and turmoil of ancient womanhood — the world of the red tent. It begins with the story of her mothers — Leah, Rachel,

Zilpah, and Bilhah, the four wives of Jacob. They love

Dinah and give her gifts that are to sustain her through a hard-working youth, a calling to midwifery, and a new home in a foreign land. Dinah's story

remarkable period of early history and creates an intimate, immediate connection."

The book has drawn praise from secular and religious publications across the country. "Startling in its originality — sings a moral message of love and honor," wrote a Pittsburgh Post

Gazette critic. "Here is a book to share with a friend or talk about in Bible study groups, or just keep close and handy on the nightstand, for any time you need to remind yourself of

Antonio Express News reviewer wrote. The National Catholic opined that the book is "a fine novel. This earthy, passionate tale, told also with great delicacy, is, quite simply, a great read."

Copies of The Red Tent

are usually available at the circulation desk of the

serves can be placed on the book as well. For further information, persons may call the library at 301-334-

3996, consult the library's web site at www.relib.net.

NO DEC. DISCUSSION

Library patrons should

note that the adult book discussion club will not meet during the month of December.

The following month the group will re-convene

6:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan.

ara's The Killer Angels. The historical novel describes the events and personalities surrounding the Battle of Gettysburg, and formed the

International Film Fest Sets Movie, Dinner

The next event in the International Film Festival, sponsored by Garrett College's Global Education Center, will be the showing of the movie Chocolat in the Student Center loft on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p.m. The French movie tells the story of a woman who opens a chocolate shop in a quaint village, her uncanny insight to her customers' needs, and the seemingly magical effect the chocolate has on her customers. The movie is in English, with a running time of 121 minutes and a PG-13 rating.

Before the film begins, Thomas Carr, coordinator of international education at Frostburg State University and former French lecturer, will present information on cultural aspects of France and Ireland as depicted in the movie. He will also lead a discussion and question/answer session following the screening.

As with other films in the series, an international dinner representative of the foreign country will be served in the Laker's Café beginning at 4:30 p.m. The French dish coc au vin (chicken in wine) will be available for $6.50 per person, and those interested in dining should make reservations up to that evening by calling 301-387-3041.

The International Film series will continue for several weeks, according to Darlene Preston, coordinator of global education. Ad-

Young Readers Club To Discuss Orphan's Story

The next meeting of the Young Readers Club is set for 4:15 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. All students age 9 through 11 are encouraged to participate as the group discusses The Gate in the Wall by Ellen Howard (146 pages).

"In this engaging story of Victorian England, 10-year-old Emma is an orphan living with her older sister and cruel, abusive brother-in-law," the book jacket states. "It is the mid-1800s and the poor live a very rough life. Emma works 10-hour days at a silk factory and often goes hungry. Locked out of the factory for being but a moment late one day, she passes through an open gate behind which she can see a brightly painted boat. The Cygnet, as the boat is called, is a shipping vessel on a canal. The scent of potatoes is in the air and Emma, hungry as usual, cannot resist the temptation. The boat's owner, Mrs. Minshull, presses Emma into service on the boat as punishment for stealing the potato — a situation that turns out to be remarkably ideal for both of them."

The Young Readers Club meets every six weeks to discuss a popular book chosen by the book club participants. Students select books from a variety of genres such as science-fiction, historical fiction, and realistic fiction. Those interested in joining this group may pick up a copy of The Gate in the Wall at the Oakland library, read as much as possible by Nov. 14, and then join with other members of the group to share thoughts about the book.

For more information, persons may call the Oakland library at 301-334-3996 or visit the library's web site at www.relib.net. The library also offers book clubs for teens and adults. All book discussion groups are funded by the Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Stories Sought For Commissioned Dance Concert

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival is inviting residents of Garrett County to submit stories about people, places, or things pertaining to Garrett County (past or present). Three stories will be selected from those submitted, and will be used for choreographing a commissioned ballet work, depicting the life and times of Garrett County.

Stories are to be mailed to the GLAF office no later than Dec. 15, 2002. The GLAF address is P.O. Box 151, McHenry, MD 21541. Persons requiring further information are asked to call the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or Jane Avery at Our Town Theatre, 301-334-5640.

Stories must be clearly written or typed. They may depict current family members or ancestors from the past, events from the past or present, or thoughts that have shaped the course of history in Garrett County. Stories must include factual dates and names, and must be signed by the author.

The GLAF-commissioned work will be choregraphed and performed by Bodiography Contemporary Ballet on Saturday, July 26, 2003, at Garrett College auditorium. The work will premiere at the July 26 performance, and will be carried in programs throughout the U.S. and abroad.

Director Maria Caruso founded Bodiography in part because she wanted to provide an opportunity for women and men whose body types have excluded them from traditional ballet roles. In the words of the organization's mission statement, Bodiography is "dedicated to the performance of contemporary ballet by bodies in their most natural form."

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival is working in conjunction with Jane Avery of Our Town Theatre, who is serving as consultant and narrator for the premiere performance.

Rams Lose To Lions, Monsoon Conditions, 7-0

The season hit a new low for the Southern High School varsity football team Friday night, as the Rams were topped by visiting, and previously winless, Tucker County, 7-0, in a game played in near monsoon conditions. It was the seventh loss in eight starts for the young Ram squad.

The only points of the game were scored in the first quarter when Tucker quarterback Jake Bava fired an eight-yard touchdown pass to Mitchell Ball with 1:22 left in the first quarter, and Jeremy Owens booted the extra point. The rest of the contest was a series of stalled drives by both teams.

The Rams had an opportunity in the fourth quarter to put some points on the board when the Mountain Lions fumbled inside their own 30-yard line with 7:01 remaining in the game, but the sputtering Southern offense could not pick up a first down.

Billy Schmidl paced the Rams' 152-yard rushing effort with 73 yards on 18 carries, while Jay Tressler recorded 61 yards on 16 carries.

Leading the Lions' 180-yard ground game was J.D. Arnold, who racked up 88 yards on 11 carries.

Bava, a four-year starter for the Lions who had missed most of this season because of injury, completed nine of 16 passes for another 150 yards, despite the sheets of rain that fell all the entire game.

First Quarter
TC - Mitchell Ball 8 pass from Jake Bava (Jeremy Owens kick), 1:22.

Schmidl also led the Ram defensive effort, as he was credited with a dozen tackles. Getting nine tackles apiece were Tressler and Chris Bennett.

"I give Tucker all the credit in the world," stated Southern coach Fred Gregg. "They won the battle up front on the line."

"There is no question that they are a different team with Bava in the game," he said. "He provides so much leadership because of his athletic ability and his experience. It's a shame that he had to miss most of the season, because I'm sure they would have had some more victories."

Gregg said that the weather conditions basically neutralized any advantages that either team may have had. "But we just can't seem to overcome any negative plays or setbacks on offense," he said. "We have to start being able to do that in order to turn things around."

Turning things around this week will be a monstrosity task for the Rams, who must travel to Greenway Avenue Stadium in Cumberland to take on Fort Hill. The Sentinels, whose history includes a number of state 2A championships, are currently 6-2 this season.

Coach Barry Lattimer's wing-T offense is led by a tandem of backs in fifth-year senior fullback Joel Fradiska (5-10, 190) and sophomore halfback Andre Pope (6-0, 195).

"These guys are both excellent backs," Gregg said. "They have both power and speed, and they are running behind a fundamentally sound line as we have seen. Their line, on both sides of the ball, plays almost flawlessly."

The Sentinels' 6-2 defensive unit is spearheaded by Fradiska and senior Colby LaRue (6-2, 206) at line-backer positions.

When asked what a coach says to a team that has struggled so much and is now going up against a squad the caliber of Fort Hill, Gregg said, "Just go out and have fun."

He continued, "Obviously we plan to be prepared and to play as hard as we can. But there is absolutely no pressure on us. We're not going to try a lot of fancy things, but will try to stick to the things we can do well. If we play up to our

DeWitt Powers Ram Jayvees Over Huskies

Another outstanding rushing/scoring performance by Brett DeWitt powered the Southern High School junior varsity to a convincing 36-0 victory over host Northern last Thursday.

DeWitt, who is described by Coach Jim Bosley as "the best running back I've coached in my 13 years of jayvee work," rushed for 198 yards and four touchdowns on just nine carries, an average of over 20 yards per carry.

For the seven-game season, DeWitt has amassed 1,158 yards on 153 carries, which translates to just over 7.5 yards per attempt.

DeWitt, a 6-0, 165-pound freshman, capped the Rams' first drive of the game against the Huskies with a two-yard touchdown run, and also ran for the two-point conversion to make it 8-0.

On the first play of the Rams' second possession, DeWitt broke loose for an 81-yard touchdown run. Quarterback Brad Reese connected with Chris Miller for the two-point conversion.

DeWitt concluded the Rams' next drive, still in the first quarter, with a four-yard TD run, and again ran for the extra two points to give Southern a commanding 24-0 advantage.

A two-yard touchdown run by Scott Wildesen in the second quarter, followed by a three-yard scoring run by Billy Whitacre (both extra-point kicks missed) gave the Rams their 36-0 lead at halftime.

The entire second half was scoreless defense.

Southern concluded its season with a 3-4 record, while the Huskies fell to 2-6.

Huskies Slog Through 36-24 Loss At Petersburg In Muddy Slugfest

Despite dealing with a long bus ride, a cold and driving rain, and field conditions more suited to a barnyard than a football game, the Northern High School varsity gridders held tough against host Petersburg before falling by a 36-24 margin.

"Both teams had to deal with the mud, but it was definitely the sloppiest field we've ever had to play on," NHS skipper Phil Carr commented. "It gave an advantage to Petersburg's Wing-T offense, because their running backs knew where they were going and we had to figure out how to get there to make the tackles."

The Vikings' Ben Vance, one of the better running backs in the area, led the Huskies on many a chase as he rolled up 254 rushing yards and four touchdowns. In staking the hosts to an early 21-0 lead, Vance reeled off scoring runs of 19 and 18 yards in the first quarter, and a 37-yard touchdown carry at the 11:15 mark of the second stanza. A pair of Northern fumbles in the backfield helped spark two of those scores.

After the Vikes' third touchdown, Andrew Frantz, the Huskies' usual starting quarterback, was summoned to duty to replace Robert Stark. Despite playing with a hip pointer, Frantz gave his offense a lift as the unit turned in an impressive 65-yard, 12-play scoring drive. The march included a big pass play from Frantz to Corey Fike, and Mike Wolf capped the drive with a four-yard touchdown run; however, on the ensuing possession the hosts turned in a scoring drive of their own, which was capped by a 17-yard touchdown run by Sean Daugherty.

Northern's offense refused to go down without a fight, and, after a 35-yard kickoff return by Steve Snyder, embarked on its second straight touchdown drive. A 25-yard halfback option pass from Aaron Mitchell to Rocco Andres put the Huskies inside the PHS 10-yard line. Frantz soon found the end zone on a two-yard quarterback sneak, making the score 28-14.

on the following kickoff, Vance fumbled the ball when an unidentified Husky laid a stunning hit on the Viking returner. Jordan Brenneman recovered the loose pigskin on the Petersburg 30, and subsequent pass interference call in the end zone on a third-and-eight play gave NHS the ball in a first-and-goal situation. The Huskies capitalized when Wolf scored with 30 seconds to go in the half, pulling NHS within striking distance as a slim 28-24 margin separated the combatants during the intermission.

"During the halftime break we told our defense that they'd have to step it up to give us a chance," Carr said. "We challenged their toughness, aggressiveness, and desire, and they responded and came out to play a great second half."

Frantz, playing in the NHS defensive secondary, helped the defense rise to the occasion when he picked off a Viking pass early in the third quarter. Although the Northern offense was stuffed on a four-and-one at midfield, the Husky defense put in another clutch showing that saved a touchdown. On a fourth-and-goal play at the three-yard line, Mitchell and Wolf combined on a big hit to quash a golden scoring opportunity for PHS.

Northern's offense went to work and chewed up the field and the clock on a superb ball-control drive that moved the chains 75 yards to the Vikings' 23-yard line; however, the drive stalled at the 5:15 mark of the third quarter when Petersburg rose up and stopped NHS on a fourth down play.

The game's final score came at the 3:17 mark of the fourth quarter, when, on a fourth-and-one, Vance foiled a perfectly-aligned defense to take off on a 42-yard touchdown run. "We had him in our grasp, but couldn't bring him down," Carr commented. "Arm tackling is never going to stop a good, strong runner like Vance. Still, our defense really picked up its play in the second half, and turned in a fine performance that we need to build on."

NHS gained an impressive 192 yards on the ground, and Stark recorded two catches for 35 yards and Wolf hauled in three

The Northern High School junior varsity football squad concluded its season Monday night with a 21-6 loss at the hands of the Beall Mountaineers. NHS got on the board first when Eric Diehl carried the ball into the end zone from one yard out. Beall followed with three straight rushing touchdowns, two by John Brant and one by Josh Harper.

An open letter to the citizens of Garrett County
from David J. Martin, candidate for Sheriff of

Dear Citizen,

As the time approaches when we have the opportunity to exercise our Constitutional right to vote, I am expressing my thanks for the kind words of encouragement offered to me from so many. Your openness to present your concerns and suggestions was an indication of the partnership needed between you and the police agencies that serve and protect you.

I remind you that the Constitution of the United States of America begins, "We the people of the United States in order to form a more perfect union..." not "we the government of the United States." The next phrase is "establish justice," which is the rule of law without which civilization does not exist. Next, the founding fathers dealt with the enforcement of the rule of law with the phrase, "ensure domestic tranquility" placing a sacred responsibility on some members of society to stand in harms way to protect others within the society. It is the leadership of that County responsibility for which I am a candidate.

I have presented my position on matters of concern such as, why does it take so long for a response for help, what will you do about the continuing rise in drug abuse within the County, will you be more available to us, and what qualifications do you have for the job? The office of Sheriff is primarily one of corporate leadership requiring attention to budgets, administering personnel and their assignments, and being available to the citizens the Department protects. From this administrative position I will allow the Department's personnel to grow rapidly in their positions and encourage their decision-making abilities. My confidence in them is apparent. Together with the field force we will analyze and develop strategies that will achieve the ultimate goal of the Department, the protection of Garrett County's citizens.

As you make your choice for the honor of my entering the office of Sheriff, consider your needs and rest assured, I am determined to meet those needs. As your Sheriff, my mission statement is as follows:

MISSION STATEMENT FOR DAVID MARTIN:

As Sheriff,

I am dedicated to protecting and serving all citizens of Garrett County. I am administering the office of Sheriff, monitoring the enforcement of the laws of the State of Maryland, and am developing an effective anti-drug program. I am encouraging the Sheriff's Deputies to facilitate "Rapid Response" throughout the County by assigning assets as needed based on known unlawful activity trends. I am truly available to all citizens of Garrett County. I am encouraging cooperation with other law enforcement agencies and encouraging citizens, churches, schools, and businesses to partner with each other and as well as with the Sheriff's Department to assist in creating a safe and enjoyable place for all to live. I am developing community relations through active moral leadership and providing police procedure training for interested citizens who want to know and understand the law enforcement challenge and who want to be proactive in the fight against unlawful behavior in Garrett County.

Finally, I thank my opponent for choosing the high road as we made our individual quests for the office of Sheriff.

Ram Golfers Roll To Fifth-Place Finish In Md. Tourney

An outstanding golf season was capped with an outstanding state showing as the Southern High School golf team captured fifth place in a field of dozens of competitors in the combined Class 1A/2A Maryland State High School Golf Tournament. Perhaps even more impressive was the Rams' 12th-place finish in the entire state rankings of all four combined classes. The 18-hole championship match took place Monday at the Clustered Spire Country Club in Frederick.

The Rams recorded a team tourney score of 344, as Travis Friend and Matt Skidmore both shot 78s to tie for 11th place in the individual standings. Both golfers just missed earning all-state honors, which were bestowed to the top 10 individual scorers. Rounding out the fine SHS team showing were Nathan Swartzentruber's 89 and Natalie Winter's 101.

The top 1A/2A team was a 319 turned in by James Bennett High, while Smithsburg shot a 328, Pikesville turned in a 331, and Bethesda carded a 340. Churchill took the 3A/4A crown with a 307.

"We're very pleased with our play," Southern head coach Jeff Friend commented. "We met all the goals we set for the kids at the start of the season: we wanted to repeat as WMIL champs; we wanted to win the region tournament; and we wanted to improve on our last-place finish in last year's state tournament."

"Our golfers play competitive golf all year," the coach said as he explained the squad's successes. "They play on a competitive summer tour, against good competition. Playing competitive golf forces you to get better, it's much more productive than just going out and shooting rounds on your own."

"We'd like to thank the Oakland Golf Club and the Ladies' Golf Association for all their support for our players, and we're planning to work to be even better next year," Friend concluded. Southern finished its season at 50-12.

Service Club Hoop Try-Outs Slated At SHS

The Oakland Service Club Basketball League is set to begin its ninth year of operation next week with team tryouts at the Southern High School gymnasium. The basketball league currently has 12 teams competing in three different divisions, with over 150 participating youth, and an expansion of the girls' division is being planned. (See below.)

Tryouts for the boys' 5th and 6th grade division and the boys' 7th and 8th grade division are set for 6:30-8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 6, and the girls' division tryouts are slated for 6:30-8 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 7. Make-up tryouts for any of the three divisions will take place at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at SHS. The players' draft will take place that same evening after the last try-out.

The girls' division is in the process of adding between two and four new teams, and adding another new division. "The interest in the girls' division has been expanding each year and now is a good time to expand," stated Paul Pacella, director of the Service Club league. Pacella, who also serves as assistant basketball coach at Southern High, is replacing Dave Bender as league director. Bender held the post for the past eight seasons.

The planned girls' division expansion will necessitate the need for additional assistance from volunteers, and those interested in assisting are asked to contact Ken Witte at 301-334-6991. "The Service Club is a tremendous opportunity for our youth to participate in a quality basketball league," Pacella said. "Dave Bender has done a fabulous job of starting and building up the league."

Ram Netters Down Northern; Drop 3-2 Squeaker To Falcons

The Southern High School varsity volleyball team split a pair of matches this week, defeating Northern last Thursday, Oct. 24, before being narrowly edged by Frankfort Monday night in a pitched battle. Last night's scheduled regular season closer at home was canceled because of weather-related problems, but rescheduling info was not available.

Last Thursday, the Rams took a handy 3-1 victory over visiting Northern. After the Huskies led off the match with a 15-11 victory, SHS roared back to claim the next three 15-10, 15-1, and 15-8.

For the Rams, Kristen Rollman handed out 16 assists, Jess Sharon and Alexis Storey netted nine and eight kills, respectively, and Stephanie Niner contributed nine assists. Mary Beth Hersberger paced the Huskies with 11 attacks, 14 points, and two aces. Tabitha Beitzel recorded seven service points and Amanda Frantz finished with 10 attacks and three kills.

SHS downed NHS in the junior varsity match 2-1.

Monday night's home-court match pitted a powerful Frankfort squad that brought 21 wins into Oakland. The visitors handed the Rams their third loss of the year, and SHS's only five-game defeat.

The Falcons took the first match 15-11 before the Rams rebounded to grab the next two 15-13 and 15-11, 15-10, to take the match. SHS's Stephanie Niner had 24 service points, three aces, and 13 assists. Julia Bosley recorded 10 kills, Jess Sharon had nine kills, and Alexis Storey contributed eight kills. Rollman led in assists.

Frankfort was paced by a 16-service point service effort by Megan Bush that included four aces. Bush also recorded 50 assists, 10 kills, and 21 digs, while Falcon teammate Sarah Park had 22 kills and four blocks.

After losing its opener, 15-11, Southern's JV came back to take its match 15-7, 15-3. The Ram jayvees improved their record to an outstanding 13-1.

Playoff Seedings

The week's action gives Southern an 11-3 record heading into the opening round of the Class 1A West Region playoffs. The Rams are slated to open at home Monday evening as the Allegany Campers visit. Northern will host Beall the same evening.

"We're excited about starting the post-season," SHS head coach Sue Newton commented. "The team has really come together and is playing well. Although we lost to Frankfort, it was still a hard-fought match against a tough opponent that would be a 2A school in Maryland. We've met two of our goals so far this season: to finish first or second in the region, and to put together the best record in Southern history. Now we're ready to buckle down and go after the region championship. The girls have worked hard, and we like our chances."

Should SHS defeat Allegany Monday, the Rams will move on to the region semifinals on Wednesday. If Clear Spring upsets favored Hancock in its first-round match, Southern will play at Clear Spring that night. If Hancock prevails in Round One, the Rams will host the Panthers in the semis.

The top team in the region, 13-1 Williamsport, is in the other bracket, and if NHS downs Beall in Monday's opener, the Huskies will be taking on either Westmar or Williamsport on Wednesday.

DNR Completes Trout Stocking

Last week the Maryland Department of Natural Resources completed its fall trout stocking program, during which over 33,000 adult rainbow trout were stocked into 48 areas in 15 counties. The stocked trout were a mix of 21,000 "very nice" 2-year-olds averaging 3/4 pound each, according to Fisheries Service director Eric Schwaab, and 12,000 smaller yearlings averaging 7 to 9 inches.

Garrett County waterways received the following numbers of trout during the recent stockings: Piney Reservoir, 500; Youghiogheny River, 750; North Branch of the Potomac River (Barnum), 1,000; North Branch (Delayed Harvest Area), 500; and Casselman River (Delayed Harvest Area) 450.

"Unlike our spring trout stocking schedule, areas stocked with fall trout are not affected by closures, and anglers may fish immediately after fall trout are stocked," said Schwaab. A freshwater fishing license and trout stamp are required to keep trout in Maryland and to fish any special trout management area. The daily limit for trout in put-and-take areas is five per day except for areas noted as two per day.

For further information, persons may contact the Fisheries Services office at Mt. Nebo at 301-334-8128.

Huskies Slog

Northern visits Westmar tomorrow night in a 7:30 p.m. showdown. The Wildcats have turned in two impressive outings of late, Westmar played top-ranked Allegany tough, losing by a slim 10-6 tally, then the 'Cats went into turkey season strong and crushed the Turkeyfoot Rams last week by a big margin. Westmar will be throwing a new wrinkle at the Huskies defense as longtime starting quarterback Bobby Alkire, who is nursing a minor shoulder injury, has been moved to running back, switching places with Dan Duncan. The move hasn't hurt the Wildcat offense, however, as Westmar rolled up over 40 points against Turkeyfoot last Friday.

"Overall, we match up pretty well with Westmar," said Carr. "Our offense played Petersburg well from the second quarter through the fourth quarter, and our defense had an outstanding second half. If we keep the ball rolling like that, we can win this one."

Limit Changes

According to Police, the average speeds at the New Germany locations were 51, 56, and 57 m.p.h. The average speed on Chestnut Ridge was 55 m.p.h. The 85th percentile of the averages was then used to determine a speed limit of 50 m.p.h. Police said the state recognizes the 85th percent-tile as the standard in determining speed limits.

Accident reports pertaining to New Germany and Chestnut Ridge for the last two years were also examined. According to Police, none of the accidents were because of defects in the roads. The superintendent noted that the roads were at least 23 feet wide, had adequate shoulders, and had clearly marked signs indicating the curves.

Police, therefore, recommended — based on the traffic study, the accident reports, and the condition of the roads — that their speed limits be set at 50 m.p.h.

The commissioners unanimously voted in favor of setting the limit for the entire length of New Germany at 50 m.p.h. Commissioner Ernie Gregg said Mike Gregory, superintendent of New Germany State Park, had written a letter to the commissioners opposing an increase in the limit on New Germany Road, which runs through the park.

Gregg noted that Department of Natural Resources Police have the authority to issue traffic citations to motorists traveling on roads that run through state property.

Commissioners Wendell Beitzel and Gregg also voted in favor of the increase for Chestnut Ridge. Commissioner Fred Holliday, however, was opposed to increasing the speed limit on Chestnut Ridge because several farms along that road have cattle and equipment crossings.

"I don't feel it's safe [to raise the limit to 50

m.p.h.]," he said. "We just raised it from 35 to 45. I had a lot of complaints on that."

Roads department crews will probably erect the new speed limit signs along the roads as soon as they finish dealing with the aftermath of this week's ice storm, said Monty Pagenhardt, county administrator.

A message to the voters of Garrett County from County Commissioner Fred Holliday

On November 5, voters across the county will go to the polls to cast their votes for a number of elected offices. As the current Republican commissioner in District 2, I am asking for your support on Election Day to help ensure that Garrett County will continue the substantial progress we have experienced during the past four years.

As your county commissioner, during my first term in office, I supported a number of improvements to better the lives of all Garrett Countians. Among these accomplishments were:

- EDUCATION: A 32% increase in the county's support of education enabled us to provide new gymnasiums at Northern and Southern High Schools, provide funding for a state-of-the-art planetarium, meet the Governor's challenge for providing competitive salaries to our teachers, and develop the "Garrett Computer Adoption Project" which provides computers in the homes of school age children.
- COUNTY ROADS: The county's annual paving program of 50 to 60 miles of county roads per year and our bridge maintenance efforts were continued at reduced costs by using our county roads' employees for paving and bridge building projects.
- AGRICULTURE: I continue my commitment to the needs of our agricultural community by supporting the County's "Right to Farm" ordinance and through the continuation of tax abatements for agricultural preservation. New initiatives such as the Rural Legacy Program and the hiring of an agricultural specialist, will provide even greater opportunities for our farming communities.
- ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT: Our county is now benefiting from its lowest unemployment rate in recent history. Garrett County has attracted hundreds of new jobs in the past four years and has developed its Industrial Parks to accommodate even more companies that will provide a competitive salary and benefit package.

The office of County Commissioner requires a full time commitment from leaders who have not only the desire but the experience in addressing the needs of our residents. To keep that level of commitment and dedication in county government, I would appreciate your vote for Fred Holliday, County Commissioner in District 2, on November 5.

RE-ELECT FRED HOLLIDAY

Your FULL-TIME County Commissioner

"Every issue has two sides. I will consider every point of view honestly and fairly and vote in the best interest of Garrett County".

ELEVATION WAS ONE OF THE PROBLEMS for several areas of the county this week, as the temperatures at places like Meadow Mountain were just cold enough to freeze over one inch of rain that began Tuesday and continued almost non-stop through Thursday. Lower areas of the county were spared the extensive ice damage that forced the closure of county schools and many roads.

Storm Wreaks

various schools are playing a part in the closures, the main concern is the condition of the roadways.

"It is against the law to operate a school bus under low-hanging power lines," the spokesperson said. "And we have a lot of those."

The Garrett County Roads Department staff has been working around the clock to clear trees from roadways, but because the temperature has hovered around freezing since Tuesday afternoon, the trees are continuing to fall.

"We no sooner get one area taken care of when we have to turn around and go back to the same place because another tree has come down," said Wendy Berry at the roads department. The utility companies are experiencing the same setbacks. While the county roads workers are responsible for clearing the streets of debris, they cannot touch areas where power lines are involved. This is the responsibility of the power company. Crews from the utility service have also been working around the clock.

While some electricity service was restored yesterday, more was disrupted in the night, according to reports. In some areas, more ice and snow arrived over the last 24 hours, while in other places, the temperature did rise above freezing. The effect of the rising temperature can also cause power outages, as the ice falls from a power line and causes it to snap forcefully upwards.

Officials have noted that the time of year has complicated the situation because some species of trees are still covered with leaves. This means there is more area for the ice to cover, which increases the weight on the limbs. At the higher elevations during the height of the storm, the sounds of breaking trees and their impact on the ground could be heard every few seconds.

The weather forecast does not promise much of an improvement in the situation on the mountain-top, as the temperatures are to remain in the 30s for the next several days, and snowfall is predicted for Friday and Saturday. The temperature today was expected to rise to the lower 40s, but at press time, the temperature at Garrett College in McHenry was 30.7°.

"I was hoping we might get a break today and that the temperatures might go up more, but it doesn't look like that's going to happen," Frantz said.

Frantz's office has been busy with calls stemming from the storm, beginning Tuesday afternoon with trees in the roadways, and then, later that evening, several reports of electric transformers on fire and utility poles breaking.

As of this morning, only one road is officially closed, according to Berry at the roads department. This road is New Germany, which is reportedly littered with fallen trees. As many as 34 additional roads are affected by fallen trees or downed power lines.

In the Oakland area, the followed roads have been impacted by the storm: Bethlehem, North Hill, Upperman, Eagle Rock, Swanton Hill, Walnut Bottom, Mt. Zion, Mt. Zion Crosscut, Steiding Church, Green Glade, Boy Scout, Paradise Point, Glendale, Beckman's Peninsula, Harvey's Peninsula, and North Glade.

In the Accident area, affected roads are Rock Lodge, Bumble Bee, State Park, Bowman Hill, Frank Brenneman, Dung Hill, Foxtown, Beachy, Orendorf, and Leeger.

In the Grantsville area: Amish, Avilton Lonaconing, Durst, Michael, Westport, Piney Run, Poca-hontas, and West Fintel. All drivers should use

LIONS UNMASK DONATION TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY — The Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club contributed $500 to the Garrett County Historical Society at a recent meeting where the club hosted GCHS president Robert Boal, who presented updates on society plans for Daley Park and the replication of the Deer Park Hotel cupola for the top of the museum building. Boal, center, is shown accepting the donation check and a certificate of appreciation as he is flanked by Lions Luther Parrack, Mark Marucci, Lowell Echelberger, Robert Stockslager, Elmer Redinger, and Malvern Moseley.

"As always, our roads department, the power company, and all the fire department volunteers have responded well to this emergency," Frantz said. "Everyone is out there working to get things back to normal."

Homecoming Set At Pa. Church Of The Nazarene

A homecoming service will be held at the Confluence (Pa.) Church of the Nazarene on Sunday, November 3. The Satterfield family from DuBoise, Pa., will present the program.

During the 9:30 a.m. service, the Satterfields will present a puppet ministry and songs. During the 10:30 a.m. worship service, they will conduct a gospel concert. The public is invited to attend.

For additional information, persons may call Pastor Ron Schaeffer at 814-395-3639.

SWANTON

A Holiday Open House and Craft Show will be held this Saturday, Nov. 2, from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Swanton Community Center. Hand-crafted items, ornaments, angels, snowmen, and baked goods will be available for purchase. A door prize will be given away every 1/2-hour.

THERE IS MUCH BEAUTY, but also extensive destruction, resulting from this week's ice storm, an event that has forced the Garrett County Board of Education to use up its allotment of three snow days for the 2002-03 school year six weeks before winter officially begins. This shot was taken along Gorman Road (Rt. 560), near the Bethlehem area, which was one of the hardest hit in the county.

said a governor's press office spokesperson. "These programs support a wide range of activities, including assistance to homeowners to improve their homes; the purchase, demolition, and redevelopment of blighted properties; improving crumbling neighborhood streets; and funding of mixed-use projects that are becoming the hallmark of in-town investments across the nation."

Locally, Garrett County's eight incorporated municipalities — Oakland, Mtn. Lake Park, Loch Lynn, Deer Park, Kitzmiller, Accident, Friendsville, and Grantsville — will use the funding to complete various Community Legacy plans.

Additionally, Loch Lynn, in conjunction with Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., will also receive monies to help fund a planning and feasibility study of the old Loch Lynn Elementary School to determine its future as a community center.

The Community Legacy program was approved by the General Assembly in 2001 as another component of the governor's nationally recognized Smart Growth initiative. The goal of Smart Growth is to support and enhance existing communities by targeting state resources in areas where infrastructure is already in place to support development.

To be eligible for funding under Community Legacy, communities must be located in priority funding areas; demonstrate evidence of decline, such as decreasing home ownership rates or increasing commercial vacancy; and demonstrate efforts to strengthen the community through partnerships with local banks, businesses, educational institutions or cultural organizations.

The 70 applicants were evaluated by eight teams of employees from the Department of Housing and Community Development, which is administering the Community Legacy program, and other state agencies. The recommendations were then approved by the five-member Community Legacy Board, which includes five cabinet secretaries, according to the spokesperson.

HANSEL AND GRETEL? No, it's Maxie and Gretel, and they're looking for homes. Maxie, above, is a 20-pound mixed breed. She is described as very active and would make a great walking companion for someone. Gretel, below, is a 7-month-old German shepherd/colle mix. She is a little shy at first with strangers, but has a great disposition. "She would make a great companion pet for a nice quiet household," said Candy Virto of the Garrett County Animal Shelter. For more information about adopting these dogs, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553.

Farewell Event Slated For Crowes

LINN AND JOHN CROWE

A send-off service for Rev. John and Linn Crowe of Mtn. Lake Park, who are moving to Cairo, Egypt, is slated for 7 p.m. this Sunday, Nov. 3, at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, located across from Southern High School. The public is invited to attend the event, which will recognize the couple as they prepare to leave the United States on Nov. 19.

Crowe will serve as pastor of Cairo's Heliopolis Community Church, an international and interdenominational English-speaking church of about 250 members. The predominantly Muslim Egyptian capital city of 16 million people has a number of English-speaking residents.

Crowe pastored with the Christian and Missionary Alliance for seven years in Charlotte, N.C., before serving in Portugal for 12 years with the TEAM organization. He then pastored the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren in Eglen, W. Va., until his parents began needing more care. After his parents were admitted to Dennett Road Manor nursing home, Crowe began serving as interim pastor at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren in Accident.

The Crowes have three adult children, Ashley, Andrew, and Julie.

A GOOD EXAMPLE of how dangerous traveling is in the local area is pictured here, as one driver makes his way through debris and passes by limbs ready to drop. While the storm has caused a number of problems, no related injuries have been reported as of this morning, according to the county emergency management office.

However, as the adverse weather continues, drivers should be aware of the dangerous conditions and should use adequate caution. See story for details, and additional photographs.

a shot of Guthrie Lane, which is just off U.S. Rt. 40 near Grantsville. As of this morning, the only road still closed is New Germany Road; however, drivers are urged to also avoid or use extreme caution on 34 other roads (see story for complete list).

Health Department's Environmental Health Services so far this year has conducted 240 perk tests, according to Steve Sherrard. The director said 170 tests were conducted during the same period last year.

The number of well tests completed this year is 277, which is almost the same as last year's number, he said.

Sherrard noted that submitting birds to be tested for the West Nile virus was a new issue this year. Of the 66 birds submitted by county residents, two were found to be positive for the virus. Statewide, 1,600 birds had been tested, with 600 being found positive. The director added that there were also 23 human cases of the virus in the state.

Sherrard said the mosquito population will die back soon because of the winter weather. He noted, however, that birds are the actual hosts for the virus, and mosquitoes spread the virus.

Western Md. Consortium
John Wynn, Western Maryland Consortium director, reported on data for July through September. Wynn said 20 trainees had found employment through his agency. Their wages now range from $5.25 to $18.75 an hour, with the average being $10.25. Wynn noted that the increase in wages was up from the last two or three quarters.

"Skill training prior to employment is making a difference," he said about the reason for the wage increase.

Emergency Management
Emergency Management director Brad Frantz reported the department had received a $21,000 grant to purchase 10 or 11 automatic defibrillators. The department will distribute them to certain fire departments, emergency personnel, senior centers, and schools. The Deep Creek Lake State Park will also receive one.

"Auto defibrillators are known to have a direct effect on someone in cardiac arrest," said Frantz.

He noted that because the grant required no local match, the devices did not cost the county any money. County Roads Department
All but 2½ miles of the Garrett County Roads Department's 2002 paving project has been completed, reported superintendent Fred Polce. The paving crew finished nearly 55 miles of county roads this year. The final phase of the project will be completed in early spring.

Police added that work on the Accident/Bear Creek bridge had been completed. Work on the bridge at Gorman will begin next week.

"Not Drastically Longest-Lasting Trucks on the Road"

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Sussman

As Election day approaches, I am glad that I don't live in Pennsylvania. Since our local television channels are from Pennsylvania we have to endure their political commercials featuring mud wrestling or just plain mud slinging in the governor's race. It has never seemed a good strategy to me to make the electors feel like disaster will strike if either of the candidates win. The commercials make me wonder if either can be truthful. I think the most annoying is the new Fisher ad, "I would take Clemente over Bond over Grentzel, 1970 Steelers over everyone, and a Pittsburgh sandwich over a Philly steak-cheese sandwich." He doesn't say if either Clemente or Bond would pick him. Who wouldn't pick the 1970 Steelers over any other football team? It just seems to me to be mindless campaigning. I think that we should demand campaigning around truly debatable issues. Are we really as stupid as the candidates treat us? It is hard in the future years of their service to not lose confidence with our elected officials when you remember what was said about them during elections.

It always seemed simpler to me in Garrett County growing up to vote in the statewide elections. You either voted for a donkey or an elephant, which made it easy to vote either purely Republican or Democrat. As for the local election, probably most people do the same as I do. Most of the time I vote for someone I personally know and who have given me a favorable impression. So, Fred Holiday and Ernie Gregg will get at least one vote in Bittinger. That goes for Kathleen Kennedy Townsend, too, along with probably a handful of others in Bittinger for her. Sometimes I feel surrounded by a large herd of elephants here in Bittinger. I only know of a few other spunky donkeys who live around here.

I was overcome by curiosity about a sign at the end of Durst Road that said "MUM." I used to buy some mums from the mum farm in Grantsville. I had no idea that we had a mum farm so close to Bittinger. I had a lovely shopping experience, and the mum farmer was an old acquaintance from my growing-up years, Karen Shawley-Cleaver. Although we were members of the same church, rode the same bus, and attended the same 4-H club, I just watched her from afar because she was a teenager and I was just a kid. My most powerful memory of her was when I was 9-years-old and in my first year of 4-H. Karen and I had a tense duel for Grand Champion 4-H dairy cow. She showed a beautiful full-grown cow, and I showed a yearling with no udder yet. The odds were on her side. But the judge took many minutes in deciding. He moved us around and around and kept stopping to set up and pose. I am not sure what the problem was with her cow's hocks, but it was enough to allow my heifer and me to win the big purple ribbon. This was during a time when I coveted ribbons, well before Joey and I won many during our horse showing experience. But I will always remember that my first three-streamer ribbon with a rosette came for my cow.

Anyway, back to mums. I went a long way down on Durst Road. It had been a long time, probably not since I was on a 4-H hayride that I had been on that road. It was beautiful as I descended from the woods and looked across the big wide valley. I finally reached the mum farm and found out that I was still in luck, and even though it was late in the season and the first frost had nipped the blossoms a little bit, I even got a buy one, get one free deal. I also found a bonus in some great red leaves from a large oak tree.

It is almost terrifying the way that the fall is accelerating towards winter. The thermometer has seemed to have dropped off a cliff. I enjoyed what I assume to be my last fresh tomatoes on a dinner sandwich a few days ago. I still have a few green ones on the vine, but I doubt we will get enough warmth or sunshine to ripen them. What did I expect? A growing season which extends to almost November in Bittinger? Let's face the truth, generally the frost-free period 99 percent of the time here is between Memorial Day and Labor Day if we are lucky.

Last week I wrote that my shade tree is not yet in peak color. Well, now it has shades which range from pink to a pretty yellow. Its leaves will all fall soon. One bright side of the cold weather is that it reduces or even eliminates any threat of West Nile virus. I doubt it will fare well in a Bittinger winter. Even though we are below the Mason-Dixon line and technically in the south, we get real Yankee weather here.

I am trying to keep fall alive by working on one more doll with the yellow leaf. Her gown is mainly made from the butter-soft yellow leaves of a soft vine. I tried several times to start that vine in my flower bed beside my deck, but so far have had no luck. It has the most beautiful foliage, plus some really cool seed pods. I first discovered this vine when Claire was in the third grade and had a big science project that involved a seed collection. I enjoyed helping her find what seemed like a hundred seeds, and the more unusual the wild seed, the better. But even to all the experts on wild plants that I know, this plant is a mystery. Olive Bender said that she thought that it was wild buckwheat.

Last winter I got in big trouble with a vine loaded with butterfly-shaped seedpods. I tried to get some of them, but the side of the road was pretty deep with wet snow, and of course, I got stuck. I had to call my family to pull me out. Rodney asked, "How did she ever even see those?" I don't understand how people don't see the things I see every day.

I am sure everyone noticed how night came so early this evening (first sunset after the time change). It felt like I was covered with a thick, black, wet fleece blanket at 6 o'clock. I wonder whether I can stay up for the whole seventh game tonight. I hope the Giants rack up about a 10-run lead by the fifth-inning, so that I can get to bed at a decent hour. Of course, last night the Angels were able to somehow find their way back big time in the latter innings. Anyway, we have had enough sport excitement with the excellent victory of the Steelers over the Baltimore Ravens today.

Today my phone had a relapse into its strange illness. It is just dead, and when you call in you get an endless busy signal. A couple of days last week it acted the same way, but then seemed to heal itself somehow. It just fixed itself an hour ago, and I tried to make a phone call that I had wanted to make all day, but as soon as it fixed itself my Meme jumped on the internet, so I don't know when I will have a chance to call the Southerly family and get the big scoop on the game in Morgantown yesterday. I know Bill would have loved to have been there. They almost pulled it off. I was totally with WVU fans on this game. I almost felt as disappointed as I know they did. So if I can reach Bill this evening he can hear a sympathetic word on what happened today, instead of what I said to him a couple of weeks ago, which was "Terps rule!" I kinda hated to see a new middle linebacker break an old record belonging to Randy White. It's hard to watch new stars replace old ones from my past. Today a running back named Emmitt Smith passed Walter Payton on yards rushing. It seems everyone is talking about Bonds, and comparing him to Saint Roberto. No matter how many homers he will hit, it is still unlikely that he could fill those giant footprints.

Sad to say, but the only home team from Bittinger lost the World Series. But then, only one family from Bittinger that I know of claim the Giants as their home team. Lesa, Greg and Maddy Whittemore had a ball being part of the home crowd at the Giants' Park in San Francisco. Lesa was lucky enough to see Bonds hit a monster home run, and Greg almost caught a foul ball.

Because I was away from Bittinger so many times to many different places, I often encounter my past lives on the morning news. For example, when the World Trade Center turned into a pile of rubble I felt especially horrified because I once lived only a few blocks from there. Today a review of a new book about Saturday Night Live took me back to my days in New York. I was lucky enough to have had a chance to be a part of the glorious early days of that landmark show. I got the chance because of someone I once knew in Garrett County, Sheila

Kehoe was a member of Theatre Five, which was based in Friendsville. Years later she was a primary assistant of the costume designer for Saturday Night Live. Actually, several members of Theatre Five went on to big roles in big time show business. Remember the "A-Team?" An actor from that show was there. And now, another actor, Charles Hall, is very busy with rehearsals for the big Christmas Show at Radio City Music Hall as Santa Claus! Although he is too slim for that role, his voice and comic talent, along with some heavy padding, has enabled him to be a big hit. I haven't seen the show, but Ellen Housely did a few years ago. My mom and daughters caught it, too.

Sometimes it seems like nothing goes on around here. But that was not the case last Friday evening! With a Halloween social at both Accident Elementary and Grantsville Elementary, and a big Halloween dance at Northern Middle School, the choices were almost too many. Mere took off to the dance, and Caitlin did an early shift at her Bittinger 4-H buckwheat cake dinner.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS OUT

Knowing what people want out of County Government is the reason that I want a chance to serve in the County Government. "The people wants" requires a good listener and then a good common sense Commissioner to do what they request for the County.

I hope you can hear me now!

It will be one of my duties to keep the Taxpayers informed as to where their Tax Dollars are going and what is going on in the Meetings of the Commissioners and listening to you and your needs.

Again I would like to say, "I really don't feel we need more Zoning." Zoning is Control and that means Government Control, we have enough Government Control in our lives now and we sure don't need more.

It is time for a real caring Commissioner that is willing to give people the vote and willing to put the Taxes where it benefits the most citizens and to get issues moving and allow the people to know what is going on. The people have a right to know and I am the one to do just that.

I hope you can hear me now!

What is needed in the County is someone that has lived here all their lives and not afraid to speak up and tell the Truth, no political answers, no friendships, no secret meetings, now back scratching and no cliques. Just fairness to the Taxpayers and the hard working people of Garrett County like myself.

Allow me to work to gain your trust!!

I hope you can hear me now!

I hope you will vote for me now!

GOP WOMEN WELCOME SPEAKER - The Southern Republican Women's Club welcomed guest speaker Betty Jane Carroll to its September meeting. Fog Causes Two Accidents On Backbone Mtn.

Heavy fog and low visibility were blamed for two mishaps around 10:30 a.m. on Friday on state Route 135, Backbone Mountain, between Walnut Bottom Road and Chestnut Road, according to Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Four people were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and released.

The first accident involved a Tri-County Harwood logging truck, operated by Otis Sisler, that entered Route 135 and was rear-ended by a 2000 Dodge Neon, driven by Angela Corby.

The second accident involved three vehicles and occurred at the same location. A logging truck, owned by Grizzly Trucking Company and operated by Ronald McCrobie, was stopped for the first accident, when a 1995 Dodge Ram truck, driven by Dennis Warrick II, rear-ended the logging truck. A third vehicle, a 1985 Chevy van operated by James Kountz, rear-ended the Dodge truck.

In other police news, Shawn David Smith, 20, Kitzmiller, was remanded on $10,000 bond Saturday after he was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, according to police.

Smith was also charged with driving under the influence (DUI), driving while impaired (DWI), exceeding the maximum speed limit, failure to drive right of center, violation of a license restriction, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Smith's vehicle was stopped early Saturday morning along Route 560 near Gorman when a deputy observed him speeding and crossing the center line.

After failing field sobriety tests, Smith was arrested. In another incident, an Oakland man and a Preston County, W.Va., man were hospitalized for injuries after their vehicle traveled out of control while they were attempting to elude deputies Thursday night.

Harold Ernest Dillsworth, 37, Oakland, and Jamie Arthur Dillsworth, 27, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va., were admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. A deputy attempted to stop the 1991 Chevy Cavalier traveling southbound on Garrett Highway at Ben DeWitt road. The suspects traveled into Tucker County before Dillsworth lost control of the vehicle on a dirt road off Ford Leadmine Road.

The car traveled down a steep embankment, struck a large pine tree, and trapped the occupants until emergency personnel could remove them.

The investigation is continuing, and charges are pending against the driver, Harold Dillsworth.

In other news, Randy Lee White Jr., 28, Swanton, was arrested and charged with DUI, DWI, exceeding the speed limit, and failure to drive right of center.

Oakland City Police were assisted by deputies for a motor vehicle accident along West Liberty Street in Oakland.

A 1992 Geo passenger car drove off the roadway, through a yard, and struck a house. The driver, Deborah Lee Ford, 22, Terra Alta, W.Va., was arrested and charged with DUI, DWI, failure to drive right of center, failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision, and consuming an alcoholic beverage in the passenger compartment of the vehicle, police said.

Clair was busy decking Meredith out in her beauty queen outfit. Even though Mere is only 11, she looked like Miss America to me. Once Mere took off to the dance Claire went on down to the fire hall to help with the supper. All the 4-Hers were kept busy with a large crowd. The cakes were perfect. A former classmate from NHS, Randy Wiley, said he did not eat anything for three days to prepare to take advantage of all-you-can-eat. I had to threaten him that if he didn't stop picking on his wife Betty (my partner on the bass clarinet section in Northern's Band) there would be trouble.

Speaking of the Northern Band, they had a great show at Musselman High last weekend, scoring their highest score of the season. I hope they will do as well this weekend at the Chapter contest. Winners will have a ticket to the Atlantic Coast Championships in Scranton the next week.

Fellow Troop 22 members selected the pair for the recognition during the summer session at Camp Potomac, and they were inducted into the OA during October ceremonies at the camp. The purpose of the Order of the Arrow is to "recognize those Scout campers who best exemplify the Scout Oath and Law in their daily lives, and by such recognition cause other campers to conduct themselves in such a manner...." Swanton Man Convicted On Assault Charge

A Swanton man who entered a not guilty plea during a recent Garrett County District Court criminal hearing was nonetheless convicted and handed a jail sentence by Judge Ralph Burnett.

Robert Gordon Cook, 27, received a six-month sentence, with four months of that term suspended, and was placed on two years of supervised probation. Cook's August arrest by sheriff's deputies came after he harassed his estranged wife at her Deer Park residence, at one point drawing his fist back as if to hit her, then he spit on her instead and shoved her through a door.

In other District Court news, Robert Howard Powers, 37, Friendsville, pleaded guilty to charges of carrying out a felony theft scheme, unlawful possession of a credit card, and telephone misuse. Visiting Judge Thomas Lohm handed down a 10-year sentence, suspending half of the term, and placed Powers on three years of supervised probation while requiring a $177 restitution payment to the victim. One count of second degree assault and seven counts of misdemeanor theft were not prosecuted.

Powers was arrested in December of last year by state troopers after he had stolen a relative's debit card and some gold bracelets of hers, and went on spree of debit card purchases and ATM withdrawals. When the woman confronted him with her suspicions, Powers reportedly threatened her safety. Later, as he was being held in a Baltimore jail on a completely unrelated charge, Powers allegedly made threatening phone calls to her from the jail phone.

Danny Lynn Wire, 48, York, Pa., pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft and was handed a 90-day sentence, all but 30 days of which was suspended, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to pay restitution of $266.

Wire's Dec. 1999 arrest by state troopers occurred after he used a false name to make purchases at Wright's Auction in Frostburg. After placing numerous winning bids, Wire left the hall with the merchandise without paying for the items.

Jack Allen Hornby, 49, Loch Lynn, pleaded guilty to marijuana possession and was handed a 90-day sentence, 60 days of which were suspended, along with one year of supervised probation and 20 hours of community service. Judge Burnett presided.

Garrett County Narcotics Task Force detectives jailed Hornby in September after a search of a Baker Farm Road residence located a smoking pipe bearing burnt marijuana residue. Marijuana seeds were also found in Hornby's truck and in a tent that he was staying in that was located in the front yard.

Michael Anthony Ingles, 53, Oakland, was fined $405 after he pleaded guilty before Judge Lohm's bench to keeping a gambling table and sponsoring gambling activities. Ingles had been charged in July after the Narcotics Task Force completed a probe of suspected gambling activities at the Backbone Inn. Detectives searching the establishment and an adjacent residence located gambling items and AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY RECOGNIZES GCDSS — The American Cancer Society recently presented the Garrett County Department of Social Services with the Tell A Friend trophy. After receiving Tell A Friend Program training, the DSS employees contacted women they knew and encouraged them to get their yearly mammograms. As a result, the DSS currently holds the Tell A Friend trophy for the most successful contacts. Of the more than 60 women that DSS contacted, 36 women reported they had gotten their mammograms, 18 scheduled an actual appointment, and 6 agreed to schedule an appointment. The Tell A Friend trophy is a traveling trophy, explained Tenna Taylor of the American Cancer Society. Any other business or organization that partners with the Cancer Society to offer this program and successfully gets more women — 65 years or older — to schedule an appointment than did DSS will be able to take the trophy from DSS and display it. "I challenge any business or organization to try and take the trophy from us," said Linda Ashby of DSS. The Tell A Friend Program is offered free to businesses and organizations, and the American Cancer Society provides the training and materials. For more information, persons may call Taylor at 1-888-227-9979 or 301-722-2145. Pictured above, left to right, in the front row with the trophy are Dora Hanlin, Sharon Teeta, and Dana Mason. In the back row are Sharon Moreland, Erica Mowbray, Ashby, Penny Kelley, and Henry Brown, DSS director. Wendy Sharpless was not available for the group photo.

drugs. Associated felony drug charges faced by Ingles were forwarded to Circuit Court for trial there.

Kelly Douglas Keefer, 25, Mercersburg, Pa., pleaded guilty to marijuana possession and driving while under the influence charges and received a 50-day suspended sentence, a $360 fine, and one year of supervised probation. State troopers had jailed Keefer in May when he was found intoxicated behind the wheel in the parking lot of the BP convenience store in McHenry. A search revealed that he was carrying a bowl bearing burnt marijuana residue.

Chad Edward Rosenberger, 28, Friendsville, pleaded guilty to second degree assault and was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, a $55 fine, and one year of supervised probation. State troopers jailed Rosenberger in June for assaulting a woman during a domestic-related argument at his River Road residence.

Edward James Bryan, 43, an inmate in a Virginia jail who formerly resided in the Jennings area, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft, and Judge Burnett handed down a 30-day sentence and two years of supervised probation while a second-degree burglary charge went unprosecuted.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Bryan in February 2001 after he took a cooler from the storehouse of the Ridgeview Power Center, located along National Pike in the eastern end of the county, and sold it to another individual who turned it in immediately when he realized it was stolen property.

Bryan also faced a charge of driving while intoxicated (DUI). His guilty plea drew a $300 fine, a 60-day suspended sentence, and two years of supervised probation.

Blaine Thomas Hott III, 21, Keyser, W.Va., pleaded guilty to marijuana possession and was handed a probation before judgment (PBJ), along with a 30-day sentence, all but two days of which was suspended, a $355 fine, six months of unsupervised probation, and 20 hours of community service. Hott's September arrest by state troopers came after a traffic stop on I-68 near Grantsville, when a metal smoking device was seen in plain view. An ensuing search located a bag of marijuana and a handrolled marijuana cigarette.

Richard Thomas Denicola, 19, Buena Vista, Pa., pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and was handed a PBJ by Judge Lohm, who also levied a $55 fine and placed the defendant on one year of supervised probation. A July traffic stop on Garrett Highway at Cove Road led to Denicola's arrest by state troopers, when he voluntarily turned over a bag of marijuana and a smoking pipe. Troopers were preparing to search the vehicle, as they had noted the odor of burning marijuana coming from the passenger compartment. An additional charge of drug paraphernalia possession was not prosecuted.

Harold Michael Nicol, 19, Frostburg (Garrett County), was handed a stet ruling in connection with a second degree assault charge, with the added stipulation that he complete 40 hours of community service. Nicol's June arrest by state troopers came after he allegedly assaulted a juvenile during a fistfight at his residence.

David William Bittinger, 50, Swanton, was handed a stet ruling by visiting Judge Paul Stakem on a second-degree assault charge. The May arrest was made by sheriff's deputies after Bittinger was allegedly involved in a domestic altercation with his wife at their New Germany Road home. Lawson Leo Duckworth, 62, and Angela Dawn Wilt, 27, both of the Frostburg area (Garrett County), were each handed stet rulings by Judge Burnett on respective second-degree assault charges. State troopers arrested the father/daughter pair, who were involved in a domestic altercation at their Old Frostburg Road home.

Several individuals facing criminal-related accusations were not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Brian Bradford Wolfe, 21, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a second-degree assault charge as well as accusations of second-, third-, and fourth-degree sex offenses. Wolfe's September arrest by sheriff's deputies came after a female acquaintance reported that he had assaulted her while she was impaired by alcohol after a party.

James Michael Stanton, 21, Mtn. Lake Park, was not prosecuted on a charge of contributing to a condition of a child. His Sept. 2001 arrest by sheriff's deputies came after he had allegedly induced a juvenile female to leave her home and move in with him.

Troy Arness Moreland, 32, Terra Alta, W. Va., was not prosecuted on charges of first- and second-degree assault, reckless endangerment, and disorderly conduct. Moreland had been jailed by sheriff's deputies in September after he allegedly cut a Hutton Road resident with a knife during a domestic-related fight.

Eddie Glen Sisler, 44, Friendsville, was not prosecuted on charges of obstructing a police officer and resisting arrest. He had been jailed in June by state troopers for reportedly interfering in their investigation of a hit-and-run accident that allegedly involved a family member.

Philip Joseph Bailey, 19, Frostburg (Allegany County), was not prosecuted on two counts of misdemeanor theft stemming from his April arrest by state troopers, who had recovered two street signs in the Finzel area that he had stolen as part of a fraternity initiation incident.

An Oakland man was deemed "not guilty" of a domestic-related assault charge when the alleged victim refused to testify against him. Zane Aaron Kisner, 32, faced a second-degree assault filed at the time of his July arrest after he had reportedly assaulted a woman at his Mathew Road home. The case was closed when the woman declined to enter testimony against him, invoking her marital privilege.

Russell Allen Taylor, 37, Philippi, W. Va., was deemed not guilty of a second-degree assault accusation filed in May by sheriff's deputies after he had reportedly fought with a Green Street resident over an alleged debt. Judge Stakem presided.

Judge Burnett presided.

Betty Ann Maule, 45, Md., pleaded guilty to DUI and was handed a one-year sentence, all but three months of which was suspended, and was fined $500 and placed on three years of supervised probation by Judge Lohm. Maule was also deemed to be in violation of an earlier DUI probation agreement, and a 15-day term was reimposed.

Terry Jay Shope, 25, Md., was deemed to be in violation of DUI probation, and a 54-day sentence was reimposed by Judge Burnett.

DAR Chapter Meets; Census Book Available

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) met recently to review the chapter's recent activities and plan for ongoing and future projects. The meeting began with a memorial service conducted for June Thomas, a past regent and long-time Yough Glades Chapter member.

Registrar Martha Kahl presented a historical program on the removal of the windlass from the well on the courthouse lawn, and the drowning of Eli Truly in that same well.

Plans were made to honor veterans in various nursing homes in Garrett and Preston counties during Veterans' Day observances.

Members of the DAR chapter joined members of the Sons of the American Revolution recently as the organizations placed a monument and flagpole on the grounds of the Mtn. Lake Park ticket booth, located at the former site of the town's amphitheater.

The local chapter was represented at the statewide Founders' Day meeting at the Cumberland Country Club. Featured was a style show, modeling historical and antique clothing from 1790 to 1900, followed by a luncheon.

Other recent and ongoing projects of the local DAR chapter include the Sue Webster transcribed the information from copies of the old hand-written records. Copies of the census book may be ordered for $16, plus $2.50 S/H from Martha Kahl, 877 Fricks Crossing Road, Deer Park, MD 21550. The 1890 military census records are currently being copied, and will be published and available soon.

Chapter members are also working to update the Garrett County Graves book. All the cemeteries with burials since the early 1970s are being copied.

TWR COMMUNICATIONS CUTS RIBBON — TWR Communications recently hosted a ribbon-cutting for its new location in the Brodak Plaza in Oakland. This is an expansion location for the 60-year-old business, which deals in mobile radio networks, cellular communication products, security systems, Internet services, and other computer-related offerings. The Cumberland-based company is owned by Jeff Hutter and Kenny Shaffer, who bought the firm in 1973. They plan to expand the local office to include a sales and service center for communications and Internet-based operations. "We believe that our extensive wireless and Internet experience will allow us to help Garrett County expand its horizons and improve its information technology capabilities," Hutter said. Pictured above are a number of local officials who were on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

TV-PIPELINE

Not all 'Rosie' stations opted for 'Caroline'

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q: What happened to Caroline Rhea taking over Rosie O'Donnell's show? I was looking forward to seeing her, and we are surprised to see Wayne Brady instead. —Grace Blacul, Little Neck, N.Y.

A: Many readers around the country share your confusion, so thank you for asking. Contrary to inadvertently misleading remarks by Rhea and O'Donnell on the latter's talk show, channels previously carrying "Rosie" were not obligated to carry "The Caroline Rhea Show," although many chose to do so.

Syndicated shows such as these are picked up, scheduled and canceled on a local level by program directors at individual stations who gauge what will play best in their particular markets. For whatever reason, Grace, your local station elected to carry Brady's new syndicated series instead of Rhea's.

Q: Years ago while working in Los Angeles, my friends and I were having lunch one day when I realized the busboy was former Disney star Tommy Kirk. My heart sank, and I have wondered why he never is mentioned in various Disney retrospectives over the years. What happened? —Heidi Coyle, Chico, Calif.

A: Groomed to play the well-scrubbed boy next door, the Kentucky-born child star of "The Shaggy Dog," "Old Yeller" and other family favorites was fired by Disney in the mid-1960s after the studio discovered he was gay.

Kirk went on to star in some "beach party" movies but eventually fell into a downward spiral of drugs that nearly killed him. After sobriety, Kirk opened a carpet and upholstery cleaning business that has supported him comfortably. In recent years, he has appeared in several low-budget horror comedies such as "Attack of the 60-Foot Centerfold."

Caroline Rhea

His work has been applauded in more recent Disney retrospectives, and at 60, Kirk frequently attends autograph conventions and enjoys meeting his loyal fans. He also is a formidable Civil War history buff.

Q: "Without a Trace" reminds me of a similar short-lived series from a few years ago with Daniel J. Travanti and an actor from "Kindred: The Embraced." Can you fill in the blanks? —Don in Columbus, Ohio.

A: Travanti and "Kindred" cast member Erik King starred with Jorja Fox of "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" in "Missing Persons," an ABC drama set in Chicago's Department of Missing Persons. Valerie Harper joined the series in progress as Travanti's old flame and former partner, but the show was canceled midway through the 1993-94 season.

STUDENTS "FIRED UP ABOUT AFTER-SCHOOL" — Partners After School at Grantsville, a program for Grantsville area children, recently held an open house to celebrate after-school programs and "Lights On" at the Grantsville Senior Center. Linda Buckel, Grantsville Elementary School principal, spoke to the group about the importance of such programs and how they benefit the community. The theme for the program was "Fired Up About After-school." The Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department came to the center to speak about fire safety, pictured above. The students gave the fire fighters a basket of "goodies" as a thank you, pictured below. Partners After School at Grantsville is a coordinated effort between Garrett County Community Action, the Governor's Office on Crime Control and Prevention, the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families, and Frostburg State University. The group has participated in many other activities, such as presenting packets of orange and black candles at the recent Firemen's Parade in Oakland during Autumn Glory. For more information, persons may call Karen Wood, program coordinator, at 301-895-5818, between 3 and 6 p.m., Monday through Thursday, or Linda Green, program director, at 888-877-8403 or 301-334-9431, Monday through Friday.

STUDENTS AT ROUTE 40 SCHOOL RECEIVED AN important lesson from the Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Department recently as part of Fire Safety Week. The firemen met with each grade for approximately 30 minutes and discussed fire safety techniques such as stop, drop, and roll and what to do in case of a fire. Pictured above, Austin Ormer explores the inside of a fire truck. At the left, Garrett Rayner tries on firefighter gear.

DNR Slated To Present Fiscal Year Work Plan

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) State Forest and Park Service will host a public meeting to present the proposed Fiscal Year 2004 work plan for the Potomac Garrett and Savage River State Forests on Friday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m., at the Lake House at New Germany State Park near Grantsville.

During the meetings, staff will present proposals for new construction and changes in forest use and forest harvests. A question/answer and public comment opportunity will follow the presentations.

Forest managers formulated work plans last winter, presented the plans to a department interdisciplinary review in June, and were reviewed by forest advisory boards in October. A copy of the annual plan will be available at the public meeting or can be obtained from the state forest headquarters.

A 30-day comment period will run through Dec. 6, and the public is encouraged to submit comments in writing if unable to attend. Then annual work plans for each state forest can be viewed on the Internet by visiting the department's web site for each individual state forest.

Two Tracks

In this age of fast travel and confusing schedules, it is easy to lose track of our lives.

There are two tracks...God's track and ours. The question is how we might join them into one track without bumps and jolts as we travel through our lives. The answer may be easier to understand than we think.

God has a plan for our journey. We also have plans and goals which we desire to realize. As we worship God each Sabbath, pray for guidance and discover His will for our lives. He will give us direction. With God's answers, the two tracks can converge smoothly into one. "Many are the plans in a man's heart, but it is the Lord's purpose that prevails." (Proverbs 10:21)

Get on track...God's track. Have a safe journey.

Air Travel Update

Q. I'm planning to visit relatives this Christmas, and I'd like to take my Yorkie with me. Is it safe to transport pets by air? — Janine W., West Palm Beach, Fla.

A. Airlines do take precautions to keep precious pets safe, but you can help by doing some homework before your trip. AAA offers a few tips:

- First, make sure your Yorkie is fit to fly. Pregnant, ill or senior animals should not fly, and puppies must be at least 8 weeks old and fully weaned.
- Make reservations for your pet when you reserve your own seat.
- Ask the airline (or agent) if your dog can ride in the passenger cabin. If she can fit into a cage that will slide comfortably under the seat, many airlines allow this.
- Tell your vet about your travel plans. If your pet is easily excited or anxious, ask for medication to calm her down.
- A day or two before flying, reconfirm your reservations and gather several documents for your pet: her health certificate, a list of emergency contact numbers and a recent photo and written description of your pet. If your Yorkie must fly in the cargo hold, ask whether you must go to the cargo terminal first to drop her off.
- Arrive at the airport at least two hours before the flight. Give your pet a little exercise before placing her in the cage. If she's flying up front with you, put a collar and leash on her.
- Alert the cabin crew that you are traveling with a pet. If your dog is in the cargo hold, ask them to regulate the temperature there.

BOOKSHELF: Dodge hopped right onto AAA's "Traveling With Your Pet" ($15.95, available at AAA club offices or on the Web at www.aaa.com), curled up and meowed. But I didn't need his advice to know this is a good book for travelers. Four out of five paws.

• In 1931, the Newspaper Enterprise Association predicted that crime would be nearly gone in 20 years.

• Do you subscribe to the adage "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet"? Consider this: Would that teen heartthrob of an earlier day, Bobby Darin, have become so popular if he had been known by his given name, Walden Cassotto?

Limited Number Of Wye Oak Pins Available

A limited number of pins made from Maryland's famous Wye Oak tree will be available for purchase during the holiday season. The announcement was made this week by the Maryland Department of General Services.

The Wye Oak, estimated to be 460 years old when it fell during a storm last June, was the nation's largest white oak. Only 400 pins made from the Wye Oak's original leaves will be available for purchase at this time.

According to the Department of General Services, the natural leaves were carefully collected and dried in a way that preserved the leaf's natural veining and shape. To protect them forever, the leaves are covered with copper, and finished in a green/blue patina that will mellow over time to a blue/bronze patina. The leaves measure between 3 inches and 5 inches and are certified as Wye Oak leaves.

Prices range from $42 to $45, and a portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Wye Oak Commemoration Project. The products available for purchase are the result of the department's contract with Rockville-based nature's Creations Inc. The jewelry may be purchased online at www.wye-oak.com.

Southern Band Fifth In State, Wins At Inwood

The Southern Garrett Marching Band continues its fall field show competition schedule, having placed fifth in the Maryland State Championships on Saturday, Oct. 19, at Westminster and then finishing in first place in Group II at the Big Apple Tournament of Bands, held Saturday at Inwood, W.Va., and hosted by Musselman High School.

At the state tournament, the band received a score of 81.45, which was just one-tenth of a point out of fourth place and just over one-half of a point out of third place. Annapolis Area Christian Academy won the division with a score of 87.50, followed by Thomas Stone with an 84.8, Parkside at 82.1, Walkersville with a score of 81.55, and Southern at 81.45. Placing sixth was Point Branch (77.65), followed by Wicomico (77.3), Leonardtown (75.4), and Great Mills (73.2).

"Our students made a very credible effort," stated Rick Clever, director. "We finished one place higher than last year, with a better score. Improvement is always our goal, and our band learned a great deal."

The band improved by over a point in the Musselman competition this past Saturday, earning a season-high score of 82.6, and also winning the Best Drum Major, Best Percussion, and Best Auxiliary specialty awards.

Clarke County was second with a 78.10, and host Musselman performed in exhibition.

"This was, without doubt, our best performance of the season," Clever said. "Our students practiced hard all week, and performed like it. The staff and I are very proud of each and every one of them."

The band will compete this Saturday in the Chapter 13 Tournament of Bands Championships at Martinsburg High School, where they will try to earn a spot among the top 25 Group II bands in the Atlantic Coast

DELIGHTED WITH THE RESULTS of the Big Apple Tournament of Bands hosted by Musselman High School on Saturday were the members of both the Northern and Southern high school marching bands, as both were named winners in their respective divisions. Pictured above, from left, are Northern band members Lindsey Swearman, Katie Garlitz, and Autumn Kitchen, captured the moment that Northern was named the top band in Group I with a score of 87.6, the third best score among all 13 bands of all sizes in the tournament. Northern is currently ranked among the top 10 in the Atlantic Coast Division of the Tournament of Bands, and is now preparing for the Chapter 13 championships, which will be held this Saturday at Martinsburg. Southern band members pictured below, from left, are: guard captain Twila Ashby, percussion representative Chris Tepper, drum major Holly Reese, assistant drum major Kasey Bell, and guard member Stephanie Keenan. Southern earned a season-high score of 82.6 to place first in the Group II division, and will also vie this Saturday in the Chapter 13 championships at Martinsburg. The Northern band, under the direction of Bill Robinson, is virtually assured an invitation to the Atlantic Coast Championships in Scranton the following weekend, while the Southern band, under the direction of Richard Clever, needs another strong performance this weekend to secure a spot at the Scranton event. region. Securing such a position would send them to Scranton, Pa., the following weekend to participate in the Atlantic Coast Championships.

Garrett Slates Outreach Center Classes For Nov.

Garrett College will offer a variety of classes at the Grantsville Outreach Center in November, including the courses listed below. For additional information, persons may contact Terry Beachy at 301-895-3368, or the Garrett College Continuing Education Division at 301-387-3069.

Keyboarding I will meet from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. over four consecutive Friday mornings beginning Nov. 1. This course will introduce the student to the use of the computer for the development of keyboarding skills by the touch method. Basic introduction to word processing and practical application will also be explored. Previous computer experience is not required. Computer Skills I is set for 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. over three straight Tuesday evenings beginning Nov. 12. Designed for beginners, the course will offer interactive instruction on the essentials of working with a computer. Topics include common elements of the computer, basic computer terms, mouse techniques, menu bars, and managing files.

Microsoft Word I is scheduled for 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. for six consecutive Wednesday morning sessions beginning Nov. 6. This hands-on course will introduce the student to processing various types of documents, and how to edit, assemble, format, sort, and save. The student will also learn how to create graphs and tables. A pre-requisite of Introduction to Computers or a working knowledge of computers is required.

The Nature Connection will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on the Mondays of Nov. 11 and 18. This two-part course will focus on bats and "alien" species, and is designed for anyone who has a curiosity about nature. The husband-wife team of Ron Boyer and Liz McDowell, who have over 50 combined years of experience in education and the environment, including degrees in zoology and wildlife management, are instructing the course.

The "Bats, Bugs, and Boxes" segment will present the biology and ecology of bats with an emphasis on the species of the mid-Atlantic region. A role-playing activity will demonstrate the sonar system used by bats, and participants will also use an echolocation detector to listen for bats flying overhead. Many species of bats are endangered, according to the instructors, and strategies for improving bat habitats will be discussed.

During "Alien Invasion" Boyer and McDowell will explain the seeming "raging" torrent of invaders that seems impossible to stop. Participants will discuss such questions as "Where did they come from? When did they arrive? How will they change our world?" A flashlight search for the alien invaders will follow the discussion.

Coping with Menopause Naturally is a one-session lesson that will take place from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 13. This course will focus on the use of natural botanicals and common sense nutrition, so individuals can cope with "the change" by using safe effective methods that won't increase risks for cancer or heart disease. Discussion topics will include such lifestyle changes as diet, vitamins, herbs, and exercise. Grantsville resident Rosie Cuper, who has a nursing background and is the owner of the Herbs etc. store, will be the guest speaker.

CAC Fatherhood Initiative Nets Funding Support

Garrett County Community Action Head Start/Early Head Start has received funding to provide a male involvement program in Garrett County. The funding is being provided by a grant from the state of Maryland's Head Start Program.

The local fatherhood initiative is designed to promote the involvement of resident and absent fathers, and other father-figures, in their children's early childhood education by creating an environment that welcomes participation by fathers and other males involved in children's lives.

"This funding will be used to implement programs that will help fathers and father figures become more effective parents," explained Family Service/Male Advocacy specialist Walter Wachter, who is spearheading the project along with fellow staffer J.B. Chambers. The pair will be visiting Head Start/Early Head Start parent meetings in November to explain their goals and gather input. "Dads need to get more involved in their children's development and that's just what we're trying to do," commented Chambers, who is the father of a Head Start participant.

The Head Start/Early Head Start Program is planning to implement "Project DADS" (Dads as Developmental Specialists), designed to empower fathers and other male family members to participate in the literacy development of their children. The Project DADS program will include training in early social interaction; reading books; pre-writing and writing; storytelling; environmental print; home-school interaction; and technology. Along with Project DADS training, fathers' support groups will be formed to provide activities for fathers and their children.

For more information on Head Start/Early Head Start's fatherhood initiative, persons may call Family Service/Male Advocacy specialist Walter Wachter at 301-334-9431 or 1-888-877-8704, ext. 129.

Letters

To the Editor:

Edward Patrick's October 17 letter notes Maryland's crime rate was #8 in violence, #8 in murder, and #2 in robbery when Governor Schaefer left office, and is now #3 in violence, #3 in murder, and #1 in robbery as Governor Glendening leaves office.

While Patrick opines Glendening's academics are just plugging holes in the dikes, what he doesn't notice is that virtually every administrator in the criminal justice system now is the exact same person who was an administrator in the criminal justice system under Schaefer! Indeed, Glendening could have asked for the resignations of the wardens when he took office, but he left Schaefer's administrators in place - and if they moved at all, they barely swapped places!

Schaefer's Public Safety Secretary Robinson is Glendening's Juvenile Justice Secretary, for example, so if there has largely been no change, it would be erroneous to make any imputation faulting Glendening for the horrible statistics!

Also, in a development unnoticed by The Republican, the October 16 Washington Post reported (page A15) that just this year alone hundreds of people may have purchased guns illegally because the state stopped conducting background checks for the FBI due to budget shortfalls.

As Republican Representative Connie Morella just said: "Right now, in my district, there is a sniper on the loose. We do not know how he got his gun. We don't know if he stole it, bought it at a gun show, or purchased it from a gun dealer. We don't know if a background check system with fully automated records would have stopped him."

This isn't the first time the gun control laws haven't been implemented over the past eight years. The Hagerstown Daily Mail reported on November 16, 2000, (page C6) that spousal restraining orders weren't preventing illegal gun buys then because staffing shortfalls prevented police from accurately entering protective orders in Maryland's statewide computer system.

So if there is any fault to be had with rising crime rates over the past eight years under Glendening, it has been the willingness to accept Schaefer's minions combined with an unwillingness to fund the staff necessary for gun control enforcement. It is accordingly egregious for Patrick to make any conclusions absent full-fledged compliance with the gun control laws.

Sincerely yours,
Douglas Scott Arey
Hagerstown

To the Editor:

From what I have read and heard, Republicans are against big government and social security.

The Republicans want us to believe that when they are old and can no longer support themselves, they will draw on their private savings. And/or, they will rely on their relatives and friends. And/or, they will appeal to private charities. And if all of those measures fail, they will endure their fate.

I hope this happens to all Republicans. And if at all possible, when they are enduring their fate, I would like to be standing there laughing at them for being such fools!

I really don't mind if the Republicans mess things up. I just don't want them bringing me down in the process.

SCOUTS BLAZE HISTORIC TRAIL — Several members of Oakland Boy Scout Troop 22, sponsored by the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, received the Boy Scouts of America National Historic Trails Award recently. The scouts participated in a long weekend outing to the Gettysburg National Historic Battlefield, where they completed a key element of the award by accompanying a group of Civil War Confederate army re-enactors on a one-mile "walk" of the killing gauntlet immortalized as "Pickett's Charge." The ill-fated rebel assault of July 3, 1863, proved disastrous as almost half of the 14,000 men who began the open-field charge fell as casualties in less than 30 minutes, and attack commander George Pickett lost over two-thirds of his own division. Shown in the front row, from the left, are Aaron Mullinax, Micheal Varner, Mike McConnell, and Brian Georg. In the back row are Nathaniel Stern, Bryan Teter, Nathan Thomas, Matt White, and Matt Gorley. Not available for the photo were additional award recipients Sam Lauver, Matt Paugh, and Wes Thomas. Boys interested in joining Troop 22 may contact Scoutmaster Bob Stephens at 301-334-8647.

To the Editor:

On November 5th voters will go to the polls in Garrett County and cast their ballots in a number of important local and state wide races. One decision that the voters will make is in the race for sheriff of Garrett County.

In making this important choice the voters should consider the qualifications and experience of each candidate. When looking at the candidates involved in the sheriff's race, I certainly feel that there is a clear-cut choice. That choice is to re-elect Dick Sanders sheriff of Garrett County.

Sheriff Sanders has over 41 years of law enforcement training and experience. His opponent, David J. Martin, has none. This alone is a very lopsided statistic. Couple Sheriff Sander's experience with his proven leadership as the sheriff for the last five years, and Sheriff Sanders becomes the overwhelming choice. Sheriff Sanders has also been a very fiscally responsible administrator. He has continued to work within the limits of the budget set by the county commissioners to provide an effective service to the citizens of Garrett County.

Sheriff Sanders has been endorsed by Garrett County Lodge #99 Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge #40 F.O.P., and the Maryland State Lodge F.O.P. These endorsements represent much more than a few photo opportunities or a handshake. These endorsements represent a successful working relationship and a trust between Sheriff Sanders, the deputies, state troopers, and police officers across Garrett County and across the state.

I would urge all the registered voters of Garrett County to get out to the polls and cast your ballot, and when doing so join the law enforcement community and cast your vote for the only qualified candidate for sheriff. Vote to Re-Elect Dick Sanders sheriff of Garrett County.

Sincerely,
Michael Bittinger
President, Garrett County
Lodge #99 F.O.P.

To the Editor:

Did you know that one in every 250 children is born with autism? It affects people of every racial, ethnic, and social background, and some studies place the prevalence of autism even higher. Did you know that even though autism is the third most common developmental disability, and after cerebral palsy and mental retardation, it remains one of the lowest funded areas of research? Did you know that until recently it was considered pointless to research autism because it was thought to be incurable? Parents whose children were diagnosed autistic were advised to institutionalize them, for the good of the whole family. These children were labeled hopeless and unreachable, left to lie in cold surroundings, staring at blank walls, day after day.

If you think this is merely an image from a movie, or an outdated practice tucked safely in the 19th century, think again. Far too many autistic children are institutionalized because their parents don't have enough support and information to be confident in raising them at home.

Marcy Hardinger, the chairperson of the Cumberland chapter of the National Alliance for Autism Research, has a 5-year-old daughter with an autistic spectrum disorder. Less than a year after her birth, her parents were advised to take the baby home and lay her in a corner, because there was no chance she would ever walk, or even crawl! She was told that trying to reach Hannah was pointless, because she would never have the capability of interacting with anyone. Hannah just turned 5, she walks, runs, and laughs. She can understand many things said to her, carry out simple instructions, and she has overcome the limitation of being nonverbal by creating her own type of communication. Most importantly, she has the capacity to love, and to accept love from others, because her parents trusted their instincts. They took their little girl home and loved her completely, without any reservations, and Hannah blossomed.

Hannah is the force behind her parents' desire to raise this community's awareness of a much misunderstood disorder known as autism. She is the reason I am involved. You only have to meet her once to know there is something very special about her. I am honored to be able to do my part to help raise money for this very worthy cause.

The Cumberland chapter of NAAR is planning a walk to benefit the funding of autism research. It has been scheduled for Saturday, April 5, 2003, at Allegheny College. If you are interested in walking, or if your church or organization would be interested in volunteering in any capacity, please contact our chairperson, Marcy Hardinger, at

Prescription Medicine Can Affect Our Vision

For much of our adult years most of us enjoy good eye sight. However, as we age, changes in the eye are not uncommon. In fact, aging is a factor in three of the four leading causes of blindness—cataracts, macular degeneration, and glaucoma (the fourth is diabetes). To compound age-related eye changes, many seniors take prescriptions which can affect vision.

Because of the rich blood supply to the eye, some prescribed medicines can cause eye-related changes themselves or worsen eye problems that are already present. An example is tetracycline which can affect the area of the eye that focuses light. Codeine can affect the person's ability to see in dim light. Beta-blockers (medicines prescribed for blood pressure control) can alter the secretion of tears.

Questions or concerns about medicines you are taking and their potential to cause or worsen eye problems should be directed to a general physician or an eye specialist. Also, regular eye examinations are considered essential for older persons.

He has also been on the honor roll and he plays basketball. Roger attends Maple Springs Church. In the future he would like to go to college to become an electrician.

Holly Reese, a senior, is the daughter of Paul and Kathy Reese. She is an active member of the Southern High Marching Band. She is the drum major for the marching band, and plays the clarinet in the concert band and the alto saxophone in the stage band. Holly is a member of the National Honor Society, is a Maryland distinguished scholar nominee, and has received the Who's Who award. Nature Connection

BEWARE THESE BRIGHT YELLOW BERRIES — Horse nettle berries are poisonous to humans, although many animals snack on them with no ill effect. See story.

by Liz McDowell and Ron Boyer

Leaving a forest trail carpeted with the bright hues of autumn, you hike onto an old farm field. The incredible reds, oranges, and yellows are gone. The field vegetation, killed by frost, looks like an endless sea of gray and tan; but wait — what are those yellow balls that seem to bob on the surface? You move closer and discover bright yellow berries, roughly an inch in diameter. They look like miniature tomatoes except for the color. Hanging from a prickly stem, they're all that remains of the perennial wildflower called "horse nettle" [Solanum carolinense].

Horse nettle is a native plant that typically flowers in August and September in Garrett County. Its flower is star-shaped with petals ranging in color from white to light purple. These surround the yellow cone-shaped center that is formed by the anthers. Even when blooming, it's not the kind of plant you want to get close too. There are spines not only on the stem but on the leaves as well. Apparently cattle agree, since they don't eat the leaves or stem. Native Americans however gargled with a tea made from its leaves to treat sore throats.

Horse nettle is a member of the nightshade family, which includes tomatoes, eggplants, and tobacco. However, er, unlike its "cousin" the tomato, these attractive yellow berries are poisonous to people, and are known to cause deaths in children. A variety of birds and mammals are able to eat the berries without any ill effect, including grouse, wild turkey, raccoon, and skunk. These poisonous berries might come in handy however if your dog has mange. According to one folk remedy, fry them in grease and spread it over the infected area. On second thought, maybe you should just check with your vet.

Reports from the Field

Elizabeth Huxford of Oakland watched as an immature Cooper's hawk ate a chipmunk in her backyard. When a crow came to investigate, the hawk puffed up its feathers (much like a turkey), spread its tail out low to the ground and surrounded its catch with its wings. It took roughly 30 minutes for the hawk to finish its meal, leaving behind nothing but the chipmunk's tail.

Peg Kaiser of Pleasant Valley found a dead great blue heron while kayaking on Broadford Lake. Garrett College Natural Resources and Wildlife Technology program director Kevin Dodge and Department of Natural Resources wildlife specialist Randy Brown both advised that any number of things (hitting a power line, poisoning, West Nile virus, etc.) could have killed this beautiful bird.

If you'd like to share your Garrett County nature sightings or if you have questions about the plants and animals that you've observed, e-mail Liz and Ron at info@elkridgenatureworks.com.

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, November 5, citizens throughout this country will have an opportunity to cast their vote to select those persons most qualified to lead us into the future. It is a right and a responsibility that everyone should be proud to exercise. It is extremely important that the office of sheriff be governed by a dedicated and qualified individual, one with experience and a desire to provide optimum services to the citizens of this county. Sheriff Dick Sanders possesses all of those characteristics.

Over the years, I have repeatedly heard the phrase, "If it is not broken, don't try to fix it." The Garrett County Sheriff's Office, under the supervision of Sheriff Sanders, has never been more finely tuned and operational than it is today. Under his leadership, both the patrol and investigative units have become more effective and professional in the performance of their duties. The Garrett County Detention Center is now in full compliance with state standards. Yet, Sheriff Sanders is continually seeking ways to better improve the services to the citizens of this county.

Please take the opportunity to give him your vote of confidence on November 5.

To the Editor:

For far too long sportsmen and sportswomen have sat back and said, "There are plenty of others out there to protect my rights." They rely on the NRA, Sportsmen's Coalition, Ducks Unlimited, and Whitetails Unlimited. In reality they can't continue to rely on organizations or others to defend their interests. Even though these organizations do a terrific job, they can't vote for you.

It is fair to say that in the 2000 elections the gun issue alone, sportsmen and sportswomen played a key role in electing George W. Bush president. We have a really good opportunity right here in Maryland to elect a governor who supports hunting and fishing and is committed to preserving our Second Amendment rights and sporting heritage.

Get to the polls on November 5th and take a sportsperson or two with you. Talk up the election with your friends and make sure they vote. If every American who purchased a hunting and fishing license had voted in the last national election it is quite apparent that it would not have been so close. If you are not registered to vote, do so now!

Garrett Woods Chapter of Whitetails Unlimited endorses Bob Ehrlich for governor of Maryland and encourages everyone to get out and vote on November 5th. It is extremely important for all hunters and sportswomen to exercise their privilege to vote.

So, whether you are Republican, Democrat, or Independent, join with us in supporting Bob Ehrlich for governor.

Sincerely yours,
Charles (Chuck) McCrobie

To the Editor:

Since the general elections are around the corner, I am behooved to inform you Garrett County folks to put your vote where your mouth is. There is someone who needs no introduction, someone that everyone in this county is quite familiar with. Someone who attends public meetings on a regular basis and someone who is of, for, and by you people. Someone who has been non-stop to inform the folks of this county of issues and controversies that affect us all. Someone who really cares for all of us; not just the business people, realtors, and adventurous people of this county. Someone who is willing to stand out in the rain and campaign like a drowned duck. Someone you feel like smacking half silly, but yet he is a levelheaded person.

Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, to all the voters of Garrett County, I want to inform you that there is someone who has filed as a county commissioner candidate for District 3. His name will have to be filled in by you as a write-in candidate on November 5th. His name will need to be placed by you in the write-in section on the ballot under district 3. I am proud to present to you none other than George Falter. Let's get to the polls and do something, or rather someone, different on Nov 5th.

Sincerely,
Walt Walters

To the Editor:

This past Sunday I went up to Keyser's Ridge and joined a group of people for a walk led by Dick Bowser. We were treated to a close-up look at Puzzleey Run and Lake Louise. We saw more rhododendrons than I've ever seen; we listened to a clear, cool-running stream. We walked on a moss-covered forest floor; viewed a beautiful lake, and even saw a few struggling American chestnut trees. We were in God's church.

Perched above and looming over this beautiful scene was the site of the proposed industrial park at Keyser's Ridge. I thought about Stephen King the novelist; I thought about a possible title for a book: Money, The Face of Evil.

I also thought about the mothers carrying their little babies on this walk and how they quietly expressed their hopes that somehow reason would prevail. It was their body language of love for this place that struck me and the familiar way and ease with which the men maneuvered through the dense undergrowth. The message was loud and clear without a word being spoken.

I recently hand-carried a packet of information to the commissioners. It contained over 40 letters of protest, plus two separate petitions. I believe they have a copy of the environmental report that was submitted by an internationally known and respected firm. They should also have in their possession letters from attorneys representing property owners who are willing to stand up to them and fight this proposed project. For those property owners, indeed all of us, the concern is about the health and well-being of those babies and others who shouldn't have to fight their own government representatives in order to protect their drinking water and the wonderful community that they live in.

I hope our elected officials have a change of heart on this matter. I hope those few people who support this project can somehow realize that this (the proposed project) is just plain wrong. I hope everyone can have an awakening that there are more important things than money and power. I hope they "see the light."

George Falter Jr.
McHenry

To the Editor:

I would like to relay this message about our current District 3 county commissioner, Wendell Beitzel. Please write his name in on the ballot on election day for the following reasons:

Wendell is a hard-working, knowledgeable, intelligent, and dedicated commissioner who has been looking out for the community's interests for the last four years. I feel it is in the community's best interest to keep him, along with the other county commissioners.

Has anybody noticed how our roads have been improved, the proper development, and his personal dedication? The Dove Center women also need to realize that Wendell donated his personal money to help them, not taxpayers' funds. He has also used his personal funds to help other organizations. He has looked out for the farmers and individual taxpayers by keeping our taxes low. He also gave a balanced budget and is instrumental in obtaining grants to improve our county. Wendell has always believed education is the key to success. He is serving on the Board of Directors of Maryland Association of Counties (MACO).

Wendell does an outstanding job for us and we need for him to continue his leadership. Don't let a good man down. Please support Wendell Beitzel as county commissioner. All citizens need to vote! If you did not vote in the primary, please get out and vote. Every vote counts; one vote can make the difference for Wendell in this election.

Thank you,
Dorothy Joyner

To the Editor:

I had no intention of writing this letter until I pulled my specimen ballot from the mailbox today and read that Mr. Falter is listed as a write-in candidate. He mistakes egotism for wisdom and refuses to accept being beaten in a fair primary. I am a senior citizen who hopes we exercise our right to choose a younger choice — a younger voice! Every vote counts! Be sure yours is there to be counted!

Thank you,
Anna Virts
Swanton

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to endorse Bob Ehrlich for governor of Maryland and to encourage everyone to get out and vote on November 5th. It is especially important for all eligible voters in Garrett County to exercise their privilege to vote.

The tragic events of September 11, 2001, and the recent senseless sniper attacks and killings have made it abundantly clear that our freedoms are under fire. Anti-gun activists will use these horrific events to push their relentless attack against our rights to own and bear arms.

We have a very clear choice in this election. Bob Ehrlich is on the side of hunters and sportsmen by insisting on strict enforcement of existing gun laws and regulations, and by pledging to review effectiveness of existing gun laws and regulations. Lieutenant Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend has made it abundantly clear that she will push for more regulations. At the same time, the administration of which she is a part is not effectively using current regulations to prevent criminals from getting guns or to incarcerate those that use guns to commit crimes.

Governor Glendening by executive order has placed a moratorium on the death penalty in our state. Even if the snipers who have senselessly murdered 10 or more people, most of them from Maryland, get convicted and sentenced to death, it will not happen unless there is a leadership change in Annapolis. We have a very real opportunity to change the culture in the state house. The only way this will happen is if all of the rural areas of the state turn out in huge numbers and vote for Bob Ehrlich.

I know Bob Ehrlich, and I can tell you without reservation that I firmly believe that he is committed to changing the pervasive climate of liberal politics in the executive branch of state government. We know that every vote is important. If you don't think so, just reflect for a moment on the last presidential election.

I am so proud of our president. I am so grateful that George Bush is president instead of Al Gore. It almost went the other way. Don't let it happen in Maryland because you fail to vote. Stand up and be counted. Get out and vote. Vote for Bob Ehrlich for governor of Maryland.

Sincerely yours,
Wendell R. Beitzel
Garrett County
Commissioner

To the Editor:

For any of you who are not aware of it, Mr. George Falter, "the man who cares," is running for county commissioner as a write-in candidate. Even if he only gets one vote, it will be mine! Go, George!

Jerry Plauger
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

If anybody knows George Falter, I do. I have been married to him for 42 years. I don't know anyone who cares about this county as much as he does. Not only that, he puts his heart and soul into working for the people by attending public hearings and meetings. When somebody needs help, he is there and usually is the first person to volunteer.

I have seen him get so involved in community issues that he has put off doing some things around the house that I think are more important, but I still support him.

He works hard at whatever he does, especially research on county issues. Two words that describe him best are fairness and justice. I guess because of his background he is always for the little guy and he does whatever he can to help the politicians to the needs of working poor people.

Most of you know about his educational and business background, so you know that he is more than qualified to be a commissioner. He lost in the primary by 50 votes and is now running as a write-in candidate.

If you want a real change and somebody who will do the right thing, write George Falter on the ballot for District 3 commissioner.

Jean Falter
McHenry

To the Editor:

As a former mayor of Mtn. Lake Park, I am writing to express my appreciation for the outstanding law enforcement and community service that was provided to our town by Sheriff Dick Sanders and the members of his department.

The cooperation and support to our community by the Sheriff's Office under his leadership allowed that as the county's largest community it was not necessary to maintain a separate police department.

The professionalism and openness that Sheriff Sanders is providing is unparalleled in most rural counties. His experience, along with the performance and training he has provided in developing the overall management and operation of the department, have earned him the right for every citizen to express their appreciation by voting for Sheriff Sanders on Tuesday, November 5th.

Paul Shockey
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

I feel that it is important to write this letter in support of Sheriff Dick Sanders.

The citizens of Garrett County could not be more fortunate to have a sheriff who is dedicated, trustworthy, and loyal. Sheriff Sanders has accomplished more for this office and the citizens of Garrett County in the last five years than any other sheriff in the past. The employees of both the sheriff and jail unanimously support the sheriff. The sheriff gained our respect from day one. I feel confident that the majority of the citizens feel the same. It is comforting to know that we have a sheriff who can make split-second decisions based on his knowledge of the laws. He is an important asset to Garrett County.

The sheriff has run a fair and clean campaign, as he is a decent person. He is by all means the best person for the job. Please exercise your right to vote and support Dick Sanders for sheriff on November 5th.

My name is Dan Snyder, and I am program coordinator for Harvey House. The program helps consumers who have a mental illness.

I have been driving up from Cumberland for a little over a year. I have never met any nicer people than you have as residents of Garrett County. It is truly a pleasure to meet and greet the residents, some old and some young. Everyone I have met in Oakland, has been more than helpful to my needs and requests.

I truly believe that if I ever get the opportunity to retire to a new area, I want you to know that Garrett County would be my choice. Everett Home Among Those On Red Cross Tours

The local chapter American Red Cross will host its annual "Home for the Holidays" house tours event on Dec. 6 and 7. Among those homes to be featured includes that of Bob and Beverly Everett, located at 591 Pin Oak Circle in Mountain Lake Park.

The home was purchased in July 2001 from the Oak-Mat Development Corporation, having been built by the Daniel Bosley Construction Company. The home has nine rooms, all of which will be open to the public during the tours. There are two stories and a loft, and on each floor will be displayed a different Christmas collection.

In the living room where Mrs. Everett's Byers Choice carolers will be exhibited, there is her great-grandfather's desk, which was put together with wooden pegs. The Everetts' daughter Elizabeth is a collector of Fontanini nativity characters, and these will be on display in the dining room.

The sideboard in the dining room was made in 1729 by a man named Cartwright, who was apparently considered to be a fine cabinet maker. He made the piece for Samuel Gay, and it was passed down through his family. It came into the possession of Pattie Norman Spruill Baker, Mr. Everett's great-grandmother, when she purchased it from her cousin, Lucy Spruill, who married Eugene Gay.

The dining room table was made upon the order of Mr. Everett's grandfather for his wife in 1918. It was built of Honduran mahogany. When all three of its pieces are put together, the table will seat 12 people.

The curio cabinet in the den was made for Mr. Everett's great-grandfather, Dr. Theopolis Crutcher, in the early 1870's. It was made by a patient in order to pay his bill and was used as a surgical cabinet. Items inside of the curio have been collected over the last 140 years. On top of the cabinet is a nutcracker collection owned by Beverly's son, Fate Baker.

In addition to the Everetts' house, the homes on this year's tour will be those of Royce and Leslie Warnick, Sean and Jodi Nichols, Jack and Sue Parker, and Butch and Ann Byrne. There is also a church on the tour, the Paradise United Methodist Church, which is located along Sand Flat Road.

At the time of the tours, directional signs will be placed at intersections to help guests find the locations. Red Cross yard signs will be placed in front of each home as well. A raffle will be held at the five homes for gifts donated by local businesses.

Tickets for the event are $5 in advance or $7 on the day of the event. Tickets are available now at Proudfoot's and Gregg's pharmacies, and at Flowers by Webers in Oakland; Arrowhead Market, Deep Creek Lake; and Deep Creek Pharmacy in McHenry.

All ticket holders will be asked to remove their shoes or use shoe covers before entering the homes. Guests will also be asked to refrain from video taping or photographing the homes.

A People Mover bus will be available to transport guests on the tour Friday evening. The cost for the bus, in addition to the door ticket, is $5. Reservations for this feature must be made no later than noon on Thursday, Dec. 5, by calling 301-334-9727 and leaving a message. The bus will leave the Mary Browning Senior Center promptly at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, a spokesperson said.

The Broken Chain

We knew little that night that God was going to call your name.

In life we loved you dearly

In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you;

You did not go alone

For part of us went with you

The day God called you home.

You left us happy memories

Your love is still our guide.

And though we cannot see you

You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken

And nothing seems the same

But as God calls us one by one

The chain will link again.

TA Library Hosts Open House/Reception To Celebrate Its 30th Year Anniversary

Nearly 100 people were on hand Monday evening to help the Terra Alta Public Library celebrate its 30th year of service to the community, during an open house and reception in the building the library shares with the Terra Alta City Hall along State Avenue (the former Rite-Aid Building).

"We wanted to show our appreciation to the public and our donors for their ongoing support over the past 30 years," said librarian Ima Thomas. "We are so proud of how much we've grown, and we especially want to thank the Terra Alta Civic Club and The Terra Alta Bank for contributing every single year, and the town council for obtaining the grant

WELCOMING PATRONS to a Monday evening open house/reception at the Terra Alta Public Library were Ima Thomas, librarian, shown at the left, and Sharon Haskiell, assistant librarian. Nearly 100 people were on hand to help the library celebrate its 30th year anniversary. "We're proud of what has been accomplished during the past 30 years," Thomas said. "We want to show our appreciation to the public and our donors for their ongoing support." (photos by Patti Grose)

ONE OF THE LIBRARY'S YEARLY DONORS is The Terra Alta Bank. Pictured above, next to a display recognizing that donor, is the bank's president, Howard Metheny. He has also been a member of the library's board of trustees for 29 of the past 30 years that the facility has been in operation, and currently serves as the board's treasurer.

A SPECIAL RECOGNITION was given to a woman whose efforts helped establish Terra Alta's library, Ima Thomas, librarian, is pictured above with a plaque hung in memory of the late Ethel (Collins) Wakefield, which reads, "In Memory of Ethel Wakefield, in appreciation and dedication in getting our library in Terra Alta, 1972"

LIBRARIANS PAST AND PRESENT -- The Terra Alta Public Library opened its doors on Oct. 28, 1972, and four Terra Alta residents have held the position of librarian. All four were present for Monday evening's open house. They are, shown left to right, Ima Thomas, the current librarian (1993 to present); her predecessor, Juanita Gardner, who held the position from 1973 until her retirement in 1993; Lois Sereno, who was librarian for eight months in 1973; and the library's first librarian, Rosemary (DeLauder) Sigley, who held the post for eight months in 1972.

ANOTHER YEARLY DONOR has been the Terra Alta Civic Club. A display recognizing that organization appeared to be one of the most popular spots of the evening because there were several scrapbooks placed on the table showing activities the club has been responsible for over the years.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT for the TA library's open house were Rebecca VanDerMeer, left, and Karen Hiser, both members of the West Virginia Library Commission in Charleston.

NOTICE TO THE RESIDENTS OF ACCIDENT

Starting on November 7th, the town employees will pick up newspapers for recycling on the first Thursday of the month. The newspapers should be placed in a plastic bag to keep them dry and should have all of the advertisements (slick pages) removed. The bags should be placed at curbside by 9:30 a.m. If there are any questions, residents can call the town shop at 301-746-8144 or the town office at 301-746-6346.

money to buy this building." The former Rite-Aid building had also housed Thomas' Big Key/IGA. The library moved into the building in March 2000. Prior to that, it had been housed in various buildings on Washington Street until those spaces became inadequate for the library's constant growth.

Appreciation was also given to the late Ethel (Collins) Wakefield, a native of Terra Alta, whose efforts helped get the library established.

Mrs. Wakefield felt we needed a library so she sought help from the West Virginia Library Commission," Thomas said. "They sent a representative to talk to JoAnn Teets, then president of the Terra Alta Junior Women's Club (now the Terra Alta Civic Club), and the club women felt there was a need for a library. Mrs. Teets went before the town council and asked for its approval and support" and the rest, as they say, is history.

Four women have held the position of librarian since the first library opened on Oct. 28, 1972, and all four were present for Monday evening's open house. Rosemary (DeLauder) Sigley served as librarian for eight months, was followed by Lois Sereno, who held the position for four months. Juanita Gardner then took the position in 1973 and remained as Terra Alta's librarian until her retirement in 1993. Ima Thomas, who had helped as assistant librarian since 1989, replaced Gardner as librarian and continues to serve in that position.

Several displays were placed throughout the room to show visitors how Terra Alta has grown and changed over the past years. Displays also recognized the Terra Alta Civic Club and The Terra Alta Bank, both yearly donors, and a special display recognized the late Jim Gregg, in whose memory the library sponsors a walk-a-thon each year to raise funds for the James A. Gregg Memorial Scholarship Fund. A large display also showed some of the changes the library has experienced in recent years.

A special recognition was given to Brian Schoolcraft, a Terra Alta resident, who was named "Volunteer of the Year."

"We wanted to do something special for Brian," said Thomas. "He spends countless hours helping us with whatever we need. Sometimes we don't even have to call him; he just stops in to see if he can help with anything."

A plaque honoring the memory of Mrs. Wakefield, was hung in "appreciation and dedication in getting a library in Terra Alta." Howard Metheny, who has been a member of the library's board of trustees for the past 29 years, and who currently serves as the board's treasurer, praised Mrs. Wakefield's efforts saying, "We are proud to have such a fine facility in our town, and appreciate her help, as well as the help of all who contributed to making this library an endowment to the community."

"We also extend our thanks to all present and former politicians and board members who worked together to help this library grow," added Wayne Williams, president of the library's trustees.

Others present included Rebecca VanDerMeer and Karen Hiser, members of the West Virginia Library Commission in Charleston; Stanley Shaver, a member of the W.Va. House of Delegates; Lynda Hopkins, who serves as the library board's secretary, Edna Britton, board vice president, and Robin Clutter, the board's current corresponding secretary.

"To each and everyone of you who have helped make this library a success, we appreciate your help," Metheny concluded.

AURORA CEOS

Dean Sisler led devotions at the Sept. 17 meeting of the Aurora CEOS held at the Union Ambulance squad hall. Theme for the open meeting was "Fun."

Wilda Harsh reported that nutrition can help wipe out Alzheimer's disease. Six members had attended a workshop for caregivers and others interested in Alzheimer's and similar dementia. President Ressie Conrad announced that committee reports are due Nov. 30. Delores Douglas and Mrs. Conrad reported on selling tickets at the Buckwheat Festival booth and at Ames, with Mrs. Douglas confident that she had sold the winning car ticket.

The slate of officers presented by nominating committee chair Wilda Harsh was approved. They are: Ressie Conrad, president; Opal Myers, vice president; Delores Douglas, secretary; Dorothy Spaid, treasurer; and Virginia Martin, historian. Committee chairs were appointed as follows: Continuing Education, Alice Penzo; Marketing and Membership, Janice Tackett; Family Life, Wilda Stemple; and CVH, Deloris Slawter.

Wilda Harsh read an article concerning breast cancer. Opal Myers had attended the county wreath-hanging observance on Sept. 23 at the courthouse. Twelve members and one non-member helped with tickets. There were 250 ribbons to denote Breast Cancer awareness month in October, distributed to churches in Union District.

Alice Penzo, Continuing Ed. chair, announced that the Aurora area exhibit had placed first at the Buckwheat Festival. Achievement Night is set for Nov. 14 at Kingwood. Selected by the club as their "Member of the Year" was Opal Myers.

Another "Salt Box Project" is being initiated to supply funds for renovation of cottages at Jackson's Mill. The Aurora CEOS voted to participate in this effort. President Ressie Conrad asked that ideas for a 2003 community project be brought to the next meeting. For the Christmas dinner on Dec. 7, members are asked to bring non-perishable foodstuffs which will be given to the St. Paul's Lutheran women who prepare Christmas baskets for local families in need.

Deloris Slawter showed a crystal pitcher which had belonged to her husband's great-grandmother Shaffer, and showed a picture of Mrs. Shaffer with her son and grandchildren.

The pig-in-the-poke went to Opal Myers. November meeting on the 19th will begin at 1 p.m. Dorothy Spaid will have the lesson, Gail Rose the devotions, and Wilda Harsh will be responsible for the special feature.

Bennett Receives Excellence Award

Guest Services Inc., the concessionaire for Canaan Valley Resort, Davis, recently honored Canaan Valley Resort employee Bob Bennett with the company's Excellence Award.

"Bob Bennett exemplifies the qualities that it takes to attain this award: outstanding leadership, customer service, initiative, and superior performance," said Chuck Trader, managing director for the resort. "Only one person out of Guest Services's 3,500 employees receives this each year, so this is a big deal for Bob, and also for Canaan Valley Resort."

Bennett, an employee with the resort since 1974, is the manager of the ski area during the winter and superintendent of the golf course during the summer. "Bob's tireless nature and winning attitude keep this place running throughout

Notice of Intent to Establish a Total Maximum Daily Load to Address Low pH in Cherry Creek in Garrett County, Maryland

Section 303(d) of the federal Clean Water Act requires Maryland to: (1) identify waters, known as water quality limited segments (WQLSs), where technology-based effluent limitations and other required controls cannot achieve water quality standards; (2) establish Total Maximum Daily Loads (TMDLs) for each listed water for pollutants preventing the attainment of water quality standards; and (3) offer an opportunity for public review and comment on the proposed TMDLs.

The Deep Creek watershed (basin code 05-02-02-03), of which Cherry Creek is a subwatershed, is located in central Garrett County. Cherry Creek drains directly into Deep Creek, which in turn drains into the Youghiogheny River. The Deep Creek watershed was identified on the State's 1996 list of WQLSs as impaired by low pH and nutrients. The list acknowledged that only a portion of the watershed might be impaired, and that with additional information, the spatial boundaries of the impairment could be refined. Upon additional monitoring, the Department determined that the low pH impairment exists only in Cherry Creek. At this time, the Department is establishing a TMDL of acid mine drainage (the impairing substance) for Cherry Creek. The TMDL sets the maximum load limit for the impairing substance. The TMDL also reflects load allocations to nonpoint sources and a margin of safety that accounts for uncertainty in the procedures used to estimate the TMDL. In this particular case, there are no point sources under consideration. The nutrient impairment in the Deep Creek watershed will be addressed at a future date.

Once established by the State, the TMDL will be subject to approval by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). This TMDL will support measures needed to attain water quality standards in Cherry Creek.

OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT
A 30-day public comment period for the draft Cherry Creek TMDL document will take place from October 24, 2002, to November 22, 2002. Copies of the draft TMDL document have been placed in the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County, 6 North Second Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1393, (301-334-3996) and in MDE's Library. The draft document is also available on the Internet at web site <http://www.mde.state.md.us/tmdl> or by contacting Ms. Sheila Franklin by mail at the Water Management Administration, Maryland Department of the Environment, Montgomery Park Business Center, 1800 Washington Boulevard, Suite 540, Baltimore, MD 21230-1718, or by telephone at 410-537-3599 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, X3599). Anyone wishing to review the draft TMDL and supporting information may call Ms. Franklin during normal business hours. For technical information, contact Ms. Elaine Dietz at the Technical and Regulatory Services Administration using the aforementioned address or by telephone at 410-537-3667 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, X3667).

Written comments concerning the draft TMDL document may be submitted to the Department on or before November 22, 2002 and should be sent to Ms. Franklin at the above address or e-mailed to sfranklin@mde.state.md.us. If the Department determines there is sufficient interest, a public hearing on this matter may be held. All comments received during the comment period will be considered and the draft document may be revised accordingly prior to its submittal to EPA for approval.

Comments, protests, and interventions may be filed electronically via the Internet in lieu of paper; see 18 CFR 385.2001(a)(1)(iii) and the instructions on the Commission's web site under the "e-Filing" link. The Commission strongly encourages electronic filings. Please include the project number (P-12329-000) on any comments or motions filed.

The Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure require all interveners filing documents with the Commission to serve a copy of that document on each person in the official service list for the project. Further, if an intervener files comments or documents with the Commission relating to the merits of an issue that may affect the responsibilities of a particular resource agency, they must also serve a copy of the document on that resource agency.

j. Description of Project: The proposed project, using the Corps' existing Jennings Randolph Dam and Reservoir, would consist of: (1) a proposed 350-foot-long, 6-foot-diameter penstock, (2) a proposed powerhouse with an installed capacity of 2.6 megawatts, (3) a proposed 500-foot-long, 14.7-kv transmission line, and (4) appurtenant facilities. The project would operate in a run-of-river mode and would have an average annual generation of 8.4 GWh.

k. This filing is available for review at the Commission in the Public Reference Room or may be viewed on the Commission's website at <http://www.ferc.gov> using the "FERRIS" link. Enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the docket number field to access the document. For assistance, call toll-free 1-866-208-3676 or e-mail FERCONLINE@FERC.GOV. For TTY, (202) 502-8659. A copy is also available for inspection and reproduction at the address in item g. above.

l. Competing Preliminary Permit — Anyone desiring to file a competing application for preliminary permit for proposed project must submit the competing application itself, or a notice of intent to file such an application, to the Commission on or before the specified comment date for the particular application (see 18 CFR 4.36). Submission of a timely notice of intent allows an interested person to file the competing preliminary permit application no later than 30 days after the specified comment date for the particular application. A competing preliminary permit application must conform with 18 CFR 4.30(b) and 4.36.

m. Competing Development Application — Any qualified development applicant desiring to file a competing development application must submit to the Commission, on or before a specified comment date for the particular application, either a competing development application or a notice of intent to file such an application. A competing license application must conform with 18 CFR 4.30(b) and 4.36.

n. Notice of Intent — A notice of intent must specify the exact name, business address, and telephone number of the prospective applicant, and must include an unequivocal statement of intent to submit, if such an application may be filed, either a preliminary permit application or a development application (specify which type of application). A notice of intent must be served on the applicant(s) named in this public notice.

o. Proposed Scope of Studies under Permit — A preliminary permit, if issued, does not authorize construction. The term of the proposed preliminary permit would be 36 months. The work proposed under the preliminary permit would include economic analysis, preparation of preliminary engineering plans, and a study of environmental impacts. Based on the results of these studies, the Applicant would decide whether to proceed with the preparation of a development application to construct and operate the project.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer
Master Plan

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing of the County Commissioners of Garrett County is scheduled for Thursday, November 7, 2002, at 9:00 a.m. in the Garrett County Commissioners' Public Meeting Room, located at the Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland, to consider an amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. McKenzie plan to establish a campground (Roam Around Campground) located on Church Run Road. The plan is for approximately one hundred (100) campsites and eight (8) cabins. The plan also provides for comfort stations with water and sanitary facilities in central locations. The cabins will have showers, water closets, and light cooking provisions.

The project will appropriate 16,000 gallons per day of ground water and will discharge 16,000 gallons per day of treated domestic wastewater. This is a private project that will be constructed with private funds. It will also be maintained privately and will not be connected to a public water or wastewater system.

Interested persons will be heard at the public hearing on November 7, 2002, to determine if this amendment to the Garrett County Water and Sewer Master Plan is necessary for the public health, safety, and welfare of the residents of the proposed service area and if feasible financially and from an engineering standpoint.

By Order of the County Commissioners of Garrett County
R. Lamont Pagenhardt
County Administrator

Notice of Intent to Establish a Total Maximum Daily Load of Mercury for Savage River Reservoir in Garrett County, Maryland

Section 303(d) of the federal Clean Water Act requires Maryland to (1) identify waters, known as water quality limited segments (WQLSs), where technology-based effluent limitations and other required controls cannot achieve water quality standards; (2) establish Total Maximum Daily Loads (TMDLs) to each listed water for pollutants preventing the attainment of water quality standards; and (3) offer an opportunity for public review and comment on the proposed TMDLs.

Savage River Reservoir (basin code 02-14-10-06), located northeast of Deep Creek Lake in eastern Garrett County, is identified on the State's 2002 list of WQLSs due to elevated levels of mercury in fish tissue. Therefore, the Department is establishing a TMDL of mercury for Savage River Reservoir. The TMDL sets the maximum load limit for this substance. The TMDL also reflects load allocations to point sources, nonpoint sources, and a margin of safety that accounts for uncertainty in the procedures used to estimate the TMDL.

Once established by the State, the TMDL will be subject to approval by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). This TMDL will support measures needed to protect public health, as well as highlight the need to reduce nationally emitted mercury emissions from coal-fired power plants (the primary source of mercury atmospheric deposition) located both in-state and upwind of Maryland.

OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT
A 30-day public comment period for the draft of Savage River Reservoir TMDL document will take place from October 31, 2002 to November 29, 2002. Copies of the draft document have been placed in the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County, 6 N. Second Street, Oakland MD 21550-1393 (301-334-3996) and in MDE's Library. The draft document is also available on the Internet at website <http://www.mde.state.md.us/Programs/Water/Programs/TMDL> or by contacting Ms. Sheila Franklin by mail at the Water Management Administration, Maryland Department of the Environment, Montgomery Business Park Center, 1800 Washington Boulevard, Suite 540, Baltimore, MD 21230-1718, or by telephone at 410-537-3599 (outside the Baltimore area dial 1-800-633-6106, x3599). Anyone wishing to review the draft TMDL and supporting information may call Ms. Franklin during normal business hours. For technical information, contact Ms. Elaine Dietz at the Technical and Regulatory Services Administration using the aforementioned address or by telephone at 410-537-3667 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, x3667).

Written comments concerning the draft TMDL document may be submitted to the Department on or before November 29, 2002 and should be sent to Ms. Franklin at the above address or emailed to efranklin@mde.state.md.us. If the Department determines there is sufficient interest, a public hearing on this matter may be held. All comments received during the comment period will be considered and the draft document may be revised accordingly prior to its submittal to EPA for approval.

Citizens of Garrett County

Over the past five years that I have been Sheriff, I have tried to be there for the citizens of Garrett County. I have enjoyed the interactions that I have had with each of you, whether at the Fair, Autumn Glory, Senior Centers, and sporting events at local schools and in many other places. As a result of my "open door" policy, I have talked to many individuals over the years. The conversations and fellowship that we shared has been "rewarding never to be forgotten."

The support and well wishes that I have received from the community have been an inspiration to me. I appreciate your friendship and your continued support.

Experience is a key factor in fulfilling the job as Sheriff. It is not just a title and should not be taken as such. I ask that you display your support and cast your vote for me for Sheriff on November 5.

Sincerely,

Probe Continues Into Bittering Area Plane Crash

The exact cause of the airplane crash between Bittering and McHenry that killed a Connecticut man last Thursday, Oct. 31, is still under investigation by the Federal Aviation Administration and the National Transportation Safety Board. Factors of bad weather, pilot unfamiliarity with the area, and a power outage at the Garrett County Airport, less than five miles to the west of the crash site, have each been cited as possibly contributing to the fatal mishap.

Richard J. Russell, 63, Woodbridge, was the sole occupant of the single engine, fixed-wing Cessna 182 civilian aircraft that crashed shortly after 11 a.m. into a field just off Peat Moss Road, approximately 1/2-mile from the T-intersection of Rock Lodge and Accident Bittering roads. Russell's flight had originated from Cincinnati, Ohio, and he had not specified prior to taking off that he was planning to land in Garrett County.

The crash was first reported to Garrett County's Emergency Communications Office by a cell phone call from a citizen. The plane went down in a field owned by Ruth DiPaolo as a heavy fog was blanketing the immediate area, and the extremely cold, damp air had helped coat trees in a thick layer of ice.

The plane did not appear to be experiencing obvious mechanical trouble according to eyewitnesses, who reported that the Cessna's engine was reportedly running up until the moment of impact.

Just prior to the crash, the plane first flew south, then turned around and headed north over the garage of Peat Moss Road resident Steve Diehlmann, who was preparing to take his plumbing company truck out on a job. "The plane was really low," Diehlmann said. "[It appeared as if] he was looking for something. [The engine] sputtered a couple times, but still sounded normal. It ran until it hit the ground."

Personnel from the Bittering and Accident volunteer fire departments and the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company responded to the scene, along with Maryland State Police troopers. The impact tore the wheels off the tricycle landing gear

OVER THE RIVER and Through the Woods, a joyful comedy by Joe Dipietro, is scheduled for production November 13-17 and 20-24 at Our Town Theatre in Oakland. The play is about Nick, a single, Italian-American guy whose parents have retired and moved to Florida. He visits both sets of his grandparents every Sunday for dinner, a routine that is suddenly upset when Nick is offered a job across the country. The grandparents figure out a scheme to keep Nick in the neighborhood. "This wonderful play is for families with children 12 years and older (there is one off-color word in it)," said Jane Avery, director. "It is a play blanketed by laughter, which doesn't muffle the important messages behind the story." As an option, OTT is offering Over the River and Through the Woods as a buffet dinner theatre for $20 pre-paid, or as a typical OTT production for the usual charge of $5. Dinner theatre will be available for 20 people each on the evenings of November 13, 14, 20, and 21. It will feature lasagna, salad, garlic bread, dessert, beverage, and a complimentary glass of wine for those who are 21 or older. (Dinner theatre reservations for Nov. 14 and 20 are already sold out, but Avery said there are still plenty of reservations left on those nights for the play itself.) Dinner will begin at 6:30. When the meal is finished, dinner guests will be offered their choice of seats before the rest of that evening's patrons are admitted at 7:30. Reservations for the dinner theatre must be paid for in advance and will not be refunded. Reservations for the production as well as the dinner theatre can be made by calling the theatre at 301-334-5640. Over the River and Through the Woods is being produced by special arrangement from the Dramatists Play Service and is funded in part by the Garrett County and state arts councils. The cast is pictured above. Shown from left are Carole Perez, John Wilson, Bruce Steele, Deirdre Kildow, Lynn McDaniel, and Lane S. Duda. Lois White is serving as stage manager, scenery designers are Judy Finkel and Carol Steele, and the lighting designer is Ben Sincul.

The Maryland Black Bear Task Force released its draft report this week which summarizes the past 10 months of discussions undertaken by the governor-appointed citizen's committee. The group released both a full-length draft report and a summary of that report. The task force's summarized version appears in its entirety on Page C-7 of this newspaper.

The draft document identifies values to consider for bear management, and provides recommendations to the Department of Natural Resources on the future of black bear management for consideration in the making revisions to agency's 1992 Black Bear Management Plan.

The task force will be assembled, and the high-wing plane's nose was partially imbedded in the muddy field, a short distance shy of an ice-covered line of trees. The debris reportedly covered an area composing less than 100 yards of the field. Authorities are looking into a possible connection between the crash and a complete power failure at the Garrett County Airport that had disabled the facility's runway lights and its All Weather Operating System (AWOS). The AWOS would have been crucial for a safe landing scenario under the weather conditions in effect at the time of the crash, especially by a pilot unfamiliar with the local terrain. The system repeatedly broadcasts information including wind speed and direction, cloud ceiling, and visibility.

Kutelman, Shirley Crush, Jo Donaldson, Allen Dunsen, and Rob Michael. The brass quintet includes: Tom Simpson and Brett Lambert, trumpets; Matt Eary, French horn; Don Sincell, trombone; and Duane Salisbury, tuba. Phyllis Furr will serve as program announcer. The concert, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for youth. Persons planning to attend are encouraged to telephone the GLAF office at 301-387-3082 to make reservations.

Voters Choose Beard, Keep Sanders And Holliday, Help Elect GOP Gov.

General election ballots cast in Garrett County on Tuesday have put one new commissioner in office and have retained the incumbent sheriff for another term, with approximately 57% of registered voters coming out to the polls.

David Beard will be the new face at the commissioners' table, having won easily over challenger James Virts. While just under 500 absentee ballots are being counted today, they will make little difference in most races, such as that between Beard and Virts. The unofficial count released Tuesday evening showed Beard with 5,065 votes to Virts's 2,052. He will assume the seat now occupied by Commissioner Wendell Beitzel.

"Both Mikey [Virts] and Wendell have called me and congratulated me," Beard said. "They are class individuals, and I certainly appreciate the congratulations. It's the way our system is supposed to work. I now look forward to working with the Garrett County constituents. I hope I live up to their expectations. I am certainly going to try."

Incumbent commissioner Fred Holliday had little difficulty retaining his post, vying with Bruce Opel for the position. In the unofficial count, Holliday received 5,636 and Opel brought in 2,585.

"I want to thank all the people who came out to vote," Holliday said. "I appreciate their support of me, and their confidence that I'm doing the job as they would like me to do it. My phone and office are always available to any citizen who has a concern."

Commissioner Ernie Gregg was unopposed in the election. He received a total of nearly 7,900 votes. He was philosophical in his reaction to Tuesday's events.

"Elected officials come and go - the job of government continues," Gregg said. He noted the upset in the Allegany/Washington counties' delegate race, in which Speaker of the House Casper Taylor Jr. was narrowly defeated by challenger LeRoy Myers Jr., a Republican.

This will pose some challenges, mainly in Allegany County, I think," Gregg said. "It certainly will be a change."

Also unopposed at the polls was Lisa Thayer Welch, the incumbent state's attorney. She received approximately 6,477 nods from the voting public. Sheriff Dick Sanders was elected to another term with the unofficial total of 5,430 to challenger David Martin's 2,774.

"I'm extremely pleased, of course," the sheriff said about the outcome. "The support from the county shows confidence in me and, more importantly, in the sheriff's office as a whole. I love the job, and I take it very seriously. I enjoy serving the citizens and working with my staff. They are such good people. I couldn't do it without them."

In the state races, the governorship will now be, for the first time since the 1960s, in the hands of a Republican. Robert Ehrlich defeated Lt. Gov. Kathleen Kennedy Townsend in a close race. He earned 52% of the vote, and she took in 48%. The lead between the two changed several times throughout the evening Tuesday. There was little question how the majority of voters felt in Garrett County, as Ehrlich received 6,304 local votes compared to the lieutenant governor's unofficial total of 2,211. Townsend conceded late Tuesday.

"We did not win tonight," she said, "but I have no doubt that in the end our ideals will prevail." She urged her supporters to join Ehrlich "in doing what's right for Maryland."

Delegate George C. Edwards was another unopposed candidate in Tuesday's election. He earned 7,622 votes, as reported in the unofficial count. John Hafer, also unopposed, brought in 7,455 Garrett County votes.

Roscoe Bartlett, incumbent congressman, will remain at his post, as he defeated challenger Don DeArmon by earning over 66% of the vote. Garrett

Sunday Parade To Include Area Pearl Harbor Survivors

This Sunday, Nov. 10, will be marked by a pair of special activities to honor military veterans. The first event is set for 1 p.m., when a downtown Oakland parade will honor veterans from all branches of the service and all veterans organizations. The parade will immediately precede a "Spirit of America" patriotic variety show slated for 2-4 p.m. at Southern Middle School. (See additional photos and information on Page A-5 for further details on the variety show.)

Among the special guests who will be riding in the 1 p.m. parade are two local Pearl Harbor survivors, Alfred "Farty" Kight of Mt. Lake Park and James Jackson of Oakland. Kight is a veteran of the U.S. Navy, and Jackson is a U.S. Army veteran who drove an ambulance during the Dec. 7, 1941, attack.

Other parade participants include the crew from the USS Intrepid, the USS Yorktown, and the USS Arizona. The parade will travel north on South First Street, turn east on Center Street, turn south on South Second Street, turn east on Alder Street, then turn north on South Third Street to travel beyond McDonald's.

Further information about the parade can be obtained by calling Marvin Guthrie at 301-334-3312.

HEADED FOR SCRANTON, Pa., are the members of the Northern High School Marching Band, who captured the Chapter 13 Tournament of Bands championship in Group I competition on Saturday at Martinsburg, W.Va. The title earned the band an invitation to the Atlantic Coast TCB Championships, which will be held in Lackawanna Stadium in Scranton this weekend. The band, under the direction of Bill Robinson, is seeded 15th among the 25 Atlantic Coast qualifiers and will perform on Sunday.

Tuesday Election Results Leave State House Leadership Vacuum

by John O'Connor
Capital News Service
ANNAPOLIS — When the Maryland General Assembly convenes in January, it likely will be with a new speaker of the House of Delegates and a new complement of Senate committee chairmen.

Senate President Thomas V. Mike Miller Jr. will begin the reassembly of the General Assembly today, with an announcement about his new leadership team. The current four Senate standing committee chairmen were either voted out or stepped down.

Meanwhile, Delegate Michael Busch, D-Anne Arundel, is emerging as the favorite to succeed House Speaker Casper R. Taylor Jr., who trails Republican LeRoy Ellsworth Myers Jr. by 139 votes.

The outcome of Taylor's race is still in doubt. The Allegany County Board of Elections will count the 357 returned absentee ballots today; another 27 ballots were sent out, but not returned. Overseas and military ballots are not due until Nov. 15.

If Taylor's seat is included, Republicans gained eight House districts in Tuesday's general election. Democrats hold a 98-43 advantage in the House and a 33-14 margin in the Senate.

Busch wanted to make it clear he would not challenge Taylor for the leadership slot, should he survive the GOP challenge. "We're all hoping he can somehow pull it out with the absentee ballots. It could break for him," Busch said. "If not, we have to go forward... Will I receive support from the majority of the membership? Probably yes."

While other names have been mentioned for speaker, Busch seems to be the favorite. "Mike Busch is very respected, he has support in all sorts of places," said Delegate Kumar P. Barve, the Montgomery County House caucus leader. "Basically everybody I've talked to has said they will support him."

House history and rivalries, said WTOP radio analyst Blair Lee, dictate any new speaker most likely will not come from the Washington suburbs or Baltimore — two localities often competing for House power and money.

"It's almost like if you come from a major bloc, you're ineligible...it's a fascinating dynamic," said Lee. Delegate Howard P. Rawlings, D-Baltimore, the powerful chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has often been mentioned for higher level leadership posts, but such a move would upset the balance of power in the Legislature, one analyst said.

"Pete Rawlings is so controversial, so pro-Baltimore, that the other blocs would never allow him to be speaker," he said. "That's what's hurting Sheila Hixon," D-Montgomery, chairwoman of the Ways and Means Committee and another possible contender.

"Mike Busch is sort of the odds-on favorite," Lee said. Miller has a more difficult task, Lee said, because he needs to choose replacements with an eye on maintaining his own position as Senate leader. Miller won his race handily Tuesday, but still needs the vote of the Senate membership to retain his presidency.

"He's going to have to be a Houdini here and engineer some major tradeoffs," Lee said. Republicans said with the GOP's Bob Ehrlich Jr. winning the governor's race, those trade-offs must include putting their party in the legislative agenda.

"I hope Mike Miller recognizes that the time for partisanship...is over," said Sen. J. Lowell Stoltzfus, R-Somerset, the Senate minority leader. "I hope we see a change in climate there," he said.

The four standing committee chairmen command considerable power in the Senate. Foremost among them was Judicial Proceedings chairman Walter Baker, D-Cecil, who lost badly Tuesday to Republican E.J. Pipkin after holding the leadership post since 1987.

Senate Budget and Taxation chairwoman Barbara Hoffman, D-Baltimore, also lost her race, but in the primary. And Finance chairman Thomas Bromwell, D-Baltimore County, and Sen. Clarence Blount, chairman of Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs, stepped down.

The Senate leadership drain goes deeper, however, with the general election loss of leading budget authority Sen. Robert R. Neall, D-Anne Arundel, and Finance vice chairman, Arthur Dorman, D-Prince George's, who lost in the primary.

The combination of losses, retirements, and other moves means that Sens. Leo GARRETT COUNTY HIGHLIGHTED AT CONFERENCE — A featured presentation on the Garrett County Community Action Committee's (GCCAC) Head Start and Early Head Start Book Distribution and Reading Motivation Program was recently made at the Appalachian Regional Commission's (ARC) Education and the Community Conference. The event was held in Knoxville, Tenn. The program's efforts in engaging parents and local civic clubs in strategies to encourage young children to read were highlighted. "Appreciation of books and the importance of adults reading to young children cannot be overstated," said Barbara Hornyak, GCCAC Family Development coordinator. The Garrett County program is part of the national "Reading is Fundamental" Program and receives funding to encourage literacy activities for preschool-age children. According to Hornyak, the project relies on volunteers from various civic clubs, the Literacy Council, parents, and numerous businesses. Pictured above, left to right, are Hornyak; Mary Abrams, deputy secretary of the Maryland Department of Planning and the governor's alternate to the ARC; Tennessee governor Don Sundquist, ARC states' co-chairman of the 13-member state ARC; Duane Yoder, GCCAC president; Frank Peto, executive director of RESA; and Al Feldstein, ARC program manager for the state of Maryland.

E. Green, D-Prince George's, and Paula C. Hollinger, D-Baltimore County, are the only Senate committee leaders to return to office in January.

Green is vice chairman of Judicial Proceedings and Hollinger is vice chairwoman of Education, Health, and Environmental Affairs. Miller lamented the loss of his two "close friends," Baker and Neall, Wednesday.

"They were both giants in the Senate, outspoken people with deep core beliefs," said Miller, D-Calvert.

"They were both great leaders and will be deeply missed." Miller said he considered honesty, work ethic, and experience in choosing his new nominees. "The Senate is a very diverse body," he said. "I will try to make sure the diversity of the Senate is represented in the leadership."

A new governor and Senate leadership, said Sen. Robert H. Kittleman, R-Howard, could mean a sea change in State House culture. "Depending on the new committee chairman it will be a completely new dynamic that the state hasn't seen in 40 years," he said. "It's who is capable of doing the job and who has enough votes to keep Miller in the presidency."

Oakland Man Charged With Drunk Driving
An Oakland man was arrested on drunk driving charges Wednesday night, according to Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Jody Lynn Crocco, 31, was charged with driving under the influence (DUI), driving while impaired (DWI), and failure to drive right of center. Crocco failed field sobriety tests after deputies stopped his 1994 Ford passenger car along Hutton Road for crossing the center and white lines. He was released on his own recognizance, police said.

Theft Suspect Apprehended In Avilton Area
A Maryland State Police trooper assigned to the La-Vale barracks apprehended a Pennsylvania woman in the Avilton area Tuesday afternoon who is a suspect in a Garrett County theft case.

Lynn Elsie Mason, 42, Fort Hill, Pa., was spotted in a vehicle parked at the Wildwater Inn by Tfc. J.R. Costa as he was on his way to a duty assignment in Allegany County. Mason was known by the trooper to be a suspect in two separate investigations, the theft case in Garrett County and a telephone harassment case in Allegany County.

When she was taken into custody Tuesday, Mason was served with a criminal summons stemming from the harassment case, and was subsequently served with an arrest warrant stemming from the theft case. Mason was taken before a Garrett County District Court commissioner, and was released on her own recognizance.

Sheriff Cautions Public About Clean-Up Firms

Due to the amount of damage inflicted by the recent ice storm, Garrett County sheriff Dick Sanders is advising the public to use discretion and caution when contracting with firms to clean up debris, such as downed tree limbs.

Sanders said that the need for cleaning up debris creates an opportunity for "unscrupulous" persons to take advantage of others.

He added that it is good practice, unless one is familiar with the persons one is dealing with, to request references prior to paying for work contracted.

Persons with questions may call the sheriff's office at 301-334-1911.

9/11 and Tuesday's Vote...

What happened? — a question asked by many Democrats and Republicans alike Wednesday morning of this week. For the first time since Dwight Eisenhower occupied the White House in the 1950s, the nation has a Republican administration, House, and Senate. For the first time since 1902, the party of the sitting administration in an off-presidential election year gained, rather than lost, congressional seats. Heavily Democratic states, such as Maryland and Massachusetts, elected Republican governors, and Jeb Bush became the first Republican to ever be re-elected governor of Florida. More locally, Casper Taylor, Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates and considered one of the most powerful Democrats in the state, was defeated by a political newcomer.

The pundits are offering a wide variety of explanations, with varying degrees of merit, for this dramatic shift in power. But in our opinion, the primary reason for the GOP sweep was the tragedy of 9/11/01.

The shocking events of that day made us realize that, despite being citizens of the most powerful nation in the world, we were — and are — still vulnerable to terrorist attacks. Having the mightiest military forces in the history of mankind made no difference that day. Our very survival, the value of life, became foremost in our minds, leaping ahead of all other worries and concerns, including the state of our economy. Even the downward spiral of the stock market over the past year or so has taken a back seat to our distress over safety and security.

So what does this have to do with Republicans and Democrats? Rightly or wrongly, the rather fickle U.S. public, in general, feels more secure with Republicans in charge during war time or when we feel threatened. If we get smacked by someone, we believe that a Republican leader will smack back harder than a Democrat will. Most of our top military officers are Republicans. Most members of the NRA are Republicans. Republicans like guns, Democrats don't. Some supposedly entrenched Democrats who have been reluctant to support funding for President Bush's Homeland Security program were among Tuesday's losers.

It was said by many within hours of the 9/11 attacks that the world would never be the same. Of course, the world under any circumstances will "never be the same," but it is true that our history is being significantly impacted by the acts of those terrorists, and the results of Tuesday's vote is clear evidence of this.

The ball is now entirely in the hands of the Republicans, and what they do with it, obviously, will determine how long the voting public will allow them to maintain possession.

To the Editor:

Richard (Dick) Russell was the pilot of the plane that crashed October 31. Dick was a great friend, wonderful husband to his wife Betty, father of three children, Shawn, Pam and Brian, and grandfather. Dick was my closest friend, having met in the United States Air Force, Etain, France, in 1958.

Richard was an experienced pilot and had just completed additional flight training in Batavia, Ohio. He was returning home to Connecticut when he crashed. It appears that the FAA did not warn pilots in the Garrett area that the weather was bad. The power on the ground was out and the runway lights could not be activated by Richard's autopilot.

To the Editor:

About the $2,900 "study" by a Baltimore "consulting" firm concerning speed limits on New Germany and Chestnut Ridge roads.

Anyone who lives along that road could have verified that almost everyone who drives through there speeds.

Five cents worth of common sense could have said "slow it down."

Even in the best of conditions those roads require careful judicious driving.

When driving through any neighborhood one should be going slow enough to wave and give eye contact to the persons living there.

Oh, and let's forget about the deer, bear, turkey, and yes, bobcat (saw one just last night!) who live there and routinely die on those roads.

In short — slow it down.

Sincerely,
Jaime Alvarez

To the Editor:

November is designated nationally as Alzheimer's Awareness Month. Alzheimer's disease is a serious public health concern. It will become even more of a threat in the coming years, as the American population ages. It is estimated that Alzheimer's disease will strike 14 million Baby Boomers by the middle of this century, overwhelming our health care system.

The disease takes a tremendous toll on diagnosed individuals and their families. Unfortunately, many people fail to recognize its dreadful impact until they are personally affected by the diagnosis of a family member.

In western Maryland there are an estimated 8,754 individuals with Alzheimer's disease. In addition, there are more than 34,000 immediate family members and close friends whose lives will be irrevocably altered by this devastating disease. Thousands of health care providers are working devotedly to assure that these families are able to maintain an acceptable quality of life.

The Alzheimer's Association — and other human service organizations throughout western Maryland — offer a wide range of services and programs to families.

Few people with Alzheimer's disease know about the help that is available to them — sadly, neither do the family members who love them. Together we can increase awareness about Alzheimer's disease and the services available to people affected by it, so that no one faced with Alzheimer's disease will have to stand alone. Locally you may contact me, Donna McClintock, at 301-334-7740 or 301-895-3113 for support group information.

To the Editor:

I have never been so disappointed as I was today "voting." We live in a country that we have one freedom that we should cherish, which is the right to vote.

When I went to the polls and I saw the ballot, this is what it said to me:

1. We have no choices in most races. 2. Those who are in office have sucked the taxpayers in this country dry are still there and no choice. 3. They have numerous retirements and we pay for it. 4. They have sucked off the taxpayers for years and they are use to it and love it. 5. They are all part of the "Republican-rats" and they are why your taxes are used for their friends and those projects.

Four years ago I even changed parties to run so the people would have a choice. A woman in the Democrat party asked me, "Why are you even thinking about running against Mr. Edwards?" This year instead of supporting their people, they put all their effort into the race for Congress and sent money down the road. They are the problem, not the Republicans. I am again

In recent weeks, the Area Agency on Aging has used the local media as well as invitations to individuals in the community, including aging advocates, to promote a dinner being held on Friday, November 22, at the Grantsville Senior Center benefiting the Meals on Wheels program. We have been very disappointed with the response to date. Although the tickets are $40 or $75, the cost is very reasonable for a fund-raising event that is tax deduct-

We at the agency do not understand the apathy toward a program that clearly helps such a vulnerable population. The elderly who receive Meals on Wheels are very frail, suffering from chronic conditions such as arthritis, osteoporosis, hypertension, heart disease, senile dementia, etc. These conditions substantially limit mobility, making it difficult and often impossible for many seniors to buy, cook, and prepare nutritious meals. In fact, 59% of Meals on Wheels participants report having three or more diagnosed chronic illnesses or conditions. They need our help.

Every year we struggle to provide adequate service to our frail seniors. In many instances, we are unsuccessful and must limit the number of days per week we are able to provide meals. Furthermore, we are forced to limit the number of people we are able to assist to an average of 150 daily, often resulting in a waiting list. Additionally, there continues to be areas of the county we cannot reach due to the cost of delivery.

Seniors in need of service, caregivers seeking assistance for a frail elder, and members of the health care community do not understand why we cannot provide immediate service when it is needed or why we so often must reduce services. The answer is simple; we do not have adequate funds through federal, state, and local resources to support five-day service. The program costs the agency between $175,000 and $185,000 per year to operate, depending on the number of elderly receiving service at any given time. Unfortunately, the agency's annual revenue, without special grants from corporations or government sources, is approximately $102,000, including participant contributions.

Because of a successful fund-raising campaign last year, as well as a grant from the Administration on Aging and CDBG, we were able to restore service that had previously been reduced to three days per week. In the current fiscal year, we hope to be able to maintain that restoration, despite rising costs. By next year, however, we will again

The agency continues to seek support from various philanthropic organizations through the submission of grant proposals; unfortunately, these sources are highly competitive and the needs are great. Therefore, we implore the community to become involved. Attending a benefit dinner or making a small contribution to the Meals on Wheels program can go a long way to help ensure the service is adequate and available to those in need now and in the future.

In a recent article, we noted that there are 11,000 households in Garrett County. An annual donation of $10 from one-half of all households would raise $55,000. We hope the community will see the value in this program and lend its support. Remember, one day your mother or father, grandparent, or perhaps even you may become debilitated, requiring the assistance of the Meals on Wheels program. Won't you help?

Respectfully,
Adina Brode, Director
Area Agency on Aging

a Republican and I love the Democrats for their leadership and the disenfranchising of their people. They don't even want their own members to run against us, the Republicans.

The only thing I ask is this. Do we have two parties? The answer is "No." We still have the "Republican-rats" and so did "Iraq." They had no choice either.

If you love your taxes that you pay, don't do anything. Just lie back and enjoy your life.

My solution to the biggest problem of the world is bring our troops out of every country, let those countries solve their own problems and put our troops on our borders to protect us, instead of protecting those other countries who hate us.

To the Editor:

Your editorial had many good questions concerning violence, but you gave no solutions. To blame guns, the NRA, or non-registry of guns is a scape-goat. Hitler killed 6 million people and our "healing" medical profession kills 400 each day without them by abortion.

I truly believe our troubles began when we cast our Creator God out of our teaching and replaced Him with a lying one called Evolution in the '60s. Our God Bless America motto became God-less America. We chose dozens of gods from athletes and the movies and from our livelihood made them wealthy so they could live as gods should. We sought monetary gain from Wall Street profits rather than from God's Holy Prophets. We freely chose self-esteem over the golden rule and replaced honor of father and mother with clichés such as "Do your own thing." "If it feels good, do it." "Don't knock it if you haven't tried it." We permit rivers of booze and beer to flow, but condemn tobacco without banning it because it generates multi-millions for some parasitic lawyers, doctors, and politicians in tax revenue. In our zeal to be our own god we lie, steal, and kill, and even curse the real God that we refuse to acknowledge. Our divorce rate testifies to our infidelity and makes a mockery of marriage. We have made millions of laws to live by, but can't even abide by 10 that were provided by the true God. Our Christian religion has been bashed by the atheist unbelievers and betrayed and profaned by preachers like Jim Bakker, Jimmy Swaggart, and the Catholic priesthood who are supposed to represent it.

Space will not permit writing about a myriad of other subjects, such as corporate American greed, tyrannical federal judges, etc., but to show what I think is the cause of the increase of violence in our country. "We have sown the wind and are reaping the whirlwind." Hos. 8:7.

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter to the Garrett County commissioners requested that it be published in this column.

To the Editor:

This letter is in regard to the speed limit on Route 495 through Bittinger and the manner in which the speed limit was increased last summer from 35 to 45 mph. We have delayed writing this letter in the hope that the concerns of the citizens of the Bittinger area, as expressed in a petition circulated last July and August, might have had some influence on the State Highway Administration. Since it has not resulted in having the speed limit reduced to date, we are compelled to bring this public safety issue to the attention of the county's elected representatives.

We have maintained a residence in the Bittinger area since 1985, have made a number of friends, have both benefited from and contributed to the community, and paid our taxes willingly. Thus we were appalled to learn last summer that with no warning, the speed limit on Route 495 through Bittinger's main intersection was raised to 45 mph. Further investigation and inquiries uncovered several rumors and facts that suggest political interests and the heavy hand of state government, as well as the absence of seeking any citizen input before the fact, has created a dangerous public safety problem.

According to several sources, the speed limit through Bittinger was raised because a "politician" received a speeding ticket for exceeding the then 35 mph limit on the one-mile portion of Route 495 in Bittinger. Efforts to determine if this rumor was true have been unsuccessful. Several residents have indicated that there was no public notice that the speed limit was to be increased, and efforts of a petition about the matter have produced no results that we are aware of. These rumors suggest the actions of State Highway Administration are typical of what citizens have come to recognize as the hallmark of the Annapolis bureaucracy.

Above and beyond these observations, consider the following facts (not rumors or allegations):

1. The speed limit on many Garrett County roads where there are no intersections or homes is 35 mph. The speed limit on Route 495 and similar highways in the county is typically 50 mph, but reduced to 35 mph in heavily populated or dangerous areas.

2. The intersection of Brenneman and Leeger roads with Route 495 is a dangerous intersection. At least one fatal accident has occurred there in recent years.

3. Vehicles proceeding north on Route 495 to the intersection have adequate visibility, except for vehicles exiting Brenneman Road where a house and tree limit seeing cars or trucks turning south from Brenneman Road. Drivers proceeding south on Route 495 do not see the intersection until they clear the brow of the hill approximately 725 feet north of the intersection. Their ability to see vehicles turning on to Route 495 from Leeger Road is seriously limited by the buildings on the west side of Route 495 at the intersection. Their ability to see cars or trucks turning on to Route 495 from Brenneman Road is impaired by the height of the land on the east side of the road, a telephone pole at the corner, and a house near the corner of the intersection.

4. This intersection is not only dangerous, but also very busy. Buckel's Store is the Bittinger U.S. Post Office, visited by many residents during the day from all directions, and on foot. Brenneman Road is the exit of the local fire department to a significant portion of its first due area. The fire hall is essentially the community center, where many meetings occur day and night throughout the week. On weekdays, at least five school buses enter or leave the intersection at least twice each day. On Sunday, it is used for access and exit from one of the largest churches in the area.

In addition, both cross roads are used by delivery, logging, and milk trucks; and, Route 495 is the major north-south route of heavy industry and over-the-road delivery trucks.

5. Turning onto Route 495 north from Leeger Road is essentially a blind corner. Turning south or north from Brenneman Road is seriously compromised by limited visibility in both directions, especially turning south because one cannot see vehicles approaching from the north on Route 495 until they are about 725 feet away.

6. With a speed limit of 50 mph on most of Route 495, it is naive to think that reduction to 45 mph will have any effect on speed. Indeed, the typical speed on Route 495 is closer to 55 mph or higher. (Did the State Highway Administration check speeds on Route 495 before or after the change in the speed limit?)

7. Assume there is a driver coming south on Route 495 and approaching the brow of the hill north of the intersection at 55 mph. Assume further that a loaded school bus turns south or north from Leeger Road onto Route 495. The estimated time for the bus to clear the intersection from 0 mph to 10 mph is about 5-7 seconds. In that time, the car or truck driver moving south on Route 495 will have gone about 300 feet. If his or her reaction time is normal, the vehicle will have traveled 80 feet. At 55 mph it takes about 310 feet to stop a car with the brakes in good working order. In summary, the vehicle proceeding south on Route 495 could travel about 690-700 feet before stopping. Simply put, it is quite possible that a car or truck traveling 55 mph would not stop until it was in the intersection; one traveling 60 mph would enter the intersection before the bus completed the turn; and, one traveling 45 mph would travel about 80% of the distance before stopping (560 feet). These figures are, of course, based on ideal conditions for a passenger car. It is a chilling thought to consider the vehicle a 20-ton truck, wet or slippery roads, snow-reduced visibility, or driver-impaired reaction time.

In summary, raising the speed limit to 45 mph was done arbitrarily, capriciously, with no citizen input, and with total disregard for public safety. The speed limit should be reduced to 35 mph as it was previously. Must we have another serious accident or fatality at this intersection to prompt correction of this dangerous public safety matter?

Sincerely,
Kenneth D. Fisher

County's voters agreed with the state sentiment, sending 6,249 nods to Bartlett compared to 2,253 to DeArmon.

Comptroller William Donald Schaefer will also remain in office, having earned 68% of the statewide vote. Gene Zarwell earned just over 31%. Garrett County would have elected Zarwell, however, giving him 4,595 votes to Schaefer's 3,643.

The remaining local candidates ran unopposed in Tuesday's election. They and their unofficial vote totals were as follows: David Martin, clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett County, 7,566; Joseph DiSimone, register of wills, 7,626; Garrett County Board of Education members Rodney Durst, 6,280; Camilla Rowe, 5,764; and Madeleine Collins, 5,793; and judges of the Orphans' Court, Clifford DeWitt, 5,807; James Margoff, 5,215; and Wayne Wilt, 5,118.

In every race, there were write-in votes cast, averaging around 30 per office. Two local write-in campaigns were waged publicly — that of Wendell Beitzel and George Falter, both vying for the county commissioner District 3 post ultimately won by David Beard. While the breakdown of the write-in votes for Falter and Beitzel (or any other written-in candidate) was not yet determined at press time, the total number of write-ins cast in that race was 1,148 (unofficial).

RED CROSS BENEFIT TO HONOR VETERANS — This weekend's "Spirit of America" pageant, a patriotic salute to military veterans in song and speech, is slated for 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 10, at Southern Middle School. There is no admission charge for the benefit show, which will generate funds for the Western Potomac Chapter of the American Red Cross through a free-will collection taken during the program. Local veterans and current military members will also be honored during a 1 p.m. parade through downtown Oakland immediately preceding the musical variety show, an annual event now in its seventh year. The SMS event will feature the Red Cross "nurses," who, shown above from the left, are Arzella Parsons, Bobbie Henderson, Judy Wilt, Bea Crocco, and JoAnn Giotto. Below are Oakland's own "Andrews Sisters" — Sue Petersen, Donna Cook, Jane Nolan, and Linda Goodrich — who will perform a medley of songs. The stage bill also includes the duo of Dave Martin and Tim Miller, above right, and solo singer Leonard Eiswert, former Miss Maryland Kim Grimm and Jimmy Flanigan of the popular local band Boathouse. Along with the military salute, other special guests that will be honored will be representatives of Wayne's Water and Wells. The entertainment slate includes patriotic music, swing dancing, clogging, and folk music. All veterans are encouraged to attend, and small gift items, provided by local businesses, will be given away to veterans during the program. Oakland mayor Asa McCall and WSMG radio personality Paul Mulian will serve as masters of ceremonies, and the Color Guard Unit of Proctor Kildow American Legion Post #71 will present the American flag. For further information, persons may call ARC representative Donna Cook at 301-334-2081.

JACK OF ALL TRADES COMING TO GC — Chip Bryant, a physical theatre artist from New York, will present "Lienating With Your Eyes" in the Garrett College auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 18. Bryant blends a variety of the oldest traditions of vaudeville — clowning, mime, juggling, magic, puppetry, unicycling, music, and improvisation — into a one-man physical comedy show. With a style reminiscent of Charlie Chaplin and Buster Keaton, he creates an interactive audience experience that engages people of all ages. A graduate of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Clown College, Bryant has been performing throughout the United States at schools, universities, public libraries, conventions, receptions, and community events since 1986. The performance has been scheduled as a co-curricular event for Garrett College students and is open to the public free of charge. FSU Theatre To Present The Laramie Project

Frostburg State University Theatre will present The Laramie Project in the Performing Arts Center's F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre. Evening performances are set for Nov. 15, 16, 21, 22, and 23 at 8 p.m. A Saturday matinee will also be held Nov. 15 at 2 p.m.

This contemporary and controversial work explores the aftermath of the vicious murder of 21-year-old Matthew Shepard, a gay student attending the University of Wyoming.

"The Laramie Project is a moving and inspiring theatrical experience told through the eyes of the townspeople of Laramie, Wyo., who served as both witnesses to and participants in the aftermath of Shepard's murder on Oct. 12, 1998," said an FSU spokesperson.

The project was developed by award-winning director Moisés Kaufman and members of the Tectonic Theatre Project. This collective-collaborative creation, compiled from more than 200 interviews and presented through more than 60 real-life "characters," is presented as a docudrama, a format both theatrical and real, according to the spokesperson.

Time magazine called the project one of the top 10

MINNICK RETIRES FROM PHENIX — After 16 years of service at Phenix Technologies, Jackson Minnick, Meyersdale, Pa., retired from his position at the Accident company on Oct. 11. The staff hosted a retirement party for Minnick and gave him a DeWalt cordless drill. He joined Phenix in 1986 as a transformer coil winder, one of the most specialized operations at the company. THE SANTA CLAUSE 2

Rated G - Running Time: 1:45 - Released 11/1/02
Eight years after Disney's The Santa Clause catapulted comedian Tim Allen from mere television celebrity to full-blown movie star status, he returns to his jolly round roots with the sequel, Michael Lembeck's unimaginatively titled The Santa Clause 2. Lembeck, helming his first feature film after spending the last decade or so directing TV sitcoms, creates a sequel that in terms of tone and style is virtually indistinguishable from John Pasquin's 1994 holiday comedy, reuniting practically the entire cast and supposedly taking up 8 years after that story left off. It gives Allen, who is not so much an actor as a skilled craftsman at line delivery, yet another leading vehicle in which he doesn't so much act as skillfully deliver lines. But this is not to say that Allen isn't fun to watch. While he may not be a virtuoso at what one would call "serious" acting, there's no denying that given the right script he can be seriously funny. The script for SC2, penned by Ken Daurio, Ed Decter, and several others, is not perfect, but with Allen's help it delivers more hits than misses.

In The Santa Clause, when toy manufacturer Scott Calvin (Allen) suddenly had the duties of the Jolly Old Elf thrust upon him, we watched him change within a few days from a normal looking guy to a fat man with a flowing white beard. In this film, we see the same phenomenon in reverse. It seems there is another clause buried in the fine print of the business card Scott picked up on that fateful day, stating that if he doesn't get married within eight years of his assumption of duty, he will cease to be Santa Claus and Christmas will "disappear." (I know Christians just love that sort of storyline.) This detail, known as the "Mrs. Clause," suddenly leaves him with only 28 days to find a wife, and in fact the "deSanctification process" has already begun—his weight drops, his beard shortens, and he becomes less jolly. I've used Prozac to combat these symptoms, but to each his own. At the same time, he learns from trusted elves Bernard and Curtis (David Krumholtz, Spencer Breslin) that his own son Charlie (Eric Lloyd), now in his teen years, has become a juvenile delinquent and therefore gotten himself on the "naughty list." Forced to leave the North Pole to meet with his ex-wife Laura (Wendy Crewson), her new husband Neil (Judge Reinhold), and Charlie's ultra-sterm school principal (Elizabeth Mitchell), Santa uses Curtis's new untested toy-cloning invention to make a full-sized replica of himself to watch the plant until he returns.

For what it's worth, anyone who liked The Santa Clause will probably enjoy this movie. Like that film (and like most Disney offerings), it doesn't tax the brain with complex moral issues or philosophical musings. It's fat, fluffy fun of exactly the kind Tim Allen is best at, and the fact that there are no changes in personnel among the cast members gives it a sense of continuity. If one listens closely enough, one will hear some amusing references to Allen's other movies, and of course kids will love the kind of unbridled Christmas splendor represented by Santa's elaborate workshop, filled with hardworking elves and more toys than they have at Wally World and Toys 'R Us put together. Also adding laughs are the featured deejays: Comet is a kind of ruminant version of Scooby-Do who speaks his own language understood only by Santa, and a new deer, Chet, is amusingly out of control. Lembeck's pacing slows to a standstill in the middle of the film, while we are forced to watch Santa's excruciating romantic subplot; this is the only time when kids might get bored. But at 105 minutes, SC2 is still short enough to please without wearing out its welcome. ★★½

Beall Dashes Rams' Quest For Region, State Titles

After crushing host South Hagerstown on Friday, 7-0, in a quarterfinal round of the 1A West Region soccer championships, the Southern High School girls' varsity soccer team saw its 2002 campaign come to a heart-breaking end Monday night in Frostburg, where the Rams were nipped by Beall, 2-1, in a double-overtime regional semifinal.

Coach Ron Petrella and his players finished their injury-ridden season with an overall record of 10-4, while the Beall Mountaineers will take their 11-2 mark into the West Region title match this evening against Smithsburg.

Junior strikers Sabrina Scheffel and Casey Taylor each recorded hat tricks in Friday's romp over South Hagerstown, a match that was supposed to be played on the Rams' field, but had to be moved to Hagerstown because of weather condi-

Senior Brittany Naylor doubled Southern's lead about five minutes later with an unassisted goal on a corner kick, and Scheffel made it 3-0 with a goal off a feed from her sister Jasmine with 26:24 remaining in the half.

A second goal by Scheffel, this time on a penalty kick, was scored with 17:36 to go in the half, and an unassisted score by Taylor with just two minutes remaining before intermission gave the Rams a commanding 5-0 halftime advantage.

Scheffel completed her hat trick at the 23:38 mark of the second half with a goal off an assist by Naylor, and Taylor recorded her third of the evening unassisted with 14:25 to play.

The Rams led in shots on goal by a 19-5 margin and in corner kicks, 8-0. Southern keeper Alasha Rush was credited with five saves.

Southern's regular-season encounter with Beall, played in Oakland on Oct. 7, also ended in a double-overtime, 2-1 score, but in favor of the Rams, making them one of only two teams to defeat the Mountaineers.

Beall, like Southern, has been known for its tenacious defense, and has allowed only one goal in its last five matches.

The two teams played scoreless defense against each other for nearly 53 minutes on Monday, finally interrupted by a goal by Beall senior Erin Moulden off an assist by Rachel Armstrong with 27:19 remaining in the contest.

Southern freshman Corey Lewis knotted the score at 1-1 about 13 minutes later with a goal off a feed by Naylor, which ultimately sent the match into the first overtime period.

It wasn't until the 3:52 mark of the second overtime, that Moulden iced the sudden-death win for Beall, scoring off a ball deflected away by Rush. It was Moulden's 12th goal of the season.

Had the match still been tied at the end of the second overtime, the outcome would have been decided by penalty kicks.

The Rams were out-gunned in shots on goal by a 17-9 margin, and Beall also finished with a 3-1 lead in corner kicks. Rush was credited with five saves for the Rams, while Kacey Kahl recorded six for the Mountaineers.

"We basically lost on a deflected ball that just rolled into the net right past Alasha (Rush)," stated Coach Petrella. "It's always a shock to lose that way. But that's part of soccer, and Beall is a very good team."

"I'm really disappointed for our girls," he said. "After we lost so many seniors last year, I wasn't sure what to expect coming into this season. But these girls worked extremely hard all year, they worked through a lot of injuries, and they far exceeded my expectations."

The Rams should return a strong squad next year, as only three seniors will be lost to graduation: Brittany Naylor, Kristen Oxford, and Chelsea Remley.

"We're really going to miss these three girls," Petrella said. "They played incredible soccer for us, and more importantly, they are just great kids. I've really enjoyed having them on our team."

It was indeed a difficult season for the Rams from an injury standpoint, as at least half the season was played without one or more of their starting 11. Among the injuries was a broken hand of junior Alasha Rush, one of the area's most outstanding goalkeepers, which kept her out of the net in several matches.

"Alasha was devastated with Monday's loss, and took all the blame for not stopping that ball that was deflected into the net and won the match for Beall," Petrella said. "But I talked to her yesterday (Tuesday) and she's already looking forward to next year."

Petrella noted his appreciation to the parents, fans, and Southern High School. "We have a fantastic support group, which adds so much to the joy of coaching this outstanding group of young ladies," he said.

Northern Ice Takes AYSO Region Title

The Northern Ice U-14 girls' Cumberland AYSO league youth soccer team capped an outstanding 11-1-1 regular season recently by taking the West Region title at the Maryland State Youth Soccer Association Chevy Cup Tournament. The Grantsville-based squad dominated the regular campaign by outscoring AYSO opponents by a combined 66-5 margin, as nine of fourteen girls netted goals, then went on to record a 15-1 scoring advantage through its four region tourney wins.

Northern's girls excelled on defense throughout the season, as goal keepers Kacie Fratz and Amber Savage allowed only five goals in 13 games, recording nine shut-outs along the way. The defense was anchored by center fullback Bethani Gillum, with strong support from Carolyn Maxum, Devan Yoder, and Susan Thatcher. The quartet allowed only 44 shots on goal for the season.

The mid-field was controlled by Erin Brenneman and Victoria Moser, whose transition skills were complemented by outside mid-fielders Megan Wiley and Allison Yoder. The Ice girls dominated the mid-field throughout the season with a solid ball-control game.

The forward attacking line used an effective passing strategy to average six goals per game. Brittany Stein, Sarah Voelkel, and Kaitlyn Fratz secured the wings by launching perimeter shots to the back of the net, and Adria Graham provided excitement at the striker position with her speed and agility.

The Northern Ice U-14 girls' team competes in the Cumberland AYSO's spring and fall seasons against 12 other league teams from Cumberland, Frostburg, LaVale, Mt. Savage, Westernport, and Lonaconing. Any girls under 14 interested in joining the squad may call coach Jeff Graham at 301-895-3307.

Graham expressed his appreciation for the special support the Ice received during the season from Grantsville Elementary School Principal Linda Buckel, Stein Brothers Construction, and John Milbourne of the Northern Garrett Soccer Club.

Northern Girls Stopped In Soccer Playoffs By Boonsboro

A pair of unassisted goals by Sarah Keyser in the second half led to the demise of the 2002 soccer season for the Northern High School girls' varsity, as the Huskies were stopped by visiting Boonsboro last Thursday, 3-1, in a quarterfinal of the Class 1A West Regional playoffs.

The visitors took a 1-0 lead just over three minutes into the match when Stephanie McGee took a corner kick and the ball bounced off a Northern defender and into the net.

Keyser put the Warriors on top for good with her first unassisted goal at the 27:58 mark of the second half. She tacked on the insurance goal for her team just over four minutes later.

The Huskies were out-gunned in shots on goal by a 14-8 margin and in corner kicks, 4-1. Sarah Masters was credited with 11 saves in goal for Northern, and Haley Butner turned away seven of the Warriors' shots.

BORN 8/22/82 DIED 11/13/99

Three years have passed since my son DeReck was taken from my life and soul.

I often have wondered what DeReck would be doing with his life at his point. Maybe working with cars as a mechanic, or out at the new race track in Pleasant Valley. He loved riding 4-wheelers and dirt bikes. This type of extreme sports would bring a twinkle to his eye.

I often sit and wish I could have had one more time with DeReck. I would want to tell him on a daily basis how much I loved him and how proud I am of him. And to push him toward doing anything he set his mind to. This is something a mom wants to do for her children.

And one day I know that we will be together again, and I will be able to tell him! Everyone needs to remember: Tell your loved ones on a daily basis how much you love them, because in the blink of an eye, your life can be turned upside down, and you may be searching for answers that will never come.

In honor of DeReck, please remember to take guns seriously. They are not toys. They are deadly, and they take loved ones every day. No one should have to endure the pain we have suffered. Be wise, be careful, be smart.

In loving memory and sadly missed by Mom, Family, and Friends

Rams Play Good First Half, But Blanked By Fort Hill

It was another lopsided loss, but there was at least one bright spot for Southern High School varsity football coaches Friday night at Greenway Avenue Stadium in Cumberland. The Rams were blanked by a talented Fort Hill team, 40-0, but the bright spot was that the young SHS squad trailed the Sentinels by only 12-0 at halftime.

It was the eighth defeat in nine games for the struggling Rams, leaving only the Garrett County clash with rival Northern this Friday night in Oakland before a long, difficult season will come to an end.

for the Fort Hill Sentinels to score at will against the Rams, but they managed just two touchdowns and a pair of missed conversions in the first half, as the Southern offensive unit possessed the ball for nearly 19½ minutes of the 24-minute half.

Fullback Andre Pope, who led Fort Hill with 116 yards on just eight carries, put the first points on the board when he scored on a 24-yard run with 3:08 remaining in the first quarter. The pass for the conversion was no good.

The Sentinels doubled their lead early in the second quarter when they capped a 47-yard, five-play drive with a 17-yard touchdown run by Joel Fradiska. The conversion kick by Dustin Dawson failed.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Rams were tackled on their own one-yard line, but were successful in recording a 19-play, 77-yard drive that ate up 11 minutes on the clock, but ended without any points on the Fort Hill 22.

first possession, with Fradiska recording the TD on a seven-yard run with 7:47 remaining in the third quarter. Pope ran successfully for the conversion, making it 20-0.

The Rams were unable to move the ball on their next possession, and Fort Hill needed only three plays to cover 40 yards for a touchdown, scored on a 10-yard run by Randy Rice. Dawson's PAT kick made it 28-0 with 5:23 left in the

Ram Freshmen Whipped 28-6 By Fort Hill

The freshman football team of Southern High School was no match for the undefeated freshmen of Fort Hill last Thursday evening at Greenway Avenue Stadium in Cumberland, where the Rams were whipped by the 8-0 Sentinels, 28-6.

Trevor Neff ran for a pair of touchdowns for Fort Hill, while quarterback Jeff Lee and Kain Metz each scored one six-pointer, both via runs. Lee also passed for one two-point conversion.

Scoring for the Rams in the fourth quarter was Jeff Gank on a four-yard carry. The game was the season finale for the Rams.

KITZMILLER VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE CHAMPS — The Kitzmiller Empowerment Group sponsored a volleyball league recently that concluded its season recently. The league had four teams — the Butt Stompers, the Drug Destroyers, the Abuse Refusers, and the Alcohol Eliminators — with a total of 38 players age 12 and up. The champions of the Kitzmiller Volleyball League for 2002 were the Abuse Refusers, who are shown above, kneeling from the left: Ashley Davis and Sandy Browning. third period.

An interception ended the Rams' next opportunity for a score, and the Sentinels used just six plays to return the ball 77 yards for a touchdown, with Pope breaking loose for a 25-yard scoring run at the 10:12 mark of the final quarter. The kick for the extra point failed.

An eight-yard touchdown run by John Painter capped Fort Hill's final offensive drive of the evening, which covered 42 yards on six plays. Dawson booted the extra point to conclude the scoring.

Also breaking the 100-yard mark in rushing was Fort Hill's Fradiska, who racked up 106 yards on 10 carries, and Southern's Billy Schmidt, who paced the Rams' ground game with 105 yards on 18 carries.

"We played very well in the first half," stated Southern coach Fred Gregg. "We were pleased with our kids' effort, but we were just out-matched. Coach Lattimer (Fort Hill) was right when he said that his team came out in the second half, wore us down, and broke our will."

"But our play in the first half was a positive thing for us to build on," he said, "because it proved to the kids that they can play at a level higher than even they thought they could."

The Rams will be playing for pride and county bragging rights this Friday evening when they host rival Northern in the final game of the season for both teams. For the first time in many years, both teams are sporting identical records, with just two victories (one each) in 18 games. Historically, team records have had little to do with the intensity — and many times, the outcome — of the Southern-Northern clash, as both sides seemed to automatically step things up a notch.

"You can just throw out the records when it comes to the Northern-Southern game," Gregg said. "Certainly this year neither one of us has anything to lose, so it should be a fun, exciting game."

Besides the emotional aspect of the contest, Gregg is concerned about the quality of Coach Phil Carr's squad.

"This team is a lot better than their record indicates," he said. "They are very physical up front, they have strong, solid running backs, and they can throw the ball."

155), senior back Aaron Mitchell (6-1, 170), and big senior lineman Tom Menges (6-3, 290).

"Wolfe is very quick, Mitchell is a hard, elusive runner, and Menges is a big, strong kid who does a great job up front for them," he said.

The Huskies typically run from the wishbone, but utilize a lot of veer sets. "They are basically an option team, but they also have a good power-running game, and they have had a lot of big-play passes this year to either score or set up a score," Gregg said. "They are very diverse."

Defensively, Northern uses a 50 front, but has been experimenting with some 6-2 because of some injuries. "Coach (Frank) Ewing does a great job and always has a good game plan," Gregg noted.

"This will be an important game for both teams," he continued. "A win would help offset an otherwise disappointing season and would give us a much better feeling going into the off-season."

Gregg said that his team is generally healthy, with the exception of starting senior lineman Bart Shaffer, who is listed as "questionable" because of a knee problem.

Friday's kickoff is set for 7 p.m. at the SHS athletic field. For one of the first times this season, it appears that the weather will be dry, with temperatures expected to be in the 50s. Fans are encouraged to come to the field early for a tailgate party.

NHS Offense Hits Stride; Defense Struggles In 34-28 Loss To 'Cats

The forecast was for rain this past Friday night, and it poured touchdowns in Lonaconing as the Northern High school varsity football team and host Westmar scored a total of nine records in a 34-28 Wildcat victory. Four touchdowns came in a 46-second burst in the second quarter, as each team scored twice on running plays and on consecutive kickoff returns.

Husky halfback Mike Wolf turned in an excellent performance to spark a superb NHS running game, as the sophomore carried the ball 23 times for 219 yards and one touchdown that covered 70 yards. Teammate Aaron Mitchell had a fine night as well, as he reeled off a 74-yard kickoff return for a touchdown and captured two interceptions at cornerback. The damage was done on the other side of the ball, however, as Westmar halfback Bobby Alkire gained 236 yards on 24 carries, three of which ended in scores.

"We played hard and had a good chance at taking this one," NHS skipper Phil Carr commented afterward, "but we just couldn't put together four good quarters of football. We're starting to put our offense together, although a couple of fumbles killed drives, but on defense we're still scratching our heads in trying to get things going. There's an obvious aggressiveness on the part of some of the guys, and we need to be especially aggressive because we're not the biggest or strongest team out there."

The arm tackling we've been seeing this year isn't going to bring any good runners down, and it shows in the touchdown and runs we're giving away."

Friday night's scoreless first quarter, highlighted by an interception by the Huskies' Ian Wooden, gave little indication of the flood that was to come. The dam began to leak just seven seconds into the second stanza, when Alkire scored on a 15-yard carry to put the Wildcats up by six.

offensive possession, the strong side of the Huskies' line lived up to its name by flattening the Beall defenders and springing Wolf for a 70-yard touchdown scamper. "Jordan Brenneman, Tommy Menges, and Corey Fike did some great blocking on that play," Carr said, "and when Wolf gets through the line like that he can go a long way." After Mitchell carried the ball in for the conversion run, NHS held an 8-6 lead — momentarily.

The very next play, Northern bootied its kickoff downfield to Westmar's Dan Duncan, who started his return at the 'Cats 15-yard line. Duncan didn't stop until 85 yards later as he crossed the goal line with a touchdown, and an Alkire extra-point carry put the hosts up 14-8.

The second half crested on the very next play, when Mitchell got into the act by taking Westmar's kickoff and reeling off a 74-yard touchdown return of his own. "We did what we've been trying to do all year," observed Carr. "The assignments were carried out perfectly. Every one of our guys found his man and threw a good block, and Aaron found a seam and went right up the middle untouched."

A total of 46 ticks of the clock had elapsed from Westmar's initial score to Mitchell's touchdown, which knotted the score at 14-14.

Westmar fumbled on its next offensive possession, when a botched quarterback/halfback exchange set the ball loose. Northern tackle John Beachy alertly jumped on the pigskin, and NHS's offense took over. The Huskies embarked on a dominating march that culminated in a 10-yard touchdown strike from Frantz to Fike, his tight end, who was wide open in the back of the end zone.

"We called a play action, using the same look that had worked for Wolf's touchdown carry, and several other successful runs in that drive," recalled Carr. "The defense took the bait, leaving a linebacker to leave Fike, and Corey Fike behind him on a corner route and Andrew made a fine throw." The touchdown gave the Huskies a 20-14 lead with 6:20 remaining in the first half.

Northern's advantage lasted only just over two minutes, however, as Westmar's Duncan hit receiver Blake Riggelman with a 15-yard scoring pass. A successful extra-point kick gave the hosts a one-point lead. Mitchell killed another Westmar scoring opportunity when he picked off a pass at Northern's 13-yard line with less than 30 seconds to go in the half.

The Wildcats scored twice in the third quarter, first on a five-yard Alkire touchdown run at the 5:55 mark, then on a 78-yard Alkire ramble with 37 seconds remaining in the stanza. "It was a basic toss sweep to the outside, a play we should have stopped," Carr said of the second touchdown. "We just weren't aggressive enough, and when a good runner like that gets going, no arm tackle in the world is going to bring him down." After the second score, Westmar held a 34-20 lead.

Northern had a golden chance to get back into the game immediately after Alkire's long scoring run, but a fine 12-yard rushing gain by Wolf ended in disaster when the NHS halfback fumbled the ball away. "Mike had made a fine run, and was going for more at the end of the play, giving it his all like we want our guys to do," remarked Carr. "During the extra effort struggle, though, he took a good hit from a Wildcat defender that knocked the ball loose."

The hosts recovered the ball on their own 35-yard line, but failed to capitalize.

Two minutes into the final stanza, Mitchell picked off his second pass of the day to kill an almost certain Wildcat scoring drive at the NHS three-yard line. The Huskies then embarked on a near-perfect 12-play, 97-yard scoring drive that ended with a two-yard keeper touchdown by Frantz. "We had no mistakes and no penalties on the drive, something you're always striving for on the high school level," commented Carr. "The only downside was that we took over 10 minutes off the clock getting to the end zone. You can't complain about that, however."

Down by six — easy striking distance — with just under two minutes to play, Northern played its hand by attempting an onside kick. Westmar successfully gathered the bouncing ball in, and soon the game was over.

The Huskies had reason to be pleased with their offensive performance, as NHS's runners racked up 16 rushing first downs and 324 yards on the ground. Frantz completed three of six passes, including the touchdown toss, for 22 yards.

Northern knows it will have its work cut out for it tomorrow night when the Huskies visit Oakland for the annual NHS-SHS battle. Both teams bring a 1-8 record into the contest, but, as Carr said, this one game will be a whole new season for both teams. "You can throw the records out when Northern and Southern get together," the NHS coach remarked. "We know we'll get their best effort, and hope we can give them our best night of football. Each team knows it's better than 1-8, and it should be a big, hard-hitting game, as usual."

"Our defense is our biggest concern, because we've seen Southern's offense make some big improvements over the year. We know we need to stay tail-be tested by a Southern defense led by Schmidt and fellow linebackers Tressler and Chris Bennett (6-0, 218).

"This is the last chance for both teams to show what they're made of," commented Carr. "The winner of this game will have bragging rights, and the loser will have a whole year to think about their loss. We know that Southern is always well-coached and well-prepared, and it's going to take our best effort to win this one. It's time to play like full quarters."

Kickoff for tomorrow night's contest at Southern is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Maddawgs' Runs Stopped In Tough Pee-Wee Battles

The Northern Maddawgs traveled to Greenway Stadium in Cumberland recently to take part in the Pee-Wee Football League playoff semifinals, where the Maddawgs C team lost a 19-14 battle to the Hampshire Panthers, and Northern's combined A&B unit fell in a heartbreaking 31-27 defeat at the hands of the Raiders of Allegany County in the nightcap.

The Maddawgs C team drew first blood in its contest with the Panthers when Patrick Sines capped a

Dear Ms. Nettie,
I find the internet very useful for collecting information but there are days when I lose valuable time waiting for web pages to download. Why do some pages take longer to download than others?

Short Timer

Dear Short Timer,
Many factors affect how fast a Web page travels from its Web site to your computer. Web pages may load slowly for the following reasons:

- Your modem transmits data slowly.
- Traffic on the Web site you are loading is heavy.
- The page's file is large. It contains graphic, sound, or video files, for example, in addition to text.

To decrease download time, try these pointers:

- Get the latest version of your browser software.
- Buy a faster modem that transmits at a rate of at least 28,800 baud or 28 kbps (56 kbps is typically now considered to be the standard).
- Browse during off-peak hours.
- Turn off sound and images in your browser software. Text-only pages load faster.
- If a page is loading so slowly that you think it may be stuck, clicking the Stop button on your browser's toolbar, and try to load the page again.

Many New Faces In GC Laker Lineup; Season Begins Friday

When the Garrett College men's basketball team takes the court in this Friday's season opener there will be few familiar faces for Laker fans, as Coach Dennis Gibson is working with a dozen new recruits following a mass departure of sophomores this past spring.

The Lakers will begin their campaign by hosting the Garrett Student Life Preview Classic, an event that will include Potomac State College, Harford Community College, and CCAC-South. Friday's 5 p.m. opener will pit Potomac State against Harford, and the Lakers will meet CCAC-South in the 7 p.m. clash. Saturday's contests will have PSC against CCAC-South at 1 p.m., and the Lakers vs. Harford in a 3 p.m. tipoff.

Gone from this year's GC lineup are All-American Kortaa Hall, All-Region center Jontae Harrington, and freshman sensation Duke Cooper, who is now utilizing his passing skills as a starting point guard for Robert Morris College in Pittsburgh. A number of other players have either graduated, transferred, or opted for a redshirt season for a variety of reasons.

Two experienced players who should be among the Lakers' starting five are 6-6 small forward Darren Stackhouse and 6-4 guard Andrew Wass from nearby Turkeyfoot High School. But both are currently sidelined with injuries, Stackhouse with a knee ligament problem and Wass with stress fractures. Gibson said that both could be out for the season, pending a report from their physicians.

Presently the only returnee is 5-9-point guard Antuon Townsend, who had a solid season last year as a backup to Cooper.

Gibson, now in his 18th season as the Laker mentor, said that it could turn into a long season if his young squad is unable to put things together quickly.

"I am confident that this group can get it done," he said. "I felt a little better when we had Stackhouse and Wass, but it is a real tribute to these guys that

LAKERS TO OPEN TOMORROW - The 2002-03 campaign of Garrett College men's basketball will kick off tomorrow when the Lakers host the Garrett Student Life Classic, a tournament that will include teams from Potomac State College, Harford Community College, and CCAC-South. Coach Dennis Gibson will field a young team this season, as a number of sophomores from last year were lost to graduation, and two more are on the injured

Along with Townsend in the starting lineup will be three true freshmen and one redshirted freshman. Expected to start at the other guard spot is 6-2 James Jones, a product of Southern of Anne Arundel, where as a senior he earned all-county honors and was his team's MVP, averaging over 22 points a game.

At small forward, Gibson believes that Kevin Essex, a high-flying 6-4 freshman from Wakefield High in Arlington, Va., will be "a force to be reckoned with." Essex played only through his junior season at Wakefield, but led his team in scoring and earned second-team national district honors. As a starter for the prestigious AAU team, the DC Assault, his teammates included Keith Bogans and Cliff Hawkins, who play for Kentucky, Kevin Lyle of Temple, and James White, University of Florida.

The post spots have solid depth, and the power forward position will be anchored by 6-7 Lee Parris, a former standout for Woodrow Wilson High School, Beckley, W.Va. He transferred to W.Va. State College last season, but did not participate on the basketball team. He decided to return to Garrett this fall.

At center will be Daniel Green, who at only 6-4 will have his work cut out for him. A redshirt from last year, Green played his freshman year at the New Kensington campus of Penn State. He is a product of athletic powerhouse Perry High School in Pittsburgh.

Gibson said he is pleased with his starting rotation, but added that a strong bench is the key to a successful season.

"All of these guys have earned a starting spot, but with all of these new players the choice has not been easy," he said. "We have some outstanding freshmen who are going to push these five for a chance to start, but more importantly, they are going to be able to come in and play at a high level."

One of Gibson's first substitutes will no doubt be 6-7 Larry Blocker from Brockport High in Rochester, N.Y. "Larry brings another element to our team with his ability to score from 15 feet and closer, coupled with his outstanding leaping ability," Gibson said. Blocker averaged 22 points and 15 rebounds per contest in high school.

Other newcomers who have impressed Gibson are guards Tristan Largent, Neil Watson, Alvin Jones, and Rashard Ellis. "Each brings something different to the table," Gibson said.

Largent, from Martinsburg High, helped lead the Bulldogs to the state semifinals in Charleston, averaging 11 points, seven assists, and three steals per game.

Watson, of McNamara in Washington, D.C., a school known to ACIT fans, can also play the point if needed. At McNamara he averaged 15 points and three assists per game, and had a career high 22 points against DeMatha in a huge upset victory.

Jones, a stocky shooting guard who is skilled from long range, hails from Wilson High School, also in Washington, where he led his team in scoring with 18 ppg, plus five assists per outing. He also paced his team in three-point percentage and was #1 in the DCIAA in free-throw shooting at 86%.

"All three of these guys are also excellent students, and received many awards from their respective ing 20 points and a dozen rebounds per contest.

"We should be a pretty good team," Gibson said, "especially by second semester. If it were just basketball, I wouldn't be worried about these guys. But when you factor in the rigors of adapting to Garrett County, the academic demands we make, and just the fact that they are 18 or 19 and away from home for the first time, a lot of things could change. I know for sure, though, that we will be an exciting team to watch. In fact, I'm trying to adjust my coaching style to be able to better capitalize on the up-tempo talents of these guys."

"But the big question is, as always, are they going to stay together and play together? So far this has been one of the best teams I have ever worked with. They play hard, they don't complain, and they are getting it done academically. I am very proud of them, and also the guys who are here to redshirt this season," he concluded.

PREVIEW CLASSIC

The Lakers will go into their Preview Classic tomorrow as the defending champions of the event, having rolled over CCAC-South last year behind a 25-point performance by Kortaa Hall and crushing Harford with a 22-point effort by Jontae Harrington.

Sponsorship of the tournament has changed, with Garrett Student Services hosting an open house for invited high school students. There will be a campus tour, free pizza, and free admission to the tournament games.

Both Harford and CCAC-South played last week in Hagerstown CC's Hall of Fame Tournament. South lost to Hagerstown and Harford fell to Rockville.

The Lakers will also play next Wednesday night at Penn State-Fayette in Uniontown, Pa., and then host the annual McDonald's Tournament Nov. 15-16.

Student Life Tourney Set At Garrett College

A special invitation has been issued to high school students and to others who have an interest in attending Garrett College to have a pizza lunch, hear about college programs and services, tour the campus, and see an intercollegiate basketball game on Saturday, Nov. 9, beginning at noon in the Lakers Café.

At 3 p.m. that day the Garrett Lakers will meet Harford Community College in the final game of the Student Life Tourney. The two teams met in the regular season last year, with Garrett winning 107-79. The tournament will begin on Friday, Nov. 8, with Potomac State College meeting Harford at 5 p.m., and Garrett meeting CCAC-South at 7 p.m. in a classic tourney format.

Southern Girls Qualify For State Cross Country Meet

The girls' cross country team of Southern High School will return as a team to the 1A state championships at Hereford High School this Saturday by virtue of finishing third in the West Regional meet hosted by Clear Spring last Friday.

Meanwhile, the Southern boys' squad just missed qualifying as a team and will send just one individual runner, Craig Conroy, to Saturday's state meet.

The SHS girls finished with 75 team points, just three behind second-place Beall. Williamsport, with four of its top five finishers freshmen, dominated the meet and won easily with a score of 35. Tied for fourth place were Westmar and Boonsboro with 97 points each, followed by Clear Spring with 147 and Hancock with 205. Competing with incomplete teams were Smithsburg and South Hagerstown.

Leading the Rams were Natalie Domenick, who placed sixth overall with a time of 20:57, while Melissa Durst placed eighth in 21:14. Emily Cosner was 17th across the line, Mandi Stahl was 21st, Lisa Wade placed 23rd, Elizabeth Thayer was 26th, and Sarah Cosner finished 27th.

The fastest runner in the girls' race was Westmar's Jennifer Patton, a sophomore, who recorded a time of 19:37. Rachel Armstrong of Beall was second (20:07), Williamsport freshmen Amanda Breeden and Makenna Hardy were third (20:21) and fourth (20:22), and Heather Sagal of Beall placed fifth (20:46).

Durst, a senior, typically led the Rams all season long, with Domenick always a close second. "Melissa just didn't feel good at all," Booth said. "She really struggled, and had she had her normal race, we would have definitely finished second as a team."

"But it really didn't matter, because this Saturday's race is the most important one," he said, "and we will be there."

The Southern boys' squad was paced once again by Conroy, a junior, who finished 11th with a time of 17:51. Nathan Rodeheaver was 19th (18:23), followed by Keenan Shaffer in 23rd; Wesley Thomas, 26th; David Cuddington, 32nd; Jared Reckart, 40th; and Levi Filsinger, 43rd.

The Rams finished with 111 team points. Beall captured first place with 45 points, followed by Clear Spring and Westmar tied for second with 68, and Williamsport with 88. Finishing behind Southern were South Hagerstown with 140, and Boonsboro and Smithsburg tied with 196. Fielding incomplete teams were Allegany and Hancock.

Tyler Bennett of Westmar was West Region's individual champion, as he recorded a time of 17:05. Beall's Dan DeWitt, only a sophomore, crossed the finish line second, just one second behind Bennett. Rounding out the top five were Jeremy Everitts and Ryan Shank of Clear Spring in third (17:18) and fourth (17:22) places, and Ricky Cook of Westmar in fifth (17:36).

Had Allegany had a complete team present, the Rams would have qualified as a team for the state meet with their fifth place finish.

"Two members of Allegany's team didn't go because of a school dance," stated Ram coach Carl Booth. "That probably cost us a trip to states. And ironically, those boys would have had plenty of time to get back to Cumberland to make that dance."

Booth said that he believes the Southern girls, coached by Louie Newcomb, have a chance at second place at the state meet. "I don't see any way that Williamsport can be touched," he said, "but we have a shot at second."

This will be the last year of coaching for both Booth and Newcomb, a duo whose teams amassed seven state titles during the 1990s. Booth's teams from 1993 through 1997 won an unprecedented five straight championships. Under Newcomb's leadership, the Southern girls won two state titles and two runner-up trophies.

Mtn. Top Hoops League Season Opens Sunday

The Mountain Top Unlimited Age Basketball League will open its season this Sunday, Nov. 9, at the Garrett College gymnasium. There are eight teams competing in the league this season.

Sunday's game slate, with assigned scoring duties appearing in parenthesis, is as follows: 1 p.m. - Copeland's vs. Deep Creek Ready Mix (Condoerr); 2 p.m. - Condoerr vs. 84 Lumber (Copeland's); 3 p.m. - Smiley's vs. Scott Ford (Plaza Hobby); and 4 p.m. - Plaza Hobby vs. Seboid's (Scott Ford).

Any player under 18 must have a signed parental permission slip before he will be allowed to participate. All teams must send two representatives for scorekeeping duty. Maddawgs' Runs unit found the end zone.

The Maddawgs' C season ended with a 7-3 record.

The A&B playoff game opened with an impressive showing by the Maddawgs B team offense. Northern marched down the field in drives that ended with Kameron Kamp and Alex Baker touchdown carries, along with respective Cody Rodeheaver and Alex Baker extra point runs. Northern's B team defense held strong, and at the end of the quarter the Maddawgs were in the driver's seat with a 14-0 lead.

The second quarter was a different story, however. While the Maddawgs A team offense struggled to move the ball, the unit's defense gave up three Raider touchdowns. The stanza ended with the roles now reversed, as the Raiders went into the half holding an 18-14 advantage.

The third stanza belonged to the Raiders as well, as Northern's B team offense was not able to repeat its strong first quarter showing. The Maddawgs B defense gave up a touchdown that increased the Raiders' lead to nine points, 25-14.

The Maddawgs A team came out in the fourth quarter playing hard, with the offensive line blowing open holes in the defense repeatedly. The fine blocking eventually led to a Ryan Evans touchdown carry and extra point that cut the Raider lead to 25-21. The Raiders' offense got a touchdown on an excellent fingertip catch that widened the gap to 10 points.

The Maddawgs A team offense responded to the challenge by embarking on a scoring drive that ended in another Evans touchdown run and, although the extra point attempt failed, closed the margin to the final 31-27 tally.

The Maddawgs A&B team finished the regular season with a 7-1 mark and the division championship,

Local Athletes Help FSU Win In Cross Country

Two Garrett County student athletes helped the Frostburg State University cross country teams capture titles in the Allegheny Mountain Collegiate Conference Championships, an event that was hosted by Penn State Behrend and included seven teams.

Beth Sauder, a junior and former standout in cross country and track and field for Southern High School, placed eighth in the women's race with a time of

The Bobcat women placed five runners in the top nine to capture their fifth overall AMCC title. FSU, which placed second a year ago, scored 34 points to edge defending champion Penn State Behrend, which finished with 42 points.

The FSU men, who won the title for the second straight year and the fifth time in the last six years, scored 22 points to easily out-distance second-place Penn State Behrend with 46,

Kitzmiller Man Injured In Dirt Bike Accident

A Kitzmiller man was admitted to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, after an accident Sunday evening when he allegedly lost control of his 1980s model Honda XR dirt bike along Vindex Road, according to Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Charles Elaric Craver, 33, was transported to Memorial Hospital by Maryland State Police Trooper 5. The investigation is continuing, and charges are pending, police said.

Kitzmiller fire department, Elk District ambulance, and Southern Rescue Squad also assisted on the scene.

In another reported accident, Hector Aponte, 50, Latrobe, Pa., was charged with several offenses after his 2001 Chevy truck drove off Paradise Heights Road and hit a tree Saturday evening, police said.

Aponte failed field sobriety tests, and was charged with driving under the influence (DUI), driving while impaired (DWI), and failure to control speed to avoid a collision.

He was later released,

WALKING TO SCHOOL IN KITZMILLER - Kitzmiller students, parents, and community leaders recently celebrated Walk to School Day, which provides the opportunity for communities to recognize the importance of physical activity and safe walkable communities. Community Health and Outreach of the Garrett County Health Department sponsored the event. Other schools participating in the Walk to School Day were Bloomington and Friendsville. police said. A 40-year-old passenger was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, for treatment of injuries.

Assisting at the scene were Southern Rescue Squad and Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company.

In other police news, Duane A. Garlitz, 38, Friendsville, was arrested Thursday night and charged with various drunk driving charges after his vehicle was stopped for an equipment violation.

After failing field sobriety tests, Garlitz was charged with DUI, DWI, driving on a suspended license, and equipment violations.

Unemployment Drops In Sept. To 3.9 Percent

The Governor's Press Office recently announced that Maryland's unemployment rate declined from 4.2 percent in August to 3.9 percent in September, as the labor market exhibited traditional seasonal patterns. Employment receded even though employers eliminated summer positions and the labor force contracted as seasonal workers exited the job market.

"Maryland continues to demonstrate economic stability as employment consistently exceeds previous record levels each month and the state's unemployment rate remains significantly lower than the national average," said Gov. Parris N. Glendening. "This is yet another indication that Maryland's economy is remaining fundamentally strong."

During September, continued reductions in seasonal jobs caused employment to decline as anticipated. Even with this decline, Maryland employment reached a record-setting level for the month at 2,795,563, exceeding last year's count by more than 58,200 workers.

Individuals exiting the job market helped to compensate for this decline and helped to remove 9,064 people from the unemployment rolls, according to the governor's office.

"In September, recall activity in education and transportation services, complemented by continued hiring in construction, helped to override the impact of seasonal reductions in select retail trade and services industries," said a governor's office spokesperson.

In western Maryland, recall activity helped to elevate employment in the area, removing nearly 470 people from the unemployment rolls and pushing the unemployment rate down to 3.9 percent in September, according to the spokesperson.

Locally, Garrett County's unemployment rate is at an all-time low. August's rate with the exodus of seasonal workers. In Maryland, unemployment rates declined in all but one jurisdiction. More than half of the jurisdictions reported unemployment rates below the state-wide average and as low as 2.3 percent in Calvert County, 2.4 percent in Queen Anne's County, 2.5 percent in Montgomery County, and 2.6 percent in Carroll County.

The national and state unemployment rates were compiled by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

THANK YOU

We want to give thanks to the Southern Rescue Squad and the Oakland Fire Department for their quick response to our home the night of October 30th, saving our family from carbon monoxide poisoning. Because of a generator in the garage used to run freezers, we were able to use the fireplace for heat during the power outage. As a warning to others, although the generator was in the garage separated from the house by a breezeway shut off hours before, we were still poisoned and were very lucky to have been rescued!

We also want to thank Dr. Dominick, Dr. Walsh, the ER staff, the 3rd Floor Nurses and all for our family's care. Also all of our friends who came to the hospital, and the calls and visits to our home. In deep appreciation of everyone involved we thank you!

- The Massey Family

In the Wake of War

"Take my word for it, if you had seen but one day of war, you would pray to Almighty God that you might never see such a thing again."

Arthur Wellesley, Duke of Wellington

There is little doubt that our veterans echo this strong sentiment by Arthur Wellesley. On this day set aside for those who have returned from war, we must remember the ways in which war altered their lives and often their futures.

They took with them strong young bodies. Some returned crippled and many were aged by the horrors of battle. They took with them hopes for the future. They returned to relive flashes of horror from the past. They took with them an appetite for victory. They returned knowing a hunger for peace, for in war there is no true victory.

This Veteran's Day let us be inspired by those who sacrifice for us today as we remember those we have lost...in the wake of war.

TRAGEDY AT LAST!

November 10, 2002

Background Scripture: Psalms 42:5-11.
Devotional Reading: Lamentations.

Roy Rogers

Q. I have a poster of Roy Rogers and Trigger that was issued in 1948. It is still in its original canister and in pristine condition. Where can I market it? — Arlys, Granite Falls, Minn.

A. Roy Rogers was born Leonard A. Slye in Ohio in 1911. He organized a cowboy band, and by the mid-1930s was touring with the Sons of the Pioneers. He changed his name legally to Roy Rogers in 1942 and eventually appeared in more than 80 feature films. He and his wife, Dale Evans, were known as the King and Queen of the Cowboys throughout the world.

The first Roy Rogers comic book was published in 1944, the same year his network radio career began. It was his television series broadcast on NBC during the 1950s that made him truly famous. Merchandising of Roy Rogers was a serious business and included more than 400 franchised products, including such items as cowboy hats, clocks that featured both Roy and his horse, Trigger, cap pistols, games, recordings and books.

Several dozen items promoting Roy Rogers were found on eBay, including a milk mug issued by Quaker Oats in 1950, $45; a flash camera, circa 1955, $350; and a Rider's Club membership card signed and dated in 1951, $90.

To find out the value of your poster, you might want to contact the Roy Rogers & Dale Evans Museum, 15650 Seneca Road, Victorville, CA 92392. Linda Burke is both an expert and collector of Roy Rogers materials. Her address is P.O. Box 513, Williamsburg, MA 01096.

A Cat Who's Mad for Carpet

Q. We recently moved to a new home. Our cat has no claws, but he is taking the carpet and ripping it up with his teeth. He is usually calm for about a week, but then he starts at the carpet again, and it is one or two days before he stops. How can we stop this permanently? — Carl W., Ocala, Fla.

A. It sounds like your cat is very stressed out. I recommend taking him to the vet right away.

Moving to a new home is a real stress for pets of all kinds. There's a new territory to learn, unfamiliar smells and a disruption of their normal schedule. Some cats that have been declawed feel even more frightened, because they don't know if the environment is dangerous and their primary means of defense — sharp front claws — have been removed.

Your cat has either developed a taste for carpet fiber (unlikely), or he needs to release some of his fear and uncertainty and is acting out by ripping up the carpet. Many "clawed" cats treat carpet this way, but this cat is using his teeth in a compulsive manner. The danger is that he could ingest the fibers, which may cause problems and make him very ill.

The veterinarian should examine your cat for illness, and he will probably recommend medication to calm him down.

Back home, do your part by providing a regular routine for the cat, lots of crunchy treats, and cat-safe toys. Purchase a special spray at the pet store that will deter him from gnawing at the carpet. Spray it daily on the surfaces he likes to tear up.

The Allegany College of Maryland Foundation recently announced that a Mtn. Lake Park resident is one of seven AC students in the tri-state that are receiving a memorial scholarship for study in the 2002-03 academic year.

Loretta L. DeWitt was awarded a Mildred M. Ott Memorial Scholarship. She is pursuing an associate degree in nursing toward her goal of becoming a surgical nurse. DeWitt, who studied at Northern Garrett High School, took prerequisite courses at Garrett College before enrolling at AC. McAuliffe Award Funds Available For Teacher Ed.

The Maryland Higher Education Commission (MHEC) is accepting applications for the Sharon Christa McAuliffe Memorial Teacher Education Award for the 2003-2004 academic year. The deadline to apply is Tuesday, Dec. 31.

These scholarships are awarded to Maryland residents who have earned at least 60 college credits, to college graduates, and to teachers in a non-critical shortage area. The goal of the program is to encourage students to teach in shortage areas, which include chemistry; computer science; earth/space science; English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL); mathematics; physical science; physics; Spanish; special education (generic); special education for the severely and profoundly handicapped and visually impaired; and technical education. Persons receiving the scholarship must agree to work as a teacher in the shortage area one year for each year the award is received.

To be eligible, a student must enroll full time or part time at a four-year college or university in a degree-seeking undergraduate program that offers a major in the shortage area. Recipients of the scholarship must maintain a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale.

The maximum award of the scholarship is equivalent to the amount of tuition, mandatory fees, and room and board for a student at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, which is approximately $13,286 a

The Sharon Christa McAuliffe Memorial Teacher Education Award was named in honor of the first teacher to fly in space. A native of Boston, McAuliffe earned a master's degree from Bowie State University. She died in 1986, when the space shuttle Challenger exploded, killing all seven astronauts aboard.

For more information about the McAuliffe Memorial Teacher Education Award or other state scholarship programs, persons may contact MHEC's Office of Student Financial Assistance at 410-260-4565 or 800-974-1024, or visit www.mhec.state.md.us.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

Ocala, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorses' legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx™ and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446.

Notes From Bittering

by Joan Sussman

Last week I thought that Hades had really frozen over. Anyway it seemed so with no electricity, no heat, no lights, and no running water. It certainly made me aware of how much we depend on all the modern conveniences that we just take for granted. As we often lose power in Bittering, I did have a good supply of flashlights and batteries and I recently had bought a box of emergency candles, but the problem was that it was too dark to find them.

My house is filled with lots of scented candles that I had bought from a fundraising project of one of my girls' classes, plus Caitlin is very fond of candles. It was bad enough to be without light, water, or heat, but not as bad as being without phone service. My phone seems to go off and on frequently and it seems to go off when the weather is wet and then mystically heals itself. I really prayed hard for it to come back, but finally the crew from the phone company came today while I was voting and they left me a note saying, "Your phone is repaired." It is true, and I couldn't believe it after getting inside from the really wet weather.

I guess I am not the only female who really needs a phone as I talked to our soon-to-be bride, Lea Stanton, the other day, and she and her mother agree that the phone outage really got to them too. I can't imagine how bad it was for them as they are trying to put the final touches on the wedding plans. I was worried about whether Lea would have a suitable wrap to keep her warm and dry between the wedding and the reception. I happened to have among some nice costume pieces I collected over the years, one being a blonde mink stole which would be just the thing if we still have ugly weather on Saturday. I was frantic to tell them about it. You can't have a beautiful bride's dress covered with a down parka or a pea coat. They already have a light crocheted shawl, which looks fine, but it will not be warm enough for November in Bittering.

Today as I watched the rain pour down I thought I saw a few solid pieces and it felt cold enough to freeze, but it is still only rain. One of our election judges told me that the forecast is for a light snow tonight.

During my first phone call the lights flickered on and off, but thank God right away it came back on. I don't think I am ready for another long stretch of old-fashioned living, but at least I would have a working phone this time. I am afraid to say that, so maybe I should just "knock on wood." Unfortunately, I can only make outside calls and my phone will still not ring. So I guess I am halfway out, but it is better than all

neighbors, but I did hear bad news about Sonny Hare, who is in the hospital in Morgantown with cancer. I was sad to see the big tree in his front lawn had lost so many limbs during the ice storm. Of course, just about everyone had trees losing quite a few branches, but quite a few trees around here were uprooted. The Teetsees lost many trees in their woods.

After I finished voting I drove around to assess the damage. I heard that Legeer Road was pretty bad. It wasn't any worse than the other roads around here. My guess is that the road hit worst was the Frank Brenneman Road. That is just a guess. I tried to make some sense of the rhyme and reason of the tree damage, and it was hard to come to any kind of good conclusion about it. I have heard that this is nature's way of pruning the trees. In Brenneman's Grove it was mostly the young small trees that came down, and I saw lot of maple branches on the ground here and there, but many were spared any damage.

Thank goodness my two maple trees didn't lose branches, but the row of big white pine (?) trees had many broken limbs. My knowledge about tree identity is spotty. I know a few species well, but there are quite a few about which I have no clue.

Many places I saw no damage to the hemlock or hickory, but I was not curious enough to drive back to the hickory grove on the Buckel property near the end of Peat Bog Road. However, Peat Bog Road was much in the news last Thursday when a small single engine airplane crashed in one field on my family farm just below my mother's house. A pilot from Connecticut lost his way in the heavy fog and freezing rain. Apparently he was looking for the Garrett County Airport, which was which are inspired by both the ever-present influences of their desert environment and Muslim religion. Muslims across the globe, including the millions who are citizens of the United States, began their month-long Ramadan fast this week, during which they abstain from eating, drinking, and smoking from sunup to sundown. Among the reasons the annual fast is mandated by the Koran, Islam's holy book, are that fasting teaches self-discipline; underscores dependence on God; and enhances compassion — "Only those who are hungry can know what hunger means, and will be apt to listen more carefully when next approached by someone who is hungry," an American religious scholar wrote. "We had many good friends among the Saudis and within the large (at that time) international community. We enjoyed our time there and found it to be an educational and rewarding experience," said Shepherd.

without any power. Tragically, the pilot lost his life. It was not the first time that I have seen some planes flying way too low over my house. A few years ago on one equally foggy evening a huge cargo plane almost skimmed the top of our barn. I was sure he was looking for the airport, and that evening was also so dark. It is past time that the airport gets a dependable generator.

It is not surprising that some poor pilots from other areas get caught off guard at the terrain and weather around Bittering. We have much more in common in those two things with Vermont than the rest of Maryland. Anyone would be surprised to find two parallel high ridges south of the

Mason-Dixon Line. Unfortunately for this pilot, between the two ridges is an inviting flat area, but in foggy weather or after dark there are a lot of very wet areas in it. If he could have only made another 50 yards farther north and out of the already cut corn field and into the higher drier hay field he probably could have made a safe emergency landing. And, of course, only a few more yards west would have been the Peat Bog Road. Tommy Giot-felty used this road many times to take off and land his planes.

This week starts the "Bittering Babes' Birthday Binges," with Kandi Buckel having hers on November 3rd. Next is mine on the 6th, then Fern Beachy's on the 11th, Sharon Buckel's on the 12th, Beulah Moon's on the 13th (?), and Virginia Brenneman's on the 20th. I am sure I probably missed at least one or more. Kevin Bass and Bill Southerly are not among the Babes, but they do have a birthday this month on the 7th. Both happen to be big Mountaineer fans. Kevin's birth date is questionable since he was born in Japan and is unsure about the datelines. Kevin's childhood friend, Steve Sherrard, had a son born on Kevin's birthday, Sam, who is a classmate and good friend of my Caitlin, who also has a birthday on the 19th.

You would think that we would have a big birthday bash, but everyone seems to be happy to stay at home with lights, water, heat, and television. It was tough to even make it to the fire hall to vote, and by the time I was there, there were 140 out of about 400 voters who had voted. I expect that the number swelled after 5:00 after the work day was over.

It was good to see Sandy Nesline at the polls. Since her early retirement I have not seen much of her. Before voting I got wind of a write-in vote for Wendell Beitzel. I never before did a write-in vote and it was something new.

I do not know much else notable around here except maybe an exciting event during Emmanuel Lutheran Church All Saints Sunday service. There were so many people who lit a candle in remembrance of past saints

PAWS Calendar Sales Under Way

Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety (PAWS) announces that the sale of its 2003 "Celebration of Life With Pets" calendars is under way. Cost of the calendars is $8, with all proceeds to support the organization's animal welfare programs in Garrett County.

Calendars are available for purchase at the following locations: The Book Mark'et, Gregg's Pharmacy, Pineview and Countryside veterinary hospitals, and Get-N-Go, all in Oakland; Animal Crackers Pet Grooming in Accident; Darlene's Pamper Pets in McHenry; Casselman Veterinary Services, Vetsworks, and The Republican office in Grantsville; Paw Prints Veterinary Clinic and Animal House Pet Grooming in Morgantown, W.Va., and at Clark's Camera Centre in Cumberland.

Mail order requests may be addressed to PAWS, P.O. Box 745, McHenry, MD 21541. Checks should be made payable to Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety and include $3 for postage and handling.

Programs supported by the proceeds of the sale include the expansion of the KIND News Adopt-A-Classroom Project, which currently supplies 32 area elementary and middle school classrooms with a monthly newspaper that teaches children to behave respectfully and responsibly to all living things; the development of a "safe haven" program in Garrett County that would provide temporary shelter for the pets of family violence victims while working with the Dove Center and Family Violence Coalition to raise awareness about the link between animal abuse and other forms of human violence; working to fight pet overpopulation by supporting and developing programs of spay/neuter education and assistance; and continuing to offer volunteer support for the Garrett County Animal Shelter through the PAWS rescue program, which so far this year has transported over 80 animals to various breed rescue programs, which in turn find them good homes, a spokesperson.

that the planter filled with sand where the candles were placed caught fire. As usual, several quick-moving members took care of it just like when I was a giggling young girl and the Advent wreath caught fire and caused the Junior Choir to collapse with glee. Brother Rodney was quick moving and did burn his hand in the put-out.

I had a pleasant encounter with a fan of this column. Yesterday I was sitting in my car at the end of the lane waiting for the school bus since it was so wet and miserable (I hate to let the girls walk in the lane) when Susie Knox-Miller pulled along and asked if I was having car trouble. She gave me two birthday cards, one from her and one from her prayer group at her church, Loch Lynn Church of God. She told me she especially enjoys when I ramble on about nature: wildlife, wildflowers, etc. So if you get sick of it, I will have to still put it in for Susie's sake.

One tough thing about writing this is the varied audience it has. It is just not people from Bittering

PAWS CALENDARS NOW ON SALE - "Pets and Their People: A Celebration of Life With Pets" is the theme of the recently released 2003 calendar, now on sale by the Partners for Animal Welfare and Safety (PAWS) organization. The calendars are available for purchase at various locations throughout the area (see story). All proceeds from sales will support programs designed to help homeless, abandoned, and abused animals in Garrett County. The calendar is a compilation of the winning photos in a photo contest sponsored by PAWS during the summer. Pictured above with a complimentary copy of the PAWS calendar is Tom Hertz, winner of the contest's Best of Show ribbon. He is joined by Annette Robinson, PAWS president. They are flanked by the Hertz's Irish wolfhounds: 9-month old Shamus, left, and 3-year-old Corey, right. As the Best of Show winner, Hertz's photo appears on the cover of the PAWS calendar, which is shown below. The winning photo was submitted in the "Let's Play Dress-Up" category and features Tom's wife Susan with Corey.

who like to read it, but even non-Garrett County residents. Most times I try to write it for a reader who is curious about rural life, so that is why I just do not give a list of who visited whom. Next week I will have something important to write about — the big wedding. My Claire, Caitlin, and their cousin, Blakely Giotfelty, are very disappointed that they will not be able to attend since they will be with the Husky Marching Band at the Atlantic Coast band championships in Scranton, Pa.

Nichols House Among Those On ARC Tour

The annual "Home for the Holidays" house tours, hosted by the local chapter American Red Cross, will be held this year on Dec. 6 and 7. Included in this year's tour is the home of Sean and Jodi Nichols.

The Nicholises' home, located at the southern end of Deep Creek Lake, was constructed in 1999 by Concept Associates. The Lindal cedar home was custom designed by its owners and offers an open, airy interior with uninterrupted sweeps of space, large expanses of glass, and soaring ceilings. Because of the walls of windows, the rooms are filled with an abundance of natural light and views of the woods and lake area. Their children enjoy watching birds, deer, and other wildlife from each room in the house.

Because the Nicholises were impressed with the high quality Lindal cedar homes, the couple became dealers for Lindal and now own and operate Cedar Works of Deep Creek Lake. Their home is used as a model and place of business.

Furnishings in the home are contemporary, reflecting the personalities of its owners and their children. Murals adorn the walls of the children's bedrooms in this "kid friendly" home. Family photographs are a focal point of each room.

SEAN AND JODI NICHOLS HOME ON ARC TOUR

At Christmas, the Nicholises take a themed approach to decorating. On display will be seven themed trees, again reflecting the interests and personalities of the family. Each room offers a different theme, ranging from a formally decorated living room boasting a 10-foot Victorian tree, to a casual family room offering a nautical motif.

Other highlights include a child's room centered around Billy Buttons, a Santa room, a wine tree in the kitchen, a bird house tree and a Department 56 Little Town of Bethlehem village. Fresh pine will be used to accent the decor.

In addition to the Nicholises' home, the homes on this year's tour will be those of Royce and Leslie Warnick, Bob and Beverly Everett, Jack and Sue Parker, and Butch and Ann Byrne. There is also a church on the tour, the Paradise United Methodist Church, which is located along Sand Flat Road.

At the time of the tours, directional signs will be placed at intersections to help guests find the locations. Red Cross yard signs will be placed in front of each home as well. A raffle will be held at the five homes for gifts donated by local businesses.

ALLEN DUNSON

Dunson Appointed Systems Admin. By Ruth Enlow Library

Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County recently announced the appointment of Allen Dunson, Terra Alta, W.Va., as its new systems administrator. Allen was selected from a pool of more than 30 applicants, according to a library spokesperson. Dunson began his duties at the library in early September.

"Allen brings a wealth of experience to the job, including several years as a network administrator and software engineer," said the spokesperson.

Dunson's major duties for the Ruth Enlow Library system will be to keep the library's computer network up and running, to repair and maintain the library's 50 computers and four servers, and to help the library's staff learn how to operate the new automated circulation system that will be installed in December.

"A consistently maintained computer network is essential in meeting the library's fundamental goal of providing wide public access to information worldwide," said Dunson about the new system. "Having someone dedicated to provide daily maintenance for all the branches of the library is necessary to meet that goal."

Dunson is a graduate of West Virginia University with degrees in computer science and English. The long-time Preston County resident is a former U.S. Marine and the Scout master of Troop 88 in Terra Alta. Additionally, Dunson is a lay speaker at Trinity United Methodist Church, a snare drummer for the Terra Alta Community Band, and a side drummer for the Garrett College Pipes and Drums.

Tickets for the event are $5 in advance or $7 on the day of the event. Tickets are available now at Proudfoot's and Gregg's pharmacies, and at Flowers by Webers in Oakland; Arrowhead Market, Deep Creek Lake; and Deep Creek Pharmacy in McHenry.

All ticket holders will be asked to remove their shoes or use shoe covers before entering the homes. Guests will also be asked to refrain from videotaping or photographing the homes.

A People Movers bus will be available to transport guests on the tour Friday evening. The cost for the bus, in addition to the door ticket, is $5. Reservations for this feature must be made no later than noon on Thursday, Dec. 5, by calling 301-334-9727 and leaving a message. The bus will leave the Mary Browning Senior Center promptly at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, a spokesperson said.

Eastern Garrett VFD Sets Dinner

The Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Department will hold its "all-you-can-eat" spaghetti dinner this Saturday, Nov. 9, from 4 to 8 p.m. The meal will include spaghetti, tossed salad, Italian bread, and coffee or tea. The cost of the meal is $6 for adults, $3 for children ages 6 to 12, and free for those under 6.

The Ladies Auxiliary will hold a bake sale during the dinner.

POST 71 DONATES TO HOSPICE — Hospice of Garrett County recently received a $1,000 donation from the American Legion of Oakland, Proctor Kildow Post 71. Legion members raised the funds by charging parade goers a fee for parking in the post's lot during Autumn Glory. "We appreciate the continued support that we have received from the members of Post 71," said Brenda Butscher, executive director of Hospice. "They have helped to provide care for the terminally ill for many years." Pictured above, left to right, are Randall Kahl, Post 71 historian; Butscher; and Tom Pratt, Post 71 executive committee member.

Newman Funeral Homes, P.A., would like to congratulate Ms. Renelda Anne Thomas, Uniontown, PA (formerly of Friendsville) on her selection as "Ms. Senior Pennsylvania 2002". We wish her well in the upcoming "Ms. Senior America Pageant" in Biloxi, Miss.

A Message from Commissioner Fred Holliday

I would like to extend my thanks to all the residents of Garrett County, as well as our county roads department and the men and women of Allegheny Power for overcoming the difficulties we all faced during the recent ice storm.

ALL-CLASS REUNION HELD AT SHS - More than 200 people attended the All-Class Reunion Open House and the first meeting of the Southern Garrett High School Alumni Association recently. This included 138 alumni who signed the registration books, and many of them are pictured above. The open house included guided tours of the renovated school by VICA and National Honor Society students, various displays, and exhibits commemorating Southern's 50th anniversary. The meeting included the election of officers, directors, and standing committee chairmen, and was opened by a selection by the Southern chorus and by Dave Callis, class of 1975, singing the national anthem. The chorus also led the singing of Southern's alma mater. The words for the alma mater, which were written by Roger Keefe, class of 1967, and Rebecca Smith, class of 1968, were discovered when the school staff was researching for the 50th anniversary. Then during this past year, Richard Clever, Duane Salisbury, and Bob Mays composed the music. The board of directors for the Alumni Association are Martha DeBerry, Gene Flinn, Bill Grant, Kathy Greaser, Dave Mayfield, Penny Proudfoot, Traci Martin Royce, Rob Sharps, Beverly Sincell, Tonya Bray Sturm, and Tom Woods.
